CAMPUS CHOOSE HONOR CANDIDATES

On Wednesday evening, July 6, after a short fire-lighting ceremony and words of welcome by Peter White, chief of the Order of the Arrow, all campers and leaders formed a hugh circle for the "Calling-Out" of candidates for the order. When a runner with a flaming torch entered the circle, he lighted the way for Sakima, the chief, to tap the shoulders of the fortunate scouts who had been honored by their less favored brothers to candidacy in the order.

After spending their night alone and eating a frugal breakfast, each candidate, meanwhile keeping strictest silence, worked all day at arduous tasks.

In the evening, Thursday, the successful candidates were admitted to all the rites of the first degree.

Chef Ross did himself proud in the "spread" he gave the Arrow after the initiation. Many thanks to him.

The candidates selected were Mr. Carl Bates, Mr. Frank Appleyard, Frank Wichman Sr., Bob Brown, Mr. McFadzean, Bill Brackett, D. Tibbets, Mr. G. Getgood, S. Craig, E. Colegrove, W. Betcher, D. Early, B. Riley, D. Toepfen, B. Erhler, T. Hawkins, H. Daughaday, A. Engles.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. ROSS HELD

"For he's a jolly good fellow, which nobody can deny." All of you Scouts and Scouters will agree to this. The way the chef has been turning out the meals surely speaks well for his reputation as a cook. Fellows, there are a few things about Mr. Ross that you all know, and a few things that you don't know. You know he is a very good worker, a good singer, and a swell fellow, but you don't know that he has been cooking for the last thirty years, and has traveled this country from Atlantic to Pacific, and from the Province of Alberta, Canada to Key West, Florida.

Mr. Ross, when asked what he thought of the camp and the Boy Scouts, stated that he had no idea of what Scouting was like until he came to Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan. He is now a firm backer of the Boy Scouts, and he said himself that no one could speak ill of the Boy Scouts in his presence. He further stated that he had no idea that this camp would be what it is.

Most of all he appreciates the enthusiastic reception of this food by the campers for this is the first time in thirty years of cooking experience that his work has been appreciated. "These boys sure can eat," says Chef Ross, "I know for I have fed lumbermen in the redwoods who ate heavily, but no more heartily than these Scouts. In the three weeks that I have been here, I have laughed more, sung more and "cussed" less. I only wish that there had been a Boy Scout movement when I was a boy."

PAUL BUNYAN AIDS DEDICATION

Immediately after dinner on Wednesday, July 6 a personal representative of Paul Bunyan's came to camp to formally dedicate the camp store as Paul Bunyan's Trading Post.

To the wild astonishment of all campers when they left the main lodge after dinner, lo and behold there was a descendent of Babe, Paul's Blue Ox standing on the porch of the Q.M. One of Paul's personal representatives gave the dedication address. Much to his own bewilderment and to his consternation and to the entertainment of all the campers the egg which was to have been broken on a pillar of the Q. M. as a formal act of dedication broke in his pocket. A feature of the dedication was the unveiling of a picture of Paul Bunyan which is to hang on the porch of the Paul Bunyan Trading Post. The picture shows him in his were in their prime. Souvenir pictures of Paul and his gang were distributed amongst the campers who patronized the Trading Post in the candy-line.

(For those who do not know the intimacies of Paul's life will be interested to know that he is the only truly American Mythological character and is reported to have founded the logging industry.

FIRST AID PRACTICE HELD

Coming back from Hollister Lake, a boy came running back saying that Mr. Getgood was hurt, and asked where the doctor was. We called for "Doc." There was no answer. We went up ahead a little way and found Mr. Getgood. He was lying on his side and was in great pain. We took over what we should do. We got some splints and stretcher-poles. By that time the "Doc" had arrived. He felt Skipper's arm and said it was broken. "You boys are experienced, fix him up." We put splints on his arm. He seemed to be in very great pain all of the time. He tried to turn over several times, but we didn't let him. He came to in a minute. We took turns supporting his arm and he walked in. We took him to the hospital immediately. The doctor sent us out and we went back to camp. He had just recovered from a bad leg and we thought it was too bad. When we got back to our village, John Frankel said that Mr. Getgood had left the hospital about ten minutes after we left. We then thought it was a bad sprain. During swimming period a fellow said it was a frame up. I said I didn't believe it because it was all so real. You know how it turned out, but it sure was a surprise. I think it was a fine lesson for everyone included. Those who couldn't help went on. A few kept the Scouts away, three or four Scouts did the bandaging. It was a fine experience.—Sydney Craig.

PAST EVENTS ARE REVIEWED

On Saturday, July 2, there was a water meet in which all the villages participated. The meet consisted of swimming and canoeing races besides novelty races for non-swimmers and beginners. The great hay relay and the war canoe races were the outstanding features of the meet.

The evening of July 2 was taken up by the game of Spy in Camp. The spys, John Derby, George Hinn, Hank Crawford, Bud Botcher, and Fred Woleben attempted to reach the main lodge, each with a message hidden on his person. All five of them were discovered, but only three of the messages were found.

The 4th of July was marked by many events of interest. Waking up to the tune of the fire siren, which was just for a fire drill, the Scouts prepared for a hike to Hollister Lake. After circling the lake, the Scouts sat down to lunch only to be surprised by a band of ferocious Indians, led by the valiant Hank Crawford. After arriving at camp, a pageant illustrating the history of early American flags; and signing of the Declaration of Independence was put on for the Scouts. Following that the Scouts witnessed a display of fireworks. Mr. Rybolt was the one who purchased them for the Scouts.

SECOND CRUISE NOW IN PROGRESS

The Sea Scout Schooner "Albatross" of the North Shore Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, is now on its second two weeks cruise, under the direction and leadership of S. J. Demorest, Sea Scout director. The Sea Scouts on this cruise are of Sea Scout Ship 62, "Lightning" of Lake Forest with Mr. Benjamin Carpenter as the skipper.

The first group of Sea Scouts returned last Saturday, July 2nd, from the first two weeks cruise and from every report heard, the boys had one grand time, especially since they had such perfect sailing weather.

The Sea Scouts are cruising on the waters of Lake Michigan and according to telegrams sent to headquarters the boys are all having a fine time.

The Sea Scouts on this cruise, which lasts from July 8 to July 16 are as follows: Ian McPherson, Art Gourley, Grant Fairbanks, Everett Archer, Jim Tibbets, Benjamin Carpenter, Milo Winter, Dick and Bob Fellows and James Ewell of Highland Park.

GIVE PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATION

"Down the street there comes, a blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums." This is a good way to express the parade of Boy Scouts and Cubs from Northbrook as seen by the spectators that lined the streets along which the parade was to pass. Buglers and drummers of Troops 28 and 61, and of Cub Pack 68, furnished the music for the paraders to march by.

As the line of drummers and buglers marched past, every heart flipped over a beat faster as the people remembered reading of those stirring days of "The Spirit of '76."

Leaving the public school a little behind schedule the parade proceeded to the village triangle. Here the pledge of allegiance to the flag was given by the Scouts, following came the firing of the Presidential salute to the colors by the Joseph M. Sesterhenn post, American Legion, Glenview.

When asked by a reporter, all the people agreed that it was one of the best demonstrations ever put on by the Scouts of Northbrook. Credit for the program should go to F. L. Harms, Scoutmaster of Troop 28, who was in charge of the day's events. Also to Mr. H. Boyer, Scoutmaster Troop and to Oscar Mueller, District Commissioner, 61, F. L. Huguélet, Scoutmaster Troop 75—Northbrook District Press Club.
