Thursday and Friday Nights of This Week; "Corporal Eagen" Funny Comedy

"Oi, Oi, Vat a Vor, Vat a Vor," moaned Izzy Isadora Goldstein, alias George Rich, late Tuesday when interviewed about the condition of the army encamped at the Legion Hall. Izzy had just completed four or five hours of drill and was tired and "regusted vit dis army besines."

"Me pappy run away mit a noisgal, Red Eagen lost his permoshun and I jus got to peel dese potatoes I don't like dis army. I think I join anoder vun."

Corporal Eagen, alias Vencil Muzik, was disgusted also, but was singing the blues in a different tune. "I got to save my Sally 'cause they think she is a spy and are going to shoot her. Boy, if I ever get my hands on that d— guard and that sergeant, I'll do plenty to those birds," he said threateningly.

Sally, (her friends call her Elinore, but Red vows her name is Sally) is in plenty of trouble. Her fellow tries to send her away from camp and then dates up a nurse; a guard keeps chasing her; the cook throws her out of the kitchen; and

American Legion Post Plans Big Minstrel Show for Jan. 28-29

The local American Legion post is sponsoring a minstrel show to be held January 28 and 29 in an auditorium in Highland Park to be chosen later, of which due notice will be given. The show, which will be called "Minstrel Fashion Plates," will be directed by the Rogers Producing Co. of Ohio, and the co-operation of the general public is asked to make the affair a big success.

Anyone who is interested in taking part in this show is asked to attend a meeting at the Elm Place school Friday evening, Jan. 15, at 7:30, at which time the director will outline the play, select the talent and set time and dates for rehearsals.

More than 90 persons are to be in the cast and the talent required chiefly will be singing and dancing, and girls of 8 to 12 years, girls of 16 to 18 years, and boys of 16 years and upwards are wanted for these parts.

The production is decidedly a novelty in that, while it embodies to some extent minstrel characteristics, it is really more in the nature of a musical and dance revue. All sorts of unusual things occur, such as a ballad singer doing his stuff from the orchestra pit; ushers dancing on the stage, and, most astounding of all, the finale is first. This, the master of ceremonies humorously announces, is so that everyone will have the chance to see the finale without interruption by some of the audience leaving.

"The 'Minstrel Fashion Plates' show has been staged in several other cities and reports elsewhere are most enthusiastic.

Presbyterian Church Honors Peter Johnson

On Sunday morning, Jan. 10, during the church service, Dr. Louis W. Sherwin called the attention of the congregation to the fact that at five o'clock on January first, Mr. Peter Johnson, the faithful sexton completed twenty-five years of active service in the church. Dr. Sherwin noted the many details and constant care necessary to keep the mechanics of the church running smoothly. He expressed his appreciation for this service and stated that this recognition was not made on January 3rd due to Mr. Johnson's inability to be present in the service.

Mr. Frederick A. Watkins, treasurer of the church, then came forward and presented Mr. Johnson with twenty-five dollars in gold, as a token of appreciation from the church for his faithful service.

During the years of Mr. Johnson's service, he has been associated with five regular pastors and several supply ministers, none of whom have remained half as long as he has. There are few church sextons in the Chicago district who can point to such a long and faithful service.
