LOOKING AHEAD INTO 1933 SCOUTING

The Scouting Program of the North Shore Area Council for the new year looms up as an ambitious one, full of fun and accomplishments for scouts and scouters. The new year brings with it a new spirit, stimulating scouting at every turn. Consider some of the activities listed below. They present just a few of the council projects, to say nothing of the multitude of the troops individual projects.

1.—Boy Scout's 23rd Anniversary Week coming Feb. 8 to 14, marks a gala occasion for every scout and leader. Over 5 million boys have been scouts during these 23 years. There are a million scouts and leaders now.

2.—Feb. 20th the big University of Scouting opens its spring term for six Monday nights led by an outstanding faculty, prepared to provide the best in leadership training opportunities.

3.—During the last part of February and in March and part of April, an Annual District Meeting and Scouting Exhibition will be held in each of the twelve districts. This is the high spot in each of the districts' activities.

4.—Later in the spring comes the annual Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan Reunion in preparation for summer, a big get-together for all old and new campers.

5.—The middle of May brings the 4th Annual Camp-O-Ral, an overnight camping contest. Over 400 scouts participated last year.

6.—The Fifth Season of Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan opens during the last week of June. Hundreds of scouts and leaders are looking forward to this summer in the northwoods of Wisconsin.

7.—The Century of Progress opens this year and offers plenty of opportunity for Troops to take some fascinating excursions into the World's Fair.

SCOUTS HAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Troop 51 of the Deerfield Rotary club held its regular meeting last Friday. The Indian patrol is refixing its wigwam. The parents of the Cubs visited us. We played games and had a good time. We also had a Christmas party which proved to be great fun. The meeting closed with the scout benediction.—Scribe Charles Burnet, Troop 51, Deerfield.

TROOP 324 MEETS FRIDAYS

Troop 324 of the Highland Park Presbyterian church held its regular meeting last Friday. When the meeting was called to order we lined up by patrols. Mr. Riddle, our troop committee chairman, told us about re-registration. We had a contest to see who could do artificial respiration best. Afterward we played some games. There will be no troop meeting next Friday as the troop is going to have an overnight hike to the cabin. All those going will have to be present at the meeting place before 4:15 o'clock. In two weeks there will be a court of honor and parents' night.—Anders Hustvedt.

HIGHLAND PARK CUBS MEET

Pack 86 met last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. As we gathered for the meeting we played games. Roy Fidler, the cubmaster, made some suggestions. We had roll call and the cubmaster showed some new boys the bobcat requirements while the rest of the pack played games. The pack, including the den chiefs, the cubmaster and his assistant, had their pictures taken outside. Then we had our closing ceremony and passed out candy and were dismissed. The next meeting will be on Saturday morning, Jan. 7, 1933. Happy New Year.—Newton Hoffman, cub reporter, Pack 86, First United Evangelical church, Highland Park.

TROOP 75 CHANGES MEETING TO MONDAY

Troop 74 held a short meeting last Friday. We voted to have our meetings changed to Monday nights. The reason is because of basketball games at the high school and making it easier for the church janitor. There were no objections to the change, so it was seconded and carried.

We then collected dues and played "pull-across-the-line." Just before we were dismissed, our scoutmaster, Dan Dreinke, told us to meet in front of the church Monday night with flashlights. We wonder what the surprise is going to be?

After assembling at our meeting place on Monday, we walked down to Sunset Valley Golf Club. Our scoutmaster told us we were going to practice a rabbit hunt over the snow. Two scouts were then sent out and after a five-minute lead the rest started tracking them. One scout had a golf club to make impressions so the trail would not be so easily confused with others. When we finished the wild goose chase we went to our scoutmaster's house and had cocoa and candy.—Scribe Harold Holstrom, Troop 74, First United Evangelical church, Highland Park.

ROTARY TROOP HAS FUN NIGHT

Troop 51 held its monthly "fun night" Friday, Dec. 23. The meeting was opened with the salute to the flag and the singing of the first verse of America.

Each patrol put on a stunt for part of the entertainment. Then we played some games. Mr. Huhn came in and gave us each a letter from scout headquarters. We invited him to stay for lunch with us. We presented our scoutmaster with a gift in appreciation of his good work. We closed the meeting with the scout benediction.—Scribe Art Mentzer, Troop 51, Deerfield Rotary club.

TROOP 52 OF DEERFIELD MEETS

Knots were reviewed and an inter-patrol contest in knot tying was held at the meeting of Troop 52 of Deerfield on Friday, Dec. 29. All the required tenderfoot knots were used and the contest was won by the Otter patrol.

The subject of a dad's and son's hike to be held Jan. 2, was brought up, but as many of the scouts were going away, the subject was dropped.

Announcement was made of the old clothes collection held Tuesday and Wednesday, January 3 and 4, at which time the Scouts collected old clothes for the Relief Organization.

The meeting was closed with the scout oath.—Milton Merner, Troop 52, Deerfield Presbyterian church.

TROOPS MAKE APPLICATION FOR PRES. HOOVER AWARD

Thirteen North Shore Area Council Scouting Units have already made application for Pres. Hoover's Award to all Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Sea Scout Ships, reaching satisfactory standards of growth and progress. The award is a splendid streamer to be attached to troop flags and will no doubt be presented during Boy Scout Anniversary Week in February.

Steele of Glencoe. They are: Cub Pack 41, Libertyville Presbyterian church. Troop 25, Glencoe Episcopal church. Troop 33, Lincoln school, Highland Park. Pack 80, Deerfield Presbyterian church.
