Happenings About This Part of North Shore; County Seat Doings

Harry Boyd, alleged leader of organized vice in Waukegan, was named defendant on three charges in an information filed last week in county court by the state's attorney's office.

Work was started last week on the construction of the $70,000 addition to the present sewage disposal plant which is located just east of the Chicago and North Western railroad near the Cyclone Fence company. The new addition will give North Chicago a plant which will handle about 150 per cent more sewage than the present plant.

When the load of hay he was driving tipped and pinned him under the wheels of his wagon last week, Joseph Kuno, 38 years old, of Williams Park, Wauconda, suffered severe bruises and deep gashes about the knees of both legs.

James A. Beck, 88, who served three years in Company B, 96th Illinois regiment in the Civil war and was president of Lake County for more than 87 years, died recently at his home in Waukegan.

William S. Bullock, 59, a former mayor of Waukegan, died at his apartment in Chicago last week according to word received by his brother, John R. Bullock, probate clerk. Mr. Bullock had been ailing for several years.

William C. Knoelk, former superintendent of the Waukegan Township high school and now assistant superintendent of Milwaukee schools, was recently named chairman of the Milwaukee safety commission.

James Marseilles, 60, former veteran city clerk and who until recently served as Waukegan city treasurer, was found dead in the garage at his home in that city last week.

Mrs. James D. Skene for many years a resident of Waukegan, died last week in a hospital in Windsor, Ontario, Canada.

Denial of a motion to quash information filed against 20 Lake county grocers charged with the sale of colored oleomargarine contrary to the law, was made by Judge Perry L. Persons in county court last week and August 4 was fixed as the date for the trial of the first defendant.

Somebody complains because the price of bread hasn't gone down. But what is more important to most folks the price of gasoline has.

Reports of Bumper Crops Received by Washington Bureau

The nation's corn and wheat bins will be filled to overflowing next fall—if the weather holds good, it is reported from Washington, D. C.

The Agriculture Department yesterday forecast bumper yields of these crops, but saw a rather moderate production for other farm products. Drought, heat and slight acreage reductions are responsible.

The 1931 corn crop was estimated at 2,976,953,000 bushels as compared with 2,094,000,000 last year when the drought took heavy toll. The five-year average is 2,761,000,000 bushels.

Wheat farmers, already staggering under the burden of overproduction and low prices, will produce an estimated crop of 869,013,000 bushels. In 1931 the production was 863,430,000. The five-year average is 822,000,000 bushels.

Drought and heat have dried pastures, reduced milk production and cut into hay prospects. Spring wheat has been so adversely affected by lack of moisture the second smallest production in 20 years is expected. On the other hand, winter wheat has been favored by excellent weather and corn has prospered. Winter wheat production was forecast at 712,611,000 bushels; spring wheat at 156,402,000.

A generous supply of fruit and commercial truck crops was forecast.

An exchange expresses the hope that the first thing Ghandi does when he comes to the United States will be to go to a dentist. He'd better not do that if he expects to have enough money left to buy any new clothes.
