Girl Scout News

Hickory Hill Girl Scout Camp

Camp applications are now on hand and ready for distribution among the Girl Scouts who are planning to go to Hickory Hill. The applications will be given to the Troop Captains and the girls may secure them through the captains. Applications must be signed and given back to the captains by the 15th of this month. Hurry up, Girl Scouts, and get your applications in.

Deerfield Troop I.

Troop I of the Deerfield Girl Scouts met Friday afternoon at the Presbyterian church. The meeting was opened with flag signaling; 22 were present. While seven were taking their tenderfoot tests, others played games. Those who passed the tests are: Martha Lazaar, Clara Abrahamson, Jane Todd, Veneta Frost, Doris Mason, Florence Bellei and Lenore Bellei. They will be invested at the next meeting.—Jane Todd, scribe.

Deerfield Troop I.

Deerfield Girl Scout Troop II met Monday evening at the Deerfield Presbyterian church with ten girls present. Following signaling practice were the weekly gymnastics under the direction of Mrs. C. R. Sugden, and a short business meeting with the captain, Mrs. C. R. Davis. They closed with the singing of a group of songs.—Lois Sturtevant, scribe.

Deerfield Holy Cross Troop

The Holy Cross Girl Scout troop met on Monday evening at the parish hall in Deerfield. Nine girls passed their tenderfoot tests: Mary Jane Condon, Adelaide McGuire, Caroline and Philomine Wachtholder, Mary Pfister, Dolores Koch, Mary McGuire, Betty Cunningham and Marie Haws. They will be invested at the next meeting. They played games and sang taps. Fourteen girls were present.—Adelaide McGuire, scribe.

Have You Read "Juliette Low and the Girl Scouts"?

This month is a good time to read this interesting book about the founder of Girl Scouting in this country because Girl Scouting was started in America just 20 years ago this coming Saturday, March 12. To be familiar with your founder and her aims and motives, her inspiration and foresight in establishing this great Girl Scout movement and linking it up so closely with the Girl Guide movement of the world, will make you a better Girl Scout. It will give a reason for and the why of the Girl Scout movement. You may get this book from the Highland Park public library.

A Good Girl Scout

Have you heard the phrase: "She's a good Girl Scout" and wondered just exactly what was meant, seeing that it was applied at the time to a girl who had done something especially outstanding or had conducted herself in some particular instance in a manner which attracted the attention of her elders? What is a good Girl Scout? Does it take one outstanding thing to make a good Girl Scout and does satisfactory conduct while "on parade" so to speak, place a girl in this class? It is doubtful. The girl who lives the Girl Scout laws and observes them in her daily life, alone and in a crowd, is the really good Girl Scout and she is the girl who is getting out of the Girl Scout program what it is intended she should get and in this way, incidentally, perhaps, reaping the rewards. Girl Scouting does not make either "sissies" or "tomboys" of girls, as many people think, neither is Girl Scouting a movement for city girls to keep them off the streets by taking them on jaunts in the country. Rather it is a movement which teaches a girl to learn to walk the pathway of life in a happy, laughing way, knowing that as she proceeds, she is preparing herself for what is ahead of her.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover says: "Girl Scouts are girls who have gathered together in a group quite of their own volition, that they may find a means of expressing their constantly changing stream of high spirits and good will; that they may serve their community in a manner that is practicable; that they may explore trails which lead out of the pleasant fields of childhood to the broad and teaming highways of life." "Girl Scouts seem to have a better time working than playing; and a better time working for others than for themselves.

Those I have known get a tremendous exaltation from serving others; and a frequent result of the voluntary co-operation and comradeship in Girl Scouting activities is the development of thought and helpfulness for other people. This makes our girls better home makers, better citizens, better friends. Individually, it tends toward a keener mind, a firmer character, and a happier self."

Brownie Packs

Pack No. 1 had a very interesting meeting last Thursday, March 3, at Trinity church. Marion Stanford, Joan Rinker, Nonie Heed, Betsy Cummings, and Elizabeth Kreuzkamp were invested as Brownies and given their Brownie pins. A very impressive ceremony was held around a magic pool. Later pots of colored paper tulips were made and a game called "Muffins to sell" was played. The pack then went to the Magic Tunnel and saw strange things. At the previous meeting Pack No. 1 decided that their Pack shall be called "Nimble Fingers."

Brownie Pack No. 2

The Ravinia Brownies met last Saturday morning, March 3, in the Ravinia school auditorium. The Pack has grown so rapidly that the place and time of meeting had to be changed to accommodate the large number of Brownies. After playing some games and taking attendance in a pow-wow the Brownies were kept busy making little Easter Baskets. Later going home thru the Magic Tunnel.

Troop No. 2 met at Elm Place school on Monday afternoon, March 7, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Flinn. After their flag ceremony and patrol corners, the girls were kept busy on the route of the tenderfoot train. This meant brushing up on their tenderfoot tests for the older girls and actually passing the Tenderfoot work for the newer members.

Braeside Troop No. 2

Troop No. 7 had a Bake Sale two weeks ago in one of the vacant stores on Roger Williams ave. in Ravinia and it was most successful, the girls clearing $15 with which they plan to buy their troop flags.

The meeting on Wednesday afternoon, March 2nd, started out with a color ceremony. Then the Girl Scouts did some first aid and some signaling.

A hike had been planned for last Saturday but had to be postponed on account of the weather.

Troop No. 5

Troop No. 5 met in the gym at Ravinia school on Monday afternoon. The troop has grown so large that it has been necessary to divide it into two groups, each however meeting on the same afternoon. Miss Virginia Marsh and her sister Mrs. Marsh have charge of the troop. Each group was given cards to fill out regarding the badges already passed and the badges to be passed. Signaling and games comprised the rest of the program. After the Court of Honor the girls went home.

Troop No. 3

Thursday evening, Feb. 25, began with inspection. Helen Cawley's patrol headed the list, but as they felt they had been color bearers too often others were chosen. After the flag ceremony we sat around Mrs. Pier for a short chat and announcements. We then dispersed in twos to work on signaling while the patrol leaders held court of honor. Then came patrol corners. When Mrs. Pier blew the whistle we lined up by patrols in front of four chairs. Each girl was given a half minute to solve as much of a poem written in the Morse code as she could. The "swastiks" patrol was through first. After a few songs the meeting adjourned.—Jane Ringer, scribe.

SUNSET VALLEY GOLF CLUB OFFICIALS-BUSY

meals, and a carefully selected menu will be offered. The tea room, under the direction of Mrs. Richman, will be available to anyone wishing to patronize it, and will not be restricted to club membership or visitors.

Other details settled are a new rate for caddies, and the employment of a caddymaster for the club. Hereafter the boys will be paid on the basis of an eighteen hole round, and not at an hourly rate. The charges will be $1.00 for eighteen holes for Class A caddies, and eighty cents for Class B. Twenty-five cents for a half hour and forty cents for an hour will be the fee for caddies at practice. Members will be invited to select the caddy of their choice. Formerly the boys were sent out in rotation.

Caddy House

A caddy house has been purchased by the club, and will be set up just east of the club house. There the boys will be under constant supervision of the caddymaster, whose duty it will also be to instruct the boys in the requirements for a good caddy. Sunset Valley has always prided itself in the morale and general behavior of its boys, and the club has been unusually fortunate in the class of boys from which the club-toters were drawn.

Course in Good Shape

The course is in excellent shape, and the greens successfully survived the recent cold weather. As soon as the weather moderates and the grounds begin to dry out, Tom Kelly, professional and manager, will be able to give us a definite idea regarding an opening date.

Several important improvements are planned during the summer as money becomes available. Any new construction will be under the supervision of G. W. Carr, who has consented to act in an advisory capacity regarding new buildings.

The membership committee reports unusual interest for this season of the year. The new fees for out-of-town membership have proved very attractive, and it is expected that the quota of non-resident members will be filled very early in the season.

We are looking every day now for somebody to come in and tell us that the latest Sino-Japanese war is a frame-up.
