

JULIUS ROSENWALD DIES AT HOME HERE

Noted Philanthropist Passes Away After Prolonged Ill Health

Julius Rosenwald, internationally known philanthropist and chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago, who has been ill at his home in Highland Park for several months, died there at 2:55 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Rosenwald, who has been confined to his suburban home since last spring from hardening of the arteries and a kidney ailment, took a turn for the worse last week and from then gradually grew weaker, his physicians reported. Yesterday his condition was reported grave by Dr. Herbert Pollack, specialist in charge of the case.

Was 69 Years Old

Mr. Rosenwald was 69 years of age. He was for years president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and since his retirement from the head of that great corporation had been chairman of the board. For a number of years he had been deeply interested in various philanthropic projects for the benefit of his fellowmen and had expended large sums in furthering these.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: Mrs. Adele Levy, New York; Mrs. Edith Stern, New Orleans; William and Lessing Rosenwald, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Alfred K. Stern of Ravinia. The children whose homes are at a distance were summoned last week and have been here for several days.

Funeral arrangements had not been announced last evening.

Gay Nineties Ball by West Ridge Club, Plan

A "Gay Nineties" ball is the next social event on the calendar of the West Ridge community club. The date set for this costume dance is Saturday evening, January 23.

Everyone is urged to come in costume which may be chosen from the period of the "Gay nineties" or from any period through the World War. All will be masked during the early part of the evening which will add to the fun.

There will be a good orchestra, pleasing decorations and entertainment during the evening so those who do not care to dance will also have an enjoyable time.

The program committee with Mrs. Henry Chapman, chairman are in charge of the affair. The public is cordially invited.

Cleaning Firm Moves Unto New Location

The Highland Park cleaners have moved into their new location at 539 Central avenue, formerly occupied by the Master Cleaners. Because of increased business and need for more room, the H. P. Cleaners have sought more commodious quarters and are now well located in their new home, where their patrons are assured the same prompt and efficient service.

Woman's Club To Have Reception and Exhibit Of Art Sunday, 3 to 6

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend a reception and art exhibit at the Highland Park Woman's club on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 10 from 3 until 6 o'clock. There will be no admission fee.

An exhibit of the work of Buell Mullen is of particular interest to this community, for this is the first time the paintings of this artist have been shown here. Buell Mullen has been a resident of Highland Park for many years and her friends have followed her career with keen interest and admiration. She has studied with Mrs. Peyraud, with Petrucci in the British academy of Rome, with Cucquier in Ghent and Brussels; and has painted in innumerable places. "The Coming Storm" which is a picture of our own lake tells a vivid story which is a direct contrast to the charming, peaceful "Along the River Loire." Her portraits and figures give a feeling of spontaneity in work and an understanding of the models. In private life this artist is Mrs. Bernard Mullen of Laurel avenue.

A delightful surprise was given to the friends of Mrs. Ross J. Beatty when announcement came from Ralph Fletcher Seymour, publisher, of the publication of an interesting book of poems about trees and stories, historical episodes and legends which have become identified with them. Mrs. Beatty has always been interested in all the fine arts and has done much to stimulate and forward of the activities pertaining to them. But it is only recently that her friends are beginning to realize how much she, herself, is contributing to the fine arts in every form. During the Sunday afternoon Salon, Mildred Beatty will read in her own delightful way, selections from this new book "Trees and Their Legends."

Sandwick Urges That School Committee Back Bills in Legislature

Richard L. Sandwick, principal of the Deerfield-Shields high school, attended the meeting of the Illinois State Teachers Association at Springfield during the Christmas holidays.

As chairman of the township and community high school committee, Mr. Sandwick is sending letters to the members urging their co-operation in the backing of several bills meant to help schools in financial difficulties.

He stated that the committee voted to support bills allowing insurance companies to invest in tax anticipation warrants, and that this measure might give some relief to the situation.

Support was also unanimously voted for Tice's House Bill No. 11. This bill puts non-partisan officials in charge of assessing Cook county for tax purposes. The banks agree to advance needed funds to schools if this bill carries.

Fiesta Draws Large Crowd, Thursday; Was Big Success

One of the most delightful parties of the season, was the Fiesta of the Southwest given by the Arts and Social committees of the Ravinia Womens club at the Village House New Year's Eve. About 75 couples were present, many of whom were dressed in original and lovely costumes.

The auditorium was the street scene of a little Mexican villa. One rested at side-walk tables, covered with painted designs, lighted by hand dripped candles, and overhung with bright awnings and quaint draped balconies, and watched the dancers, or, one joined the merry throng beneath the lights and the great clusters of gayly colored balloons.

The gay Fiesta always centered about the church and the altar piece was often brought out into the square. This idea was carried out by an improvised altar, above which hung a beautiful cartoon of Our Lady of Gaudalupe, the patron saint of Mexico, which was painted by Mrs. James Cady Ewell. Blue curtains were draped on either side of the Saint, just as they are in the Cathedral, and Christmas trees banked the sides of the altar which was lighted by many candles. The collection loaned by Fred Leighton, gave much to the scene. Mexican hats, baskets, valuable Indian blankets and shawls graced every corner.

A tribal Tom-tom which stood in the center of the stage was beaten at the stroke of mid-night, and a very old bell, brought from Lake Villa rung the New Year in.

Beautiful, fragil flower - sticks which were a part of the lovely decoration, were given at the last dance as favors.

A delicious breakfast of scrambled eggs, sausage, apple-rings, hot rolls and muffins and coffee was served about 1 o'clock. Never has there been a more beautifully decorated party—and never, a gayer crowd attending.

Many of the lovely things which made the decorations for the party so complete, were loaned through the courtesy of Mr. Fred Leighton of the Indian Trading Post, 619 N. Michigan avenue, Chicago.

LEAGUE OF VOTERS MEETS JAN. 20TH

To Discuss Disarmament; Ra- dio Programs Interesting; New Officials

The next meeting of the Highland Park League of Women Voters, to be held at the Y. W. C. A. at 12:30, Jan. 20, will be devoted to the subject of Disarmament, apropos of the World Conference to be held at Geneva, Switzerland, beginning Feb. 2 of this year. This is the first conference ever summoned for the purpose of definitely limiting armies, navies and air forces the world round.

More than 2,000 delegates from over 50 nations of the world are to be representatives of their countries at the conference. Our own country is to be officially represented by a large group including official delegates, advisers, technical experts and secretaries.

At the Washington conference of 1921-1922 capital ships and airplane carriers were limited. At the London conference of 1930 cruisers, destroyers and submarines were limited between Great Britain, United States and Japan. But never before has a conference been called to consider limitations of all articles used in modern warfare.

Radio Programs

Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 12 at 3:30 over WMAQ Dr. Mollie Ray Carroll, will speak on "Holding your job." Miss Carroll has stu-
