Boston, Mass., give a free lecture on Christian Science.

Mr. Seeley was introduced by Mrs. Edwin L. Stryker of Deerfield. Mr. Seeley's lecture, in part, follows:

Where God Is Found

"The Psalmist made no pretense of seeing God with his eyes, or of attributing to Deity a physical form. The material eyes see what? They see only what is subject to dissolution, matter. But the Psalmist did say, 'I will behold thy face in righteousness.' Righteousness is simply right-mindedness, consciousness composed of right thoughts. There is where you perceive the face, or expression, of God. Right thoughts are the expression of the right Mind. This one right Mind is the one true God.

"No one, I suppose, is skeptical as to the existence of Mind, the presence and power than animates you, gives you the ability to think, to reason, to co-operate, to be just. It is this present, potent Mind which Christian Science teaches is God. Each of us does not have a separate mind. There are not two or three, or several hundred million, minds, but just one right Mind and that one is God. Paul says 'There are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all.' Skeptics and agnostics often express more of God in their lives than they would admit, for in whatever degree they express kindness, justice, honesty, true love, they express God.

Evil Is Lying Thought

"The right-mindedness wherein you reflect God's presence is your true consciousness. 'The kingdom of God is within you,' said Jesus. That is, the power and presence of God is expressed in your thinking. As you see the nature of God in right-mindedness, so you appear to see the devil in wrong-mindedness, an association of negative thoughts. If you should ever feel downhearted, or fearful, or sickness weigh heavily upon you, or false appetite beseege you, then you would be beholding the devil's face, that is to say, the nature of the one evil, the wrong sense of mind, God's opposite.

True Sacrifice

"The Israelites sought to win the favor of God by sacrificing animals from their flocks. To most of them God was a humanly personal deity who needed to be appeased. To-day that concept of Deity is disappearing and we are realizing that God is that which is the most vital thing to us — Life, Mind, Love — and that our identity is united to Him as His individual expression. No longer do we sacrifice animals to Him, but we see the necessity for the sacrifice by surrender and denial of the wrong-mindedness that has possessed us — the resentments, the hatreds, the fears, the selfishness, the self-will. We can sacrifice nothing that is good and abiding, but only what is negative and fleeting. The persistent denial of matter and affirmation of truth is the altar provided for our sacrifice."
