Judge Ralph J. Dady, Perry L. Persons and Theodore Forby spoke on court procedure at the December term luncheon of the Lake County Bar association held last week at the Hotel Karcher.

Opening of the "Jane Dowst Emergency Hospital," Waukegan's newest municipal institution, was tentatively set for February 1 by Alderman O. L. Stanley, chairman of the committee on public buildings and grounds of the city council.

Reorganization of the Waukegan state bank and the reopening of that institution within the current month was declared as certain in reports current in the financial circles of Waukegan last week.

Mrs. Lillie May Toynton, 64, widow of the late William Toynton, died last week at her home in Wauconda. Mrs. Toynton, who was born in Wauconda township, April 15, 1867, was preceded in death by her husband five years ago.

Three armed men interrupted the shopping trip of Mrs. Ingra Cole, Fox Lake, last Wednesday at North and Thatcher avenue in Oak Park, and took her money, Christmas gifts and car after forcing her from her automobile at the point of a gun.

Teachers in the grade schools of Waukegan face a drastic slash in salaries of $30,000 next spring, in addition to the possible elimination of kindergartens, manual training and domestic science, special teachers in music, art, penmanship and physical education, visiting nurses and truant officers.

The Waukegan township board last week levied $80,000 for pauper aid and relief of war veterans from July 1, 1931, to April 1, 1932.

The Marellbar Farm of Libertyville won the reserve championship in rams of the Oxford Breeding class and the championship in ewes at the International Livestock show in Chicago.

Question as to whether the proposed $337,000 post office building to be erected in Waukegan in early spring will have its frontage on Genesee or Julian streets was settled last week with word from the United States Treasury department that the public buildings commission has decided that it front on Genesee street.

Lake County Standing With Banks Is Good

Lake county is in a class by itself in Illinois when bankers consider the financial conditions, Supervisor Arthur W. Vercoe told the board of supervisors and a crowd of spectators at the county building last week during heated controversies at the opening board session.

Though leading banks in the state have refused to advance money on anticipation warrants for other counties in the state, the First National Bank of Chicago and other banks have made an exception with Lake county.

The bigger the market
the better the results.
