CITY CLUB PROTESTS CITY SALARY BOOST

Authorizes Petitions Opposing Adoption of New Scale; Quotes Figures

By unanimous action, members of the City Club of Highland Park at the annual meeting held last week authorized the circulation of petitions by that organization protesting against the adoption of the salary and appropriation ordinances adopted by the city council May 2 and 9 respectively. The petitions further demanded that the ordinances be suspended from going into operation and that the council reconsider them.

Repeal of Ordinances

Under the commission form of government the voters are given the right to file such petitions within 30 days after the adoption of such ordinances by the council on any objectionable actions of the council, and after such petitions are filed the council is obliged to either repeal the ordinances in question or submit them to the voters at a special election. Although the ordinances under consideration at this time indicate that salaries of city employes have generally been reduced about ten per cent over those of last year, and while the total of the appropriation ordinances is somewhat lower than that of last year, it seems to be the thought of a great many citizens of our city that the reductions which have been made are not sufficient and that further economies are possible in the form of perhaps the complete elimination of some Continued on page 32

Announces Opening of Vacation Church School on June 20

One of the annual features of the Highland Park Presbyterian church is the vacation church school conducted in the parish house for five weeks during the summer months. The school this year will open on June 20 at 9 o'clock and continue for five days a week from 9 until 11:30. The closing session will be held July 22. While the faculty is not yet complete, each one will be trained for his or her particular task. Miss Dora Stenson, a kindergartener in the Evanston public schools, will have charge of the kindergarise Haessler, Sara Jane Murfey, Barbara ten. Mrs. S. T. Dexter, a specialthe Balls, Barbara Franzen, Phyllis Ste- ist in primary work, will direct the primary group. Miss Greenlaw, director of religious education, will direct the work of the junior department assisted by Miss Elsie Watkins and supervise the entire school. Mrs. Chas. Brooks will be in charge of the music.

> The program will consist of Bible instruction, hymnology and music, missionary instruction, handcraft and organized play. Much of the work will be done out of doors and the school will be a little community of practical Christian living in which the boys and girls will have an opportunity to actually live the things-they learn.

Children from three to thirteen are eligible and parents are requested to call the church office, H. 683, for further information. There will be a small enrollment fee and a handcraft fee. The school is open to children of all faiths and other churches are invited to cooperate in the school.

PRESS SPONSORING RADIO AUDITION TEST

At Alcyon Theater May 27; Entry Blank in This Issue; County Test Later

For the first time in the history of Highland Park local talent will have an opportunity to try out for radio parts, when a public audition, sponsored by the Highland Park Press, will be held Friday evening, May 27, in the Alcyon theatre, when three best of those entered will be selected by vote of the audience for competition in the county-wide radio audition contest to be held in Waukegan, under the auspices of the Daily News-Sun of that city on dates to be announced later. Winners in the county test will appear in a program over WBBM,

Types of Talent

Various types of vocal talent will be eligible, but no instrumentalists, owing to much red tape in arranging for amateur instrumental numbers on radio programs. However, the vocal talent eligible will include singers, whistlers, readers, imitators, comedy acts, quartets, trios and other groups. Be sure to write on the entry blank which type of entertainment you wish to offer.

B. A. Wallister, production manager of WGN and creator of Harold Teen radio programes; assistant manager Rubins of WBBM and Kelley Smith of the Columbia Broadcasting System will assist in promoting these Highland Park Press programs. They will be on hand when the final audition is held at Waukegan.

Entry Blank in This Issue

An entry blank will be found in this issue of the Press, and all prospective candidates for the audition at the Akyon theater May 27 should fill it out and send it to the Audition editor of the Highland Park Press. Be sure to fill in the type of voice or entertainment feature you plan to offer. No entry fee is Similar auditions are to be held in other theatres throughout the county, and the winners in all of these will compete in the finals to be held in Waukegan later.
