"Tom Sawyer" and "Hans Brinker" to be Given on Children's Day Program

Those who are familiar with the work of the children's play committee of the Highland Park Woman's club know that for the past four years the committee has been responsible for bringing to Highland Park certain plays well known for their fine work in children's plays. Among the most prominent of these players are the Evanston Children's theatre and the Goodman theatre.

This year, after careful perusal of the plays which the different groups had to offer, it was decided that the Evanston Children's theatre had two which would particularly appeal to our children. They are "Tom Sawyer" and "Hans Brinker." The third play of the series is to be presented by the Highland Park grammar school children. It is the feeling of the committee and the school principals, J. L. Smith and S. G. Wright, that the competitive spirit of the children, and the feeling that they themselves are taking part in this work will add a great deal to the enthusiasm for the plays this year.

"These children's plays were originally brought to Highland Park because many of the mothers felt that for very little expense their children could enjoy the dramatization of the really worth while literature of childhood, and could be profitably entertained on Saturday afternoons. It is the very earnest wish of the club that the mothers of Highland Park will continue to sponsor this work, which is being done solely for the good of the children and not for any financial gain to the club," state the officers.

"Due to the careful planning of the committee, and the co-operation of the local schools, it is possible to offer this entire series of three plays for a very reasonable price. Mrs. Harry H. Redfearn is chairman of

Former Resident Dies; Funeral This Afternoon

Mrs. Rex Nelson, formerly Ethelene Steele, daughter of W. W. Steele, 563 De Tamble avenue passed away at her home in Chicago at 5 a.m. Monday, Dec. 12, aged 25 years and four days. She had been in ill health for several months.

Mrs. Nelson was born in Highland Park, Dec. 8, 1907 and received her education in the Elm Place school and Deerfield-Shields high school. She studied commercial art at the Art institute for two years.

She leaves to survive her, her husband Rex Nelson of Chicago, her father W. W. Steele, and a step mother, and a brother John Steele, all of this city, as well as other relatives and a host of friends. Her mother passed away seven years ago.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon (Thursday) at 2 o'clock at the Highland Park Methodist church, North avenue and Lauretta place. Burial will be in North Shore cemetery.

Receiver for Highwood Bank Asks to Pay 515 Claims Totaling $540

Permission to pay off 515 small claims totaling $540.38, of the closed Highwood State bank, was asked last week by H. A. Smith, receiver for the bank, through his attorney, John Logan Boyles, of Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady.

All of these claims, Mr. Smith explains, are for less than $2 each, and to carry them through liquidation would be an added expense to the bank because it would call for the same amount of bookkeeping and legal work as larger claims.

These accounts, in nearly every instance, belong to children, and the receiver hopes to pay them before Christmas. Judge Dady set the last date to file objections to such a procedure as Dec. 17, Saturday, of this week, and on that date the hearing will be held on the objections if any are filed.

Miss Veronese Beatty is Exhibitor at Last Sunday's Art Tea Here

Included in the exhibit of the Open-Door Art Tea at the Highland Park Woman's club here last Sunday afternoon were two pieces of sculpture which were the work of Miss Veronese Beatty, of this city. These were accorded special interest and appreciation by the hundred or so who attended the event on Sunday.

This was the second of a series of Sunday afternoon art teas here this winter, which are arranged by the art committee of the Woman's club. The unusually fine exhibit of pictures last Sunday was loaned by the Hoosier Art Galleries of Chicago. The arrangement of the pictures was especially effective, being under the direction of C. Warner Williams, the sculptor who is to speak at the next meeting of the Woman's club on next Tuesday afternoon.

The art committee of the club, of which Miss Anne O'Brien is chairman, is very grateful to the galleries, and urges those who expressed so much enthusiasm for the paintings, to attend the Annual Salon to be held at the downtown Marshall Field store in February.

The hostesses at the art tea here last Sunday afternoon were Mrs. R. J. Beatty and Mrs. Louis Leverone.

Tickets to Three Children's Plays Is a Gift Suggestion

"What could be a nicer Christmas gift for a child," asks Mrs. Harry H. Redfearn, chairman of the children's plays committee of the Highland Park Woman's club, "than a season's ticket to the series of three delightful children's plays to be presented in Highland Park after the holidays."

These plays are to be given in the Elm Place auditorium on Jan. 7, Feb. 25, and March 18. The series consists of the two immortal favorites, "Tom Sawyer" and "Hans Brinker," presented by the Children's Theatre of Evanston, and one play to be put on by our own Highland Park grammar schools under the direction of Jesse L. Smith and Clark G. Wright.

"The tickets are very reasonably priced this year. Any child would appreciate one of these tickets in his stocking on Christmas morning. Mrs. J. Stuart Mout (H. P. 2713) will be glad to see that any tickets wanted for Christmas gifts will be delivered in ample time," say the officers.

We wish to express our gratitude to all who so kindly helped us during our recent bereavement.
