mindful friends the superbly successful experiment of last season which combined a Rethberg concert with the flaming fourth act of Meyerbeer's "Les Huguenots," with Yvonne Gall, Giovanni Martinelli, Giuseppe Danise and Leon Rothier as the stellar cast.

One of the oldest operas of the repertoire was given Wednesday night, but it happened to be Dopizetti's "Lucia," and is therefore ageless in the estimation of opera patrons who revel in these lovely melodies.

Children's Concert

The fifth children's concert will be played on Thursday afternoon by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Eric DeLamarter conducting, and is followed by St. Claire and O'Day, a comedy bicycle act, as well as something mysteriously billed as a surprise acrobatic novelty. Mr. Eckstein wishes to call attention to the fact that while all children under fourteen are admitted free at the outer park gates, children under five years of age will not be admitted to seats in the opera house.

"Lohengrin" will be repeated on Thursday night, and because of the length of the opera the performance will begin at eight o'clock. The cast again includes Elisabeth Rethberg, Julia Claussen, Edward Johnson, Alfredo Gandolfi, Louis D'Angelo and George Cehanovsky. Mr. Hasselmans conducts.

"Samson et Dalila"

"Samson et Dalila" is to be sung on Friday night, with Julia Claussen, Giovanni Martinelli, Leon Rothier and others of the original cast, but with Mario Basiola in the role of the High Priest. Ruth Page dances to the seductive beauty of the Saint-Saens' score, while Mr. Hasselmans conducts.

"L'Amore dei Tre Re" will be repeated on Saturday, with Lucrezia Bori, Edward Johnson, Giuseppe Danise and Virgilio Lazzari again in the roles by means of which they capture the matchless thrill of Montemezzi's extraordinary opera.

Sunday Concert

The Sunday concert of July 26 celebrates Italian Day, with the Chicago Symphony orchestra playing under the direction of Mr. DeLamarter, and with Mr. Saldenberg, cellist, as soloist. The program includes: Overture, "Anacreon," by Cheribini; Concerto grosso, D minor, by Vivaldi, with obbligatos by John Weicher and Walter Hancock, violins, and Carl Bruckner, 'cello; Nocturne, by Pedrotti; Concerto grosso ("Christmas Music"), by Corelli; Solos for 'cello, by Pergolesi, Vivaldi and Boccherini; Overture, "Le Baruffe Chiozzotte" and Concert Etude for Strings, by Sinigaglia; and "Italia," by Casella. After the intermission, Chev. Dr. Italo Volini, president of the Dante Alighieri society, will speak in behalf of the Royal Italian Consul General, Giuseppe Cas-truccio.

Sunday Night

Concluding this day of Italian music, "Il Trovatore" will be sung Sunday evening, with Mme. Rethberg, Mme. Claussen, Giovanni Martinelli, Mario Basiola, and Louis D'Angelo in leading roles. Mr. Papi conducts.
