

EAST PARK BOARD RECREATION NOTES

the regular scheduled league games there are a number of impromptu baseball games each evening on the various park grounds.

In the grammar school league, also playing diamond ball, Oak Terrace, St. James, Elm Place, and Lake Forest are now in the final week of playing before the closing of the school year. In this league Oak Terrace is leading with a perfect score to date. At the beginning of the playground season, June 22, new leagues will be organized for both boys and girls of Highland Park who are to be in attendance at the various playgrounds throughout the regular playground season.

Archery

There is an especially good archery range at Sunset park which is being used more and more by the young people of the community. Elm Place school has taken an especially strong interest in archery this spring and instruction has been given by Mr. Harry Hart, director of physical education, and other members of the Elm Place staff. The Ravinia park has also been the scene of activities in archery and this promises to be one of the most popular sports during the coming months.

Tennis

The tennis courts at Ravinia and at Sunset park are among the very best to be found along the North Shore. The park office will be glad to arrange special instruction for beginners in tennis. Regular tournaments will be held during the summer.

Golf

A number of beginners in golf have taken advantage of a class that Tom Kelly has arranged for those wishing instruction in the fundamentals of golf. This class meets on Wednesday morning at seven o'clock at the Sunset Golf club. Arrangements can be made directly with Tom Kelly for this instruction.

Field Clubs

Since early March those interested in nature lore have gathered on Tuesday mornings at six o'clock for a hike lasting from one and a half hours to two hours, and have had some of the best nature guides in this community to instruct them regarding birds, wild flowers, trees, and shrubs. The groups have usually met at Sunset park and taken the trail from there. From now on with the bird migration practically over for the spring, the field groups will not meet regularly on Tuesday mornings, but will go on special trips which will be announced under park recreation notes during the summer. The summer playground activities will include considerable nature guiding and will include museum work, nature sketching, and still life photography.

Picnics

This is the time of the year for picnics. Schools, churches, and numerous other organizations are all planning or having these interesting events. East Park board, through their recreation office at Sunset park, is prepared to give help in both materials for picnic recreation programs and in leadership in planning the program. This service is free to the public.

H. S. Golf Team Wins From Waukegan School; Also Beats Evanston

Playing on two consecutive days, the Deerfield-Shields golf team proved superior to Evanston and Waukegan, winning both matches. The score of the Evanston match was 8 to 4, and of the Waukegan match 9 to 3. These two matches ended one of the best golf seasons of Deerfield-Shields. The 14 boys on the squad all play an excellent game, which has been proven by the long list of victories turned in this spring. The following boys are on the squad: Warren Geary, Oswaldo Saielli, Robert Saielli, Robert Cary, Alex Wolak, Sam Toigo, Norman Craig, John Lenzini, Harley Dee, John Dever, Howard Klee, Darwin Inman, Willard Blanchard.

The record and scores for the season follows:

Deerfield-Shields 14, Waukegan 1.
