ROSENWALD FUND SPENDS HUGE SUM

More Than $2,500,000 Utilized This Year, Report Says; How Used

Expenditures of more than $2,500,000 have been made by the Julius Rosenwald fund, founded through the generosity of the distinguished Highland Park resident, during the present year, it was disclosed in a report issued by Edwin R. Embree, president of the fund, last week, according to Chicago newspapers.

Much of the fund was spent in development of the health and education of the negro in the south, although the work also covered development of medical economies and in educational programs for youth, generally.

Negro schools and colleges received $1,200,000 of the $2,500,000; pay clinics and studies in medical economies, $200,000; Negro health, $225,000; child study and general education, $225,000; library service, $150,000; social studies and attempts to improve public administration, $135,000.

Help Build 5,295 Schools

The report stated that help had been given in the building of 5,295 schools for Negroes, all part of the public school system in the south, accommodating 650,000 children. Fellowships were given to 160 Negro teachers and students of promise, and twenty private colleges were helped with buildings endowment or current expenses.

The interest of the management of the fund in housing as a means of social welfare promotion was discussed at length in the report. Mr. Rosenwald financed a large apartment building for Negroes in Chicago, which has been regarded as a success.

"During the next generation," Mr. Embree stated, "housing may be as important in national business as the automobile business was during the last thirty years. Huge sums are involved in the building and the resulting demand for furniture, plumbing, gas and electric appliances, heating and refrigeration.

Seen Cure for Business

"Many of the basic industries would be set in motion and kept going if private capital and public funds co-operated in a vigorous campaign to clear out slums and erect decent living quarters for the great bulk of the population who are still housed archaically and in squalor.

Dorcas Society Holds Bazaar November 30

The annual bazaar of the Dorcas society will be held Nov. 30 at the Deerfield Presbyterian church, with a Plunkett four-course dinner served "family style" at 6:30 p.m. Reservations for the dinner may be made with the four Circle chairmen, Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. C. E. Olson, Mrs. R. M. Vant, and Mrs. Earl Varner.

An appeal is being made for donations for the home bakery and candy booths and for the bazaar.

Mrs. Reichelt Speaks to H. P. Girl Scouts

Mrs. W. H. Stockwell, leader of a troop of twenty-three Girl Scouts in Highland Park, had planned to take the group to an observatory to look at the stars last Thursday evening, but as the night was cloudy no stars were visible, consequently another program had to be hastily prepared. Games were played at the home of Mrs. Stockwell on South St. Johns avenue, after which Mrs. Marie Ward Reichelt was asked to tell of some of her work in connection with her position as visiting teacher of the Deerfield-Shields high school, especially the relief work now in progress for students whose parents are unemployed. The Girl Scouts voted to assist one family with a Thanksgiving Day dinner, each girl contributing necessary food.

"The appointment of a visiting teacher is an attempt on the part of the school to meet its responsibility for the whole welfare of the child. There are very few of the children in our schools who are suffering through the wilful neglect and abuse of parents. Whatever suffering comes for which the home is responsible, comes largely through ignorance and necessity. It will be the function of the visiting teacher to enlighten and aid its relieving. Her aim will be to secure maximum co-operation between the home and the school."

There are about two hundred visiting teachers in the United States. As a professional group they date their existence from 1906.
