Lake County Cattle Among Prize Winners The National Dairy association closed its Silver Anniversary Expo- sition at St. Louis, October 18, fol- lowing a nine day display of the best thoroughbred cattle in the country, the selection of 10 national grand champions and the distribu- tion of $25,000 in prizes. Breeders' and exhibitors' awards in the Holsteins went to the Elm- wood Farm, Deerfield, Ill., and the junior champion is Sir Fober Orms- by Hazelwood of the Elmwood farm. King Bessie Korndyle Ormsby, also from the Elmwood farm, was adjudged the best bull in the 2-to-3- year old class. It is said that a move will be made in Congress to increase the postage on letters to three cents. We are in favor of adopting ten cent postage for first of the month bills.

P. T. ASSOCIATIONS PLAN OPEN MEETING
 since the schools need the support and co-operation of the community, in order to progress, the Parent-Teacher associations have felt that they could greatly assist by keeping the community in touch with general progressive movements in education. Such is the idea back of the Rugg lecture offered next Thursday night. Here Three Years Ago Many teachers and parents have still a vivid memory of the lecture given by Mr. Rugg at Elm Place school three years ago. Several of the schools have been using his So- cial Science pamphlets, and teachers and parents alike have found his re- cent books "The Child Centered School," and "Culture and Education in America," not only interesting, but positively thrilling in the pros- pect of human development which he unfolds. Take for instance in "Culture and Education in America," his chapter on the school-centered com- munity. Let us quote a sentence or two, and see if it does not send you to the book for a new picture of our community. Must Be Co-ordinated "Our conception must be of a co- ordinated system of adult and child education reaching actively into every phase of community life. . . . We should concern of a planned uni- fied educational system integrating all the social agencies of the com- munity at every age level from in- fancy to old age." And here is a new picture of boards of education. "Thus the su- perintendent of education and his board of education would constitute a planning, thinking body, and only incidentally an administration body. Far from being a political or an economic and social gang, as it is so frequently today, it would be a dis- cussion group. Its meetings would constitute open forums, attended by all interested members of the com- munity." The German and French prem- iers had a very satisfactory meet- ing in Berlin and we sincerely hope they didn't spend too much time whetting their political knives for their proposed visits to the United States. MONUMENT MAUSOLEUM OR HEADSTONE THE OLD AND RELIABLE CHAS.
