

A school-teacher had found herself of boys reluctant in their writing of English compositions. At last she conceived a great idea to stimulate their interest—to write an account of a ball game.
 It seemed that she was successful. With one exception, the boys threw themselves at the task and solved youthful masterpieces. The awkward one chewed reluctantly at his pen and was then struck by a ray of genius. When the teacher read his paper, it read:
 "Rain, no game."—Western Christian Advocate.
