

COUNTY BANKERS MEET AT MORAINE

Samuel Hastings Addresses Group on Friday Night at Highland Park

The Lake County Federation of Bankers, which has been leading the counties of Illinois in banking activities, held a monthly meeting at the Moraine hotel last Friday night. About forty men sat down to the dinner and then listened to a timely and interesting address by Samuel Hastings, who is the chairman of the board of directors of the Highland Park State Bank. Mr. Hastings spoke on bank management in its broadest sense and from the viewpoint of a business man. The address has attracted nation-wide attention. Mr. Hastings, a former mayor of Highland Park, and at present the president of the Illinois Manufacturer's Association, said in part:

"There has been a tendency in many circles to blame all the bankers for the shortcomings and unsound business practices, sometimes absolute dishonesty, of a few. This is not right nor just for we have thousands of honest, capable bankers in this country whose institutions are safe and sound, conservatively managed and have stood the acid test of withdrawals due to anxiety on the part of the public

Winners of Football Contest Announced

Miss Margaret Sweeney and W. H. Walters are the winners of last week's Highland Park Press football contest, and will receive two reserved tickets each to the Northwestern-Ohio State football game at Dyche stadium, Evanston, Saturday afternoon. The three other winners of last week's contest, who will receive two tickets each to the Alcyon theatre, Highland Park, are Albert Caldarelli, F. G. Pick and Robert Anspach.

The next contest to be sponsored by the Highland Park Press will be held next week. Winners of this contest will receive tickets to the Northwestern-Iowa game on Nov. 19, and more free tickets to the Alcyon theatre. Contestants are asked to get their answers in early, for time is an important factor in the contest.

The contest will be explained in a special two-page section in next week's Press. In each advertisement on the two special pages next week will be the names of two schools whose football teams will play the following Saturday. The contestants will guess the total number of points that will be scored in all these games. Just one figure is required, representing the total points scored by all the teams.

Annual Visiting Night For Parents To Be At High School Nov. 10

The annual visiting night for parents of the pupils of Deerfield-Shields high school will be Thursday, Nov. 10. Dinner will be served in the school cafeteria from 6 until 7 p.m. A short assembly will follow dinner, at which time Mrs. Maurice Hirsch, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, will present Hiram Kennicott, the vice-president, who will present and introduce Richard L. Sandwick, principal of the school, whose talk will be on "Educational Values in Simplest Forms."

The high school band, under the direction of Mr. Finch, will play Grandiose by Eric DeLamarter, and the high school orchestra, directed by Helen Mayer Mannings, will play In a Monastery Garden by Kettelbey, and In a Chinese Temple Garden by Kettelbey.

At 8 o'clock the teachers will be in their respective rooms to confer with parents. A mother will be hostess in each class room to assist in receiving and reminding parents when their three-minute interview is over. For longer conferences with teachers it is suggested that parents make appointments to see the teachers at another time.

It is hoped, by those in charge, that this will be an interesting and valuable evening for parents and teachers alike. It is important, they say, that parents take advantage of this opportunity to become better acquainted with the faculty members and the school. There will be no P.T.A. meeting in December.

Cope Harvey to Play at Charity Ball of the American Legion

Members of Dumaresq Spencer Post No. 145 of the American Legion are sponsoring their second Armistice Charity Ball to be held on the evening of November 11, Armistice night, at the Highland Park Woman's club, North Sheridan road. This ball is given every year to raise funds to aid in the local charity work sponsored by the Legion, and the members of the local post ask that the community lend its assistance in the purchase of tickets and attendance.

The committee in charge has engaged Cope Harvey and his orchestra, which needs little introduction to the north shore music lovers. This organization has played such well-known locations as the Stevens hotel, the Opera club, College Inn, White City Casino, Cinderella ballroom, and such feature single engagements as the Bachelors and Benedicts ball, Twelfth Night ball, the Assembly balls, Cradle ball, Sunbeam League ball, Arts ball, and during the past summer season has entertained the dancers at Indian Hill club and the Westmerland Country club.

The band features a sweet type of music, with excellent dance rhythm, and two solo vocalists, Jug Johnson on comedy numbers, and Roy Cuthbertson on ballads.

It is particularly appropriate for this occasion as Mr. Harvey is a member of the American Legion, having served overseas as the band leader of the 132nd Infantry band, one of the crack musical organizations of the A.E.F.

The Olson family, composed of five brothers and five sisters, will present an interesting, inspirational, musical program at the Highwood M. E. church, next Saturday evening, Nov. 5, at 8 p.m.

Unusual as this family is for its number, it is further remarkable because of its versatile musical talent. Each member can play one or several instruments (violin, guitar, banjo, zither, accordion) and all of them can sing. This unique combination of singing and playing will be displayed next Saturday evening in numbers presented by the Olson String Band. Other numbers on the program will be of equal interest. David Olson, well-known local baritone, will contribute a solo. Robert (Continued on page 37)

Social Service To Receive Part of Dutch Mill Proceeds

The newest addition to Highland Park's business enterprises, the Dutch Mill Candy Shop, will open for business tomorrow, Nov. 4, at 376 Central avenue, under the management of Mrs. T. E. Russell.

A generous portion of the receipts on Friday and Saturday are to be donated to the Social Service Committee, and several prominent local women, including Mrs. L. Wood, Mrs. R. C. Platt, and Mrs. Robert M. Cobb, will be in the store on these days in the capacity of hostesses for the Social Service.

The building which is to house this concern was built under the direction of William D. Mann, Highland Park architect, and local contractors have been busy the past two months in getting the building ready for occupancy. The entire plan and color scheme of the building carries out the idea of a Dutch Mill, and the appointments and decorations in the store follow the same decorative motif. The huge mill on the roof of the building climaxes the unique plan of the shop.

Dutch Mill's home made candies will provide the outstanding feature of the new store, and a fountain service featuring light lunches and all of the standard fountain preparations and several new concoctions exclusive with Dutch Mill will be an added feature.

The interior appointments and furnishings provide a comfortable and interesting place to visit after the theatre, and to this end the shop will remain open until midnight each evening.

As a means of introducing the new store to the people of this locality several unusually interesting opening specials are being offered for Friday and Saturday. Dutch Mill's famous candies and ice cream will be offered on the opening days at special low prices.

Everyone visiting the store Friday and Saturday of this week will receive as a present from the management a box of Dutch Mill's delicious candy free of charge.
