

DISCUSS NATURAL SCIENCE TEACHING

Interesting Features of Meeting of Elm Place P.T.A.; Details Given

The teaching of the Natural Sciences was the topic discussed at the last meeting of the Elm Place P.T.A. Miss Bertha Cramer, who has so successfully taught "Nature Study" at Elm Place was chairman of the meeting. She told how the children come to school full of interest and pleasure in natural things. Also, how they often come with much misinformation and how one must explain "that the dragon fly's skill as a tailor neither includes lip nor ear sewing; that the bat would be horrified if he ever found himself yanking a scalp; that the going down of the sun does not mark the end of a snake's wiggle; that witch hazel is not smart enough to plumb the earth's crust for a hidden stream and if by any rare chance a horse

Declares Stratton Is Good Man to Keep in Office as State Secy.

Under the heading, "A Good Man to Keep," the Waukegan News-Sun prints the following editorial regarding the candidacy for re-election of William J. Stratton of Ingleside, Lake county, for secretary of state. The expression of confidence in Secretary Stratton as a man and state official is undoubtedly concurred in by the majority of Lake county voters. The editorial:

A Good Man to Keep
In all the turmoil of the Illinois political race, one man stands out as a candidate who merits renomination and re-election on his record. He is William J. Stratton of Ingleside, secretary of state.

Whatever difficulties the voters may have in deciding who they want for governor, treasurer, and other important offices, they may rest assured that at least one choice has been simplified. Hardly any of them are giving more than a passing thought to the problem of finding a capable secretary of state. They realize that the man now in that office is their best bet.

Leaders of the Republican party have made it known that Stratton will have no important opposition for renomination. They know a good man when they see him. Popular both in Cook county and downstate, Stratton will be one candidate who can be depended upon to find favor with the voters. He will be a pillar of strength for the Republican party.

the taxpayers, is the only secretary of state in the history of Illinois who has paid into the state treasury all interest earned on funds in his hands, with monthly itemized statements showing the amounts of deposits and the amounts of interest paid by all the banks holding money belonging to the secretary's office. Besides that, he has brought about improvements in the method of collecting fees, checking up on delinquents and otherwise making his office more efficient and economical.

Stratton does not have to appeal to flag waving, party loyalty or any of the other sentimental means by which public servants seek the support of their constituents at election time. All he has to do is to point to his record and let the cold facts speak for themselves.—Waukegan News-Sun.

WELFARE TALK BY LEGION COUNCIL

Dr. Charles Schott Describes Conditions at Normal to Veterans at Meeting

by Dan Hunt

Members of the Highland Park quartet furnished the major portion of the entertainment program for the Eighth District American Legion meeting at Elks hall, Highland Park, Thursday evening, March 24. Members of the quartet are T. O. Thompson, David Olson, Wm. Bowden, Henry Hansen, and Robert Bridges, accompanist. Louis Otteni, Dumaresq-Spencer post's inimitable comedian, told several jokes whose broad humor was thoroughly enjoyed by the gathering. Accordion solos by Dave Suttle received several encores.

The serious part of the evening was covered by Dr. Charles Schlott, state child welfare officer, who told many things about his section of Legion work unknown to the average Legionnaire.

Dr. Schlott declared his belief that the Legion should broaden its child welfare scope to include all children. Children of ex-service men, he said, received their attention from the Legion because of accident of birth. Other children not so fortunate having Legionnaire or ex-service parents were equally deserving of attention.
