VETERAN LEAGUER TO RELATE CAREER

Spent Twenty-four Years As Player, Manager, and Umpire

George Moriarty, major league umpire, player, and manager, will be presented in assembly next Friday. He has spent twenty-four years in the field of sport and will give a talk of great interest to everyone.

George Moriarty

To speak in assembly on Friday of this week.

Moriarty's career in baseball began with the Woodstock Oliver Typewriter company team in 1902. In the following year, 1903, after playing an exhibition game against the Chicago National league team, Frank Selee, then manager of the latter team, offered George Moriarty a contract which was accepted.

After a training trip through California he was sent through the usual minor league channels and finally began his Major league playing in 1906 as a member of the New York American league team. In 1909 he was traded to Detroit and played with the Tigers through 1915. In 1916 he became manager of the Memphis team in the Southern association. He became an American league umpire in 1917 and from then until now he has devoted himself to that work with the exception of two years spent as manager of the Detroit American league team, 1927 and 1928. He is now completing his twelfth year as an American league umpire and his twenty-fourth in point of service as a player, manager, and umpire in the American league.

He has been a sports writer for the Johnson Feature Inc., for the North American Newspaper Alliance and for the Baseball Magazine.

He took a baseball trip through the Orient with a picked team during the winter of 1922-23, acting as umpire and as representative of the advisory council of baseball of which Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis is the high commissioner. Japan, Korea, China, and the Philippines were visited on this trip.

Regarding the famous "Moriarty steals home incident" it is significant that he did not do this only once, but holds the unique record of having stolen home fourteen times in seventeen attempts in two successive seasons.

Quoting Mr. Moriarty "I think umpiring is the most interesting business under the sun. It shows our fellow humans, both players and spectators, in contrasting moods, according to the play and the decision. The umpire sees the gamut of human emotions scated almost daily. He learns lessons of patience, philosophy, psychology and truth that register indelibly."

George Moriarty's talk—the philosophy of which is drawn from his remarkable experience on the field of sport, is a virile inspiration, according to those sponsoring his appearance here.

MORTON SUCCUMBS TO FAST BLUE BACK ATTACK BY 13-0

Lowe, Cameron, and Garling Work Together Smoothly; Allen Kicking

LINE HOLDS WELL

By playing a whiz bang game, and functioning the way Coach Peel's teams are expected to, the Deerfield bluebacks won their first Suburban league tilt out of three starts, by defeating Morton high school of Cicero, by a score of 13 to 0, on our athletic field last Saturday.

Though the whole team played perfectly, those three backfield men, Lowe, Garling, and Cameron, starred throughout the game. "Irv" Garling, by his fast and shifty running, always good for substantial gains, and Lowe and Cameron, by their powerful line plunges, did the good work that helped to win the game.

The line, though outweighed, smeared those Morton plays at almost every attempt, and either put their opponents out of the play, or provided perfect interference for the Blue and White backfield men (Continued on page 5)

A Boston pilot flew over his home and dropped $15 to his wife after she phoned him at the airport and told him that she needed it immediately. Certainly not the first man to go up in the air when his wife asks for money. — Cincinnati Enquirer.
