Large Attendance at All-Candidates Meet

Candidates for national, state, and county offices spoke last night before a capacity audience of Highland Park voters at the all-candidates' meeting held at the Ravinia village house. In a presidential little attention is apt to be given village house. In a presidential election year little attention is apt to be given to the candidates for local and state offices and this meeting was to give local voters a chance to become acquainted with such candidates. Those attending the meeting were able to secure sample ballots.

Starting Monday, Nov. 5, friends and members of the Highland Park league will distribute sample ballots and other non-partisan pre-election information on the busy corners of Highland Park. Those in charge of securing and distributing this information are: Mrs. Allen Wolff, Mrs. A. O. Mason Jr., Mrs. Clarence Balke.

The October issue of The Voter, the Illinois League of Women Voters' pre-election issue containing records of all national, state and many county candidates, will be on sale. For further information, not given in The Voter, about candidates for local offices will also be available.
