truths. Then with greater power, he preached them by his own life. His ecclesiastical interests were not limited to his own parish. He was wise and helpful in the affairs of the Diocese of Chicago, and was rewarded with many of its highest honors.

Foremost H. P. Citizen

Doctor Wolcott was a foremost citizen of Highland Park, interested and efficient in its education and other interests. From childhood he was an eager reader of all kinds of good books, a student of all branches of literature. This accomplishment he made the possession of the public library. He became a member of its board in 1893, retaining that position for 30 years, being president of the board the greater part of that period, giving it his time and literary skill.

For several years before coming to Highland Park, Dr. Wolcott was principal of a boy's school in Davenport, Iowa. The knowledge and experience gained in that work he gave to the local high school. He became a member of its board in 1898 and served in that capacity for 18 years. During the greater part of that time he was secretary of the board and its chief executive, employing the teachers and attending to its affairs, great and small.

Three Children

Mrs. Wolcott's death occurred here last year, and there are living three children. Roger, in the salt tax service in China; Rev. Leonard Wolcott, a clergyman in Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Lyman Prior, whose home is in Jacksonville, Fla., and with whom Dr. Wolcott was making his home.

The death of Dr. Wolcott will awaken memories, said and joyous in the minds of many of the older residents of Highland Park. There will be profound sorrow that he is gone and deep gratitude that he is now with those whom he loved, those whom he taught the joy and beauty of that higher, better life into which he and they have now entered.

Funeral Here Today

The funeral service was held at 9:30 o'clock this morning at Trinity Episcopal church and was very largely attended by friends of the family and sorrowing members of the church which the deceased clergyman had served so long and faithfully. Burial will be at Batavia.

The Right Reverend George Craig Stewart, bishop of the Chicago diocese, will officiate assisted by Rev. Christoph Keller, rector of the Trinity church, and Dean Edwards, rector emeritus of the Lake Forest Episcopal church. A group of other clergymen from neighboring cities and adjacent dioceses were present to honor the memory of Dr. Wolcott who was highly esteemed by all his colleagues during his active ministry and thereafter.

The honorary pall bearers were Aubrey Morris, J. C. Morrison, R. L. Sandwick, J. B. Garnett.

Active pallbearers were Fred Boynton, George A. Mason, Henry E. Mason, J. V. Norcross, John Bunnel, Nathan Corwith.

course Monday, among them being Al Espinosa. The occasion was a meeting of their local organization. Mr. Espinosa was well pleased with the condition of the course and no doubt will be after the first money in the coming event.

Another visitor versed in matters of the golfing world was Mr. Robert E. Harlow who expressed his surprise at the high standard of our municipal course.

NEW FEATURES OF VACATION SCHOOL

Faculty Members

Among the faculty members are the following: Miss Annie L. Cobb, a graduate of the National College of Education and special work at Columbia, will direct the kindergarten. Miss Ruth Hardiman, a student at the National College of Education, will direct the primary department. Miss Gladys M. Greenlaw, the director of religious education of the Presbyterian church, will supervise the school and have charge of the juniors. Rev. F. W. Fisher, pastor of the St. John's Evangelical church, will teach the Intermediate group. Ruth Rhine-smith, Alma Rose Roth, Frances Jenkins, Phyllis Durbahn, and several other young people will assist the department teachers. Mrs. Robert A. Bryant will have charge of the handcraft. Mrs. Bryant is well prepared for this work, having done some work at Hull House and teaching occupational therapy in two of Chicago's hospitals. Special projects in reed and raffia together with soap carving, block printing, toy making, and tie and dyeing will be worked out. Mrs. Charles I. Brooks, one of Highland Park's music teachers, will have charge of the music. Mrs. Brooks assisted in the school last year and has been an active Sunday school teacher and organist.

Organized Play

Two days a week the organized play will be under the supervision of the play ground director of the Highland Park East Park district at Central park. At other times the play hours will be directed by the department heads.

If you desire to enroll your child or to obtain further information, call Rev. F. W. Fisher, Highland Park 3343, or Miss Greenlaw, Highland Park 683.

Warn People Against Picking Wild Flowers

The wild flowers of Woodland Park (Branigar subdivision) just south of Bannockburn, have been so beautiful each spring in their native haunts. During the past month men, women and children of Deerfield and Bannockburn have been picking the wild flowers and wild crab apple blossoms so that now very few are left. Wild flowers perish soon after being picked and many of the people have thrown them away before reaching home. Residents of Woodland Park are appealing to Deerfield neighbors and beseeching them to let the wild flowers grow.

P. T. A. Clears $8 at Tom Thumb Course

Eight dollars and sixty cents was added to the treasury of the Deerfield P.T.A. when the use of the Tom Thumb golf course was turned over to the P.T.A. last Saturday. Eighty-six young golf enthusiasts took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy themselves and assist the P.T.A.
