Two Men Hurt at Round Lake in Plane Crash

Two men were slightly injured and an unlicensed plane wrecked last week at the small Round Lake airport. The plane, an Eaglerock bi-plane owned by Harry Dunnill of Fox Lake, piloted by Amos Collinski of Ingleside, was jockeying for a landing when the right wing struck a large oak tree at the east end of the field.

Collinski had taken George Weiss of St. Louis up for a fight shortly after dinner. Attempting to make a landing, he saw that the plane was going to hit the trees at the east end of the field. The plane refused to respond when the throttle was opened and crashed into the top of the large tree, ripping the tip of the right wing off. The plane immediately went into a dive.
