SUNSET VALLEY GOLF COURSE CONDITION

Is In Fine Shape Despite Late Blizzard; Plan For Big Season Patronage

While the annual March blizzard, which delayed until nearly the end of the month, caused some inconvenience to traffic, and considerable annoyance to commuters, it did no damage to the golf courses of the north shore. The heavy blanket of snow will be a definite asset to Sunset Valley in bringing the fairways and greens rapidly into prime condition, and unless abnormally heavy rains visit the course in the next ten days, it should be ready for play within another fortnight.

Meanwhile preparations for entertaining a larger number of golfers than in any previous season continues. The reconstruction of two holes and the promising condition of greens and fairways as a whole, should make the course more attractive than ever.

Highland Park residents enjoy high class golf at a cost per round lower than those of most communities. (Continued on page 38)

Highland Park Press All-Stars Plan Dance to Be Held April 2nd

On Saturday evening, April 2, the Highland Park Press basketball team will hold a dance, at the Elk's hall on the corner of Laurel avenue and McGovern street.

This is the second dance given by the Press Athletic club and plans are being made to make this one, even more successful than the first. Unable to obtain the same orchestra that furnished such snappy and delightful music at their last dance, the members of the Press club went into a "huddle" and decided on the "Deston Revelers" to furnish the music. This band, formerly the "Evanston Ramblers," has a good reputation throughout the north shore district.

Tickets may be purchased from individual members of the Press team for a nominal fee a person, dancing will be from 8:30 until 12:30. A good time is promised to all who attend. Don't forget the date.

Children's Garments Sale March 31 and April 1 at Social Service

Thursday, March 31, and Friday, April 1, are the dates chosen for the exhibit and sale of children's garments at the Social Service. The little dresses, rompers, overalls and sun suits which will be on sale are copies of models selected from children's specialty shops and feature the newest styles for youngsters.

The Social Service is unable to meet the demand for work due to a lack of room in which the women may sew, as well as a restricted budget. By giving out the materials and models for these clothes so that the women may work at home they are able to furnish employment to a great many who otherwise would not be able to obtain it.

These clothes will be for sale at very reasonable prices, and if enough re-orders are given the work can be continued, as it will then be financially independent of the Social Service.

The exhibit will be held both mornings and afternoons, and tea will be served in the afternoon by members of the committee sponsoring the sale.

Mrs. Osborn and many of the committees have been "all but full time workers" and they have been and still are available at all hours for counsel and assistance.
