PRESENT TWO-ACT
MUSICAL PROGRAM

Performance to Be Given Friday and Saturday at Deerfield Grammar School

The stage is set and everything is in readiness at the Grammar school auditorium for the opening of the new two act musical extravaganza, "Rainbow of the Rio Grande," a local production which is to be given under the auspices of the Deerfield American Legion auxiliary, on Thursday and Friday evenings, Nov. 5, 6 at 8:15.

Briefly, "Rainbow of the Rio Grande" takes place at Rainbow Ranch on the Rio Grande River.
The ranch, inherited by a brother and sister, becomes the center of intrigue, because it's broad acres comprise potential oil territory, and there are scoundrels and catiffs about seeking to come in possession of it for little or nothing.

An excellent cast has been selected and rehearsals are already under way. Louie Otney as a gar-rulous Scandinavian cowboy is perfect in his part, but will be given a close race for laughing honors by Kenneth Hunter a thread-bare theatrical manager and John Klemo as the Great Marlo, one of yesterday's magicians from the Varieties. Mr.
Kenneth Hunter is a smooth "article" who keeps his mafical friend out of the jail by talking fast and often. Mr. Klemo will perform several intriguing bits of magic and his part at the climax of the production, when he becomes confounded in his own scheming, should produce hearty laughter.

Carl Bates as a striking Indian chieftain will lend much color and have a dominating part in several of the more important musical numbers. His daughter, Blue Feather, which part is played by Jennie Mele will also win a place in your hearts.
Not even a comic opera is complete without its villian and in this case it will be Josiah Rock, a Texas banker, who is none other than our own Art Enders. Lansing Beebe as a young geologist posing as an artist in the hire of the villian and Miss Lois Fehr as Betty Hope, owner of the ranch, are the principals in the chief love interests of the story. Zazu, the bubbling house maid who was born and raised on the Bowery, and better known to most of us as Ruby Landau is cast in one of the best character rolls of her entire career. Ray Dobbins as "Pepper" Hope, a young New Yorker who has gone "Western" and in love with an Indian girl, does much to complicate the action, all of which works out as it should,
of course, before the final curtain.
Jerome Davis, a wealthy newspaper man, who is none other than Dr. J.
H. Therrien finally saves the day with his check book. In addition to the above characters, there are Ed Jacobson and LeRoy Scully who assist the villian in a very desperate deed in the second act and Miss Jean Scully as an Eastern chorus girl visiting at the ranch, is kept quite busy, at the suggestion of the Great Marlo, attempting to change water to oil.

"Rainbow of the Rio Grande" promises to be a dandy show, pretty, funny and one of the musical treats of the season. Both the cast, chorus and kiddies who are made up of the best of local talent are hard at work daily in an effort to make this production the best that has ever been offered locally.

In addition to the above there is an extra added attraction just ahead of the regular performance. It is called "Tiny Tots Wedding Day." There is not a youngster in it over seven years of age and the bride and groom themselves are only five! If you want to see a bride and groom dressed in the latest 1932 style, don't miss this wedding.

Tickets are now on sale and seats may be reserved at the Deerfield pharmacy.

CHARITY FOOTBALL
GAME IS SUCCESS

by Rubly and a line smash by Jordan accounted for another first down. Rubly, after two trys at the line, slipped around end to the All-Stars 35 yard mark. The Press line stiffened on the next attempt to gain; but it all went for nought as Rubly, on the following play, circled left end and sprinted across the goal line for the winning score.
Jordan's drop kick for the extra point was wide.

In the next quarter the Press had their chance to score not only once but twice. They started a march from their own 20 yard line that rolled passed one white line after another till it reached the Flashes 14 yard line. Three tries gained nine of the much needed 10 yards but on the last and most important play Parker, carrying the ball, was thrown outside before he covered the precious yard. The Flashes, taking the ball on downs, punted to safety.

Again the Press started on a march, this time they reached the Flashes 20 yard line; but it proved fruitless as a pass from Martin to Berube was grounded in the end zone.

Frantic Finish

The third quarter was a tame period with neither team doing much on the offense. But in the next frame was when all the action took place. The Press, trying desperately to score, opened up with everything they had. Long runs by Rogan and Becker began to put the All Stars in a scoring position. Again the ball was lost right in the shadow of the News goal posts.

The closing minutes were spent by the Press frantically throwing passes. They started to click and before they were threatening again on the Flash 10 yard line, but a costly fumble put an end to it.

Their were several casualties among the Press; Carl Parker, Bert Berube, and Ted Sticken having to leave the game. These lads as well as Bud Moon, who is suffering a fractured thumb since the Highwood game, are under the care of Dr.
Banfield the team's physician. The
