

He's fussy about his food and he has a right to insist on electric refrigeration...

HE wants his orange juice and custard just cold enough. He wants his spinach and carrots fresh as can be . . . What he eats now will have a lot to do with his growing up into a great big man.

- That's why he has a perfect right to insist on electric refrigeration. Of course he doesn't know about microbes yet. But he does know it isn't any fun being sick. And fat, rosy cheeks are nice—even though people can't resist pinching them.
- His mother bought an electric refrigerator the year he was born. She kept his "formula food" fresh in it from the beginning. It made it much easier for her—and much healthier for him.
- Because of its extra safety, its extra convenience, every home should have electric refrigeration. You are invited to see the new Frigidaires and General Electrics at your PUBLIC SERVICE STORE. Your LOCAL REFRIGERATOR DEALER will also be glad to demonstrate these and other makes. Any one of them may be purchased for only a small payment down.
