This congregation extends to the Deerfield community her most sincere wishes for the year 1932. Never has a new year dawned upon a world gripped in such distress as pertains this year. This distress is not characterized so much by physical suffering, though that cannot be minimized, as it is by fear of mind and heart and anguish of spirit. Institutions and organizations, considered impregnable, have failed; material assets have been swept away; high ideals of virtue and integrity are endangered. Whither shall we go? One resource has not yet failed, nor can it ever be exhausted—God. The deep wish of this congregation for the new year is that, as a community, we may honor and glorify God through a more faithful dedication to the will and the service of Jesus Christ, His Son, our Lord, and through a deeper dedication to the best we know. A cordial welcome.
