Hiking, boating, camp fires all, Make me want you past recall, And when evening shadows fall, I love you, I love you.

Registrations are coming in from all groups and many more yet to hear from who have signed the questionnaire, they intended to go to camp. "Camp Merry Days" is open to any girl in the community, who wish a two weeks vacation, living, sharing and enjoying life with other girls in a summer camp. Every thing is being done to make the camping period one to be remembered by all who attend. The camp site is ideal, located in a woods near the lake. The buildings and equipment at camp can easily accommodate 100 girls.

Mrs. Louis Schemmel, president of the Mothers club and well known in the community will be in charge of the kitchen and dining hall.

If any one wishes to make a contribution of some books for camp, please call the Y. W. C. A. We will be glad to call for them. Childrens magazine will also be appreciated.

The swimming pool on the grounds will give the swimming instructor a splendid opportunity to give individual instructions to the campers in swimming both beginners and advanced. The campers will be grouped according to their ability. Caps worn will designate the classes, white—advanced, blue—swimmers, red—floaters and green—beginners. The lake will be used for some group swimming, the lake water has been tested and reported O. K. Miss Noble will be the nurse in charge of the hospital. All health certificates should be filled and presented on their arrival in camp. Miss Noble will conduct a few morning classes in hygiene and first aid for those wishing instructions. Camp address will be Camp Merry Days, Druce lake, in care of Association house.

Camp inspection will be done at different times by a councilor and a camper. Each cabin will be graded. The cabin with the highest grade will fly the Girl Reserve flag, and have charge of the flag raising ceremony the following morning.

There will be one special over night hike a week for the older girls. To go on these hikes the camper must be in a good physical condition as well as prove herself a good camper. Star maps will be posted in camp, this will give the girl some idea of the position and name of the stars, the sky and stars will be much more interesting. After learning the names of the brighter stars, you will begin to feel at home with the sky. It is a joy after a few clouded nights to see again one's friend in the sky.

Glenview Planning for Community Club; Include Civic Groups

Plans are now laid for the organization of a community club for the Village of Glenview. At recent meetings of the sponsors who are residents and property owners of the town the need for a booster organization to capitalize on the benefits of the community and for greater co-operation among the residents was considered, and the desire for the club came into being. The club is unique in its proposed policies in this that it will include in its ranks all the other civic and other public organizations that now exist, with the view to helping them in their programs as well as benefit by their activities.

The immediate plan of the club is a large assembly or town meeting to be held in the civic building in Glenview Tuesday, June 2, at 8 p.m. At this meeting special speakers and entertainment will be provided. The speakers will emphasize the need of a club of this sort and its advantages to a growing cosmopolitan community.

The enthusiasm behind this organization pertends to make Glenview one of the most progressive communities on the north shore. Among the plans that the organization will enter to solve will be that of giving the village an individuality. With a new city plan, with a program of betterment and with an aggressive spirit to get there, it is predicted that it will become a most desirable place to make a home. The co-operation of the village trustees, led by their new president, E. Herbert Burnham, a relative of the late Daniel H. Burnham, celebrated architect and designer of the Chicago City Plan, and his son, D. H. Burnham, present member of the Chicago Plan Commission and president of the Chicago Regional Plan association, is expected to enable this new movement to develop a village plan of most practical and aesthetic nature.
