hall were added at the north end, the latter having been recently remodeled into a gymnasium. The kindergarten building was added eighteen years ago and within the memory of many of the present residents, the new intermediate building and auditorium were built, in 1922 and 1923, the auditorium being paid for by funds raised by private contributions, since income from taxes was insufficient to make such a building possible.

Build New School

Only four years ago another long cherished dream of Mr. Smith's came true when the Green Bay Road school was built, making it no longer necessary for small children, below the 4th grade, to cross the tracks in order to go to school. This new school was taught by some of Elm Place's finest teachers, and greatly relieved the congestion in the older buildings, as the attendance had grown rapidly with the growth of the city.

Many other changes have taken place which have contributed to the reputation for progressive, constructive educational work which Elm Place school has acquired under Mr. Smith's leadership. The reputation of the school has spread far beyond Highland Park, so that many out of town visitors come every year to study the schools and their program, having been recommended to do so by educational authorities.

Reception

After a rather short program in the auditorium, there will be a reception in the Hall of Pictures on the second floor of the Intermediate building, where everyone will have the opportunity of shaking hands with Mr. Smith. The P. T. A. will have charge of the refreshments which will be served in the adjoining class rooms, and there will be an unusually fine exhibit of paintings, water colors, and etchings, by many of the well known artists living in Highland Park, among them

Rudolph Ingerle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peyraud, Mrs. Arthur Jerrems, Jr., Mrs. Bernard Mullen, Mrs. Everett Millard, Miss Edith Boynton, Tom Wilder, William Watson, Ralph Fletcher Seymour, Frederick Dalrymple, Mrs. Joseph Stine, Mr. and Mrs. James Cady Ewell and Henry Mortenson. The joy to be had from acquaintance with lovely things has always been one of the cardinal points in Mr. Smith's educational program, and the Hall of Pictures was planned by him for just such exhibits, which, during recent years, have frequently taken place there.

Besides his unremitting devotion to his work as school master, Mr. Smith has found time for many outside interests, including ten years service on the library board, during which time the present library building was planned and erected, and work on the Tree and Parkway commission of Highland Park. During the last administration the members of this commission, consisting of Jens Jensen and Mr. Smith, planted over a mile of parkway. Mr. Smith has also been a director of the Audubon Society of Chicago for the past twenty-five years; a Director in Friends of Our Native Landscape; and past president and director of the Chicago Geographic society for the past twenty years. The celebration in his honor planned for Wednesday, May 25, will be an occasion in which everyone who loves Highland Park and enjoys taking part in the life of the community will want to share. Plan to come, and show Mr. Smith by your presents, your appreciation of what his thirty years here have meant to this community.

In Memoriam

In fond and loving remembrance of our dear little daughter, Bessie Ruth, who passed away four years ago, Friday, May 20, at the age of two years.

Thoroughbreds Entered For Arlington Races in Outstanding Events

Thoroughbreds now in the public eye by virtue of outstanding accomplishments during the past few weeks are practically all entered in the stakes to which they are eligible at Arlington Park, Otto W. Lehmann, president of the Arlington Park Jockey club, said today.

Mr. Lehmann particularly rejoiced over the presence on the eligibility lists of the Stars and Stripes and Arlington Handicaps of W. R. Coe's Pompeius, which in winning the Spring, Southampton and Excelsior Handicaps proved the sensation of the recent Jamaica meeting. Pompeius, Mr. Lehmann pointed out, was not entered in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness and was withdrawn from the Belmont Stakes at the last closing, but may be named for the $70,000 classic at the supplementary closing on June 1.

The Arlington official said he was hopeful of seeing Burgoo King, winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, and Tick On, favorite in both events and beaten a head in the latter, renew their rivalry during the meeting at the northside course during July. Both colts are candidates for the Classic, Arlington Gold Cup, Arlington Handicap and Stars and Stripes Handicap. Another Classic eligible is Universe, winner of the Wood Memorial Stakes.

Top Flight, which came back to winning form in the Acorn Stakes last Saturday, is in five Arlington attractions—the Classic, Gold Cup, Arlington Handicap, Oaks and Matron—and Evening, victorious in the Chesapeake Stakes, is on the lists of the Classic, Oaks and Matron, Mr. Lehmann said. Sheltered, stablemate of Evening and recent victress of the Debut Stakes, also is a candidate for the Oaks and Matron.

Outstanding among the horses in the Gold Cup, Arlington Handicap and Stars and Stripes Handicap are Equipoise, winner of the Toboggan and Harford Handicaps; Gallant Knight, with the Dixie to his credit; Lightning Bolt, first in the Philadelphia Handicap, and Sun Meadow, winner of the Jennings Handicap, Mr. Lehmann added.
