DEERFIELD MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS GIVE WINTER CONCERT

With an attendance of approximately 1000, the Second Annual Winter concert was presented Friday evening, December 11, in the Deerfield-Shields high school auditorium.

All three musical organizations, the band, orchestra, and chorus took part in the program, together with the pupils of Miss Mildred Haessler's School of Dancing.

Under the direction of Mrs. Mannings, the orchestra opened the program with three numbers, "Overture, the Magic Flute," by Mozart; "Two Guitars," by Horlick; and "March from the Nutcracker Suite," by Tschaiakowsky.

As the next part of the program several character dances, the "Polish Mazurka" and "Russian Handkerchief Dances," by Chalif, were presented by the pupils of Miss Haessler's dancing school. Two period dances were done by Phyllis Stephens and Luise Haessler. They were "Minuet" and "Petite Gavotte."

The chorus, directed by Mr. Finch, presented four numbers, "The Lost Chord," by Sullivan; "My Bonnie Lass," by German; "Carol of the Russian Children," a Russian folk song; and "The Omnipotence," by Schubert.

Lois Fehr, a member of the chorus, sang the solo for the last number on the chorus program.

A group of solo dances were presented by Jean Sincere, Shirley Beyer, Etta Pardee, Cyrilla Gordon, Barbara Franzen, and Dianne Ewell, pupils of Miss Haessler.

The band, directed by Mr. Finch, brought the program to a close by playing a group of four numbers, "March, Lincoln Centennial," by Sanford; "Lustspiel Overture," by Keler Bela; "Pastoral from L'Arlesienne Suite II," by Bizet, and "Ballet Egyptienne, Part III," by Luigini.

The lighting, setting, and backstage work was handled by Mr. Schneider, assisted by several of his students.

Those who took tickets and ushered were Charlotte Clark, Dorothy Schwall, Dorothy Melville, Mary Wilder, Marion Thorson, Phylede Gourley, Rachel Mannings, Violet Johnson, Loretta Schwalback, Zelda Chon, Helen Verwee, Louise Biegar, Elizabeth Nielson, Elsie Nelson, Ruth Anderson, Catherine Orlandi, Lena Lucchi.

Says Girl Should Marry at Age of 23

The average American girl should marry at the age of 23, according to the theory propounded by Dr. N. Sproat Heavey.

Speaking before the Gynecological Travel club, in New York, he said: "Pioneer women usually married earlier, and conditions prepared them earlier for the responsibilities of motherhood. But the stress of modern life is different and, in the average case, it is better that today's bride be several years older than her grandmother was when she married."

College Night To Be Feature of Next P.T.A. Meet

College night, which is to take the place of the January P.T.A. meeting will be held on Thursday, January 14.

With final plans for the meeting agreed upon, invitations have been mailed to all schools in which seniors expressed an interest in the recent questionnaire on post-grad plans.

Representatives have been invited from Northwestern university, University of Illinois, Lake Forest college, University of Wisconsin, University of Chicago, Cornell, De Pauw, Duke, University of Kansas, Rollins college, Yale, Mt. Holyoke, Oberlin, Stephens college, University of Southern California, Wellesley, Purdue, University of Michigan, Notre Dame, Antioch college, Stanford, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Swarthmore, Smith college, Rockford college, Mills college, Vassar college, National Kindergarten college, Carlton college, Dartmouth, American Institute of Technology, Beloit, and Wabash.

In the afternoon, from 3:30 to 5:00 o'clock, students may confer with the representatives in the East building.

Dinner will be served in the high school cafeteria for the representatives and the officers of the Parent-Teacher association.

At 7:30 p.m. there will be a program in the auditorium in which various types of colleges will be discussed by members of their alumni in organizations. After the program there will be a conference period for the benefit of the students and their parents.

State To Open Bids on $4,000,000 Worth Road and Bridge Work

Bids on approximately $4,000,000 worth of road and bridge work will be opened Dec. 21 by the state department of public works and buildings, according to an announcement made public here in Springfield by Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer.

This letting will bring the total bids received since Nov. 1 to $15,000,000, work on most of which will get started when the 1932 building season opens, the announcement said.

Projects for which proposals are to be received Dec. 21 call for 119.05 miles of paving, 17.14 miles of grading and a number of bridges and grade separations, scattered from the Wisconsin line to the extreme southern portion of the state.

The only portion of paving to come to Lake county at this letting is the paving and widening of Sheridan road in Fort Sheridan to the extent of 1.47 miles.

Taxpayers Association Opposed to School Law

The Central Lake County Taxpayers' association and groups of citizens in McHenry county are opposing to the new school tax law amendment proposed by Representative Richard J. Lyons.

Representative Thomas Bolger of McHenry has sided with the opposition to Lyons' amendment, which would decrease the general school tax limit from $1.38 to $1.25 on each $100 valuation, but would allow an increase of 50 cents on the approval of a referendum asked by a school district, according to a Waukegan newspaper.
