Mrs. Bates Injured in Auto Accident

Mrs. Carl E. Bates, wife of the principal of the Deerfield Grammar school, is recovering nicely from injuries received last Wednesday evening when she collided with Mr. Rafferty's car in front of the Frost News Agency on Waukegan road. Mrs. Bates started to cross the street and was unaware of the approaching car. She was knocked unconscious. One arm had hit the car door handle, breaking off the handle and tearing away flesh and muscles and injuring the nerves of the arm. Where her head struck the pavement she received slight hemorrhages between the skin and skull.

Mrs. Bates was taken to the Highland Park hospital, returning home the following day. Considering the type of accident, Mrs. Bates was very fortunate in not having received more serious injuries.
