Fork Imbedded Many Years in Tree Found

Puzzled when their cross-cut saw struck a metal object in the trunk of a large tree in Brainard court last week, Libertyville, two youths chipped out the tree trunk and found a rust-stained, two-tined fork, evidently a relic of pioneer days in Lake county. The fork's wooden handle had rotted away, and the metal parts were covered with rust.

It is believed that the fork had been laid in the crotch of the tree. The crotch later grew together, covering the fork. The finders, Richard Adams of Libertyville and Harold O'Dell of Grayslake, are keeping the fork as a souvenir.

A truckload of surplus stock of clothing and supplies from Fort Sheridan reached the relief headquarters in Waukegan last week and was unloaded and transferred to the relief center at 29 S. Genesee street.

A total of $5,627.25, $2,717.65 of this amount in cash, has been collected during the relief drive sponsored by the Community Council of Libertyville and Mundelein, it was announced.

For Tea-Drinkers—NO
For Coffee-Drinkers—YES
.. an electric PERCOLATOR
this Christmas

The new electric percolators with their gleaming chrome-plate finishes are much more than just good-looking—they also "perc" a coffee of superior flavor. The secret is simple. Your coffee cooks slowly—doesn't boil. And it's always handy right at the table to serve with the meal or later—which ever way you like.

The eight-cup percolator pictured, with instantaneous heating element, is only $7.50 cash—$1 down. Many other styles for slightly more. Electric coffee urns are priced as low as $8.50. Urn sets (including tray, sugar bowl and cream pitcher) are as low as $15.
