A very attractive wedding took place in Cleveland, Ohio, on Saturday, when Miss Aileen Gill, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Gill of Shaker Heights, became the bride of Mr. Harry Allen Porter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen Porter of this city. The ceremony took place at 4:30 o'clock in the Plymouth church with the Rev. Dr. Miles Krumbine officiating. Miss Gill, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a Chanel gown in wedge-wood blue crepe romaine with a cape of pale pink lace outlined with sequins. Her hat was an Agnes turban of Valencia blue velvet with a pink ostrich feather which was caught across the back and curled at one side. She wore long pale pink gloves and blue slippers. She carried a Bible which has been in the family several generations. This was covered with satin and in it was a shower of gardenias and sweetheart roses. Miss Marjory Snodgrass of Bellevue, Pa., the only attendant, wore a Vionnet gown in gendarme blue crepe romaine with a white cowl capelet edged with ermine. Her satin turban was white and she wore long white gloves, blue slippers and carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. Mr. Donald Allen of Oak Park, Ill., was best man. Mrs. Gill wore a Lanvin model of blue crepe with cape of red velvet, a red velvet hat and red slippers. Following the ceremony there was a family dinner served at Shaker Tavern. The table was adorned with bridal bells on standards which were entwined with clusters of roses. Mr. Porter and his bride will live at 1125 Maple avenue, Evanston, Ill. The bride attended Lake Erie college and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin.
