Flower and Fruit Guild Appreciate Contributions Sent

Residents of Highland Park and Deerfield, who have been donating generously of flowers, fruits, and vegetables to the Chicago Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild, will be interested in the following notes sent to Mr. T. V. Purcell, Guild president, by Miss Elsa Reinhardt, superintendent of the Haymarket district, United Charities of Chicago.

"Mrs. S. has been confined to her home since last September when her baby was born. She does not know when she will be able to resume supervision of her household and as she is a very active woman, she frets constantly because she cannot help her children take care of the family. She was so delighted with the flowers that she not only telephoned but wrote me a letter telling me how beautiful they were.

"Mr. A. is in the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium. This poor man is burdened not only with the knowledge that he is probably incurable, but also knows that his baby was recently found to be an "open tuberculosis case." His young wife is not tubercular at present but is extremely underweight and has to be watched very carefully, so that she will not develop the disease. She lives with her parents while he is in the hospital and life for her is very drab. - Your beautiful bouquet cheered her greatly.

"Another man, who at one time had his own home and garden in a suburb of Chicago, now lies incurably ill with tuberculosis of the spine. In spite of his affliction and hopelessness of his situation, he is very cheerful and hopeful. You can imagine what the sight of a bouquet of beautiful flowers did for this man.

"Mr. C. and his wife and five children were in an auto accident some time ago. At the time of the accident, the father was working and the family self-supporting and now because of his injuries, he will never be able to work again. His daughter is in a very serious nervous condition because of the shock and injuries. They both are confined to their beds and the mother, who has barely recovered from her injuries, is greatly worried. The beautiful flowers cheered everybody in this home.

"All of the above mentioned families are receiving help from the United Charities because of illness and other problems in the home. Our funds are too meager to allow for the purchase of flowers or other things which cheer a sick person. Your gifts afford great pleasure to our families and also cheer our workers when they are able to present something so lovely to the poor and unfortunate."

Are you a regular contributor to the Guild? Thursday is the day on which Deerfield and Bannockburn regularly sends in its contributions. Flowers, fruits, and vegetables are solicited. They are distributed among the sick and poor of Chicago through 28 charitable organizations.

For information as to how you can help, please get in touch with Mrs. Monroe McKillip, telephone Deerfield 142. Your inquiry will be welcomed.

General chairman for the North Shore division of the Flower Guild is Mrs. Arthur H. Harrison of Deerfield.

Play Given Thursday Is Cleverly Portrayed

The comedy entitled, "Miss Nonchalance," given last Thursday evening at the Deerfield Presbyterian church was cleverly and capably presented by members of Circle Four. Mrs. William Neville, taking the part of Mrs. Granger, a widow, who owned a dairy farm, did so well, that Mr. Neville is afraid that someone may offer her a Hollywood contract. Her daughters, Lillie and Celia, portrayed by Miss Verda Varner and Mrs. Walter Page, attempted to manage the farm while the widow went away to meet a friend. Mrs. Raymond Dobbins, as Edna Morrison; Mrs. Earl Varner, as Eliza Morris, and Mrs. Emil Fredricks as Emma Morrissey complicated the plot by having such similar names, and a tangle resulted, which caused much mystery and excitement. Mrs. Chris Mentzer took the part of the maid.

The lawn and church assembly rooms were festooned with lanterns and following the play, members of Circle Four acted as hostesses at an old fashioned ice cream social, and served ice cream and cake at tables on the lawn and in the church.

This active group of women had had ten new screens made for the church basement, which were used that evening. The money realized from the very social evening will be placed in the treasury for future needs.

Outdoor Musicals to Be Held Sunday

An outdoor musical program is to be given Sunday evening on the church lawn of the Bethlehem Evangelical church, Deerfield. The concert is to be presented by the Prairie View Concert band, which has achieved an excellent reputation for itself in the past two years when it has played in many of the nearby towns, as well as in Deerfield.

The musical, which is to begin at 7 p.m., is to be preceded by a tea to which the public is invited. The young people of the church will hold their regular evening services at five o'clock, and at six they will serve tea for a very small charge.

If the weather permits, Harold Vant will demonstrate one of his famous rag pictures.

The band has a very fine selection of music and the community is invited to enjoy it.

Deerfield D.V.B.S. Choir Sings Sunday

The choir of the primary department of the Deerfield Daily Vacation Bible school will sing at the eleven o'clock services Sunday morning at the Bethlehem Evangelical church. The Junior choir will sing at the Presbyterian church at their Sunday morning services at 10:45.
