Greedy and Cowardice

"Once we can discover how to take the greed out of men's hearts, we can put clothes on the lowliest man's back, and a bathtub in his house and a smile on his lips. And he'll never need to be afraid of losing his job again—or of being a pauper when he grows old or a public charge when he gets sick," says Frazier Hunt in the February Good Housekeeping.

Added to the fact that the people of the United States are greedy, is the fact that they are cowardly. The rich, the poor, and the middle classes are whining about the depression. All of us are working overtime to pity ourselves.

Our grandfathers left their comfortable homes to open new frontiers amid the direct poverty and privations, and did they whine? They hadn't the barest idea of prosperity even as we know it during these "lean" days.

Someone has said, and aptly, that during times of depression it requires desperate figuring to eliminate the necessities so we can have our luxuries. There you are—a good characterization of the descendants of the Puritans—greedy and cowardly!

New Similes
As unusual as a news-reel without a horse-race.

As uncertain as the quality of a radio program.

The All-Powerful Will

Mrs. Jane Harvey Jackson, of Scales Mound, Ill., celebrated her 107th birthday last Saturday. That means that Mrs. Jackson was born (in Cornwall, England) in 1826—a generation before the Civil War!

Her health was of great concern to her family during her girlhood. Growing into frail womanhood, her will to live carried her through frequent illnesses and the bearing and raising of ten children on what was then the frontier of this country.

She was active until a few weeks before her 104th birthday, when she fell and fractured her hip! And she has carried on bravely ever since!

What an example this magnificent old lady sets us whining youngsters! When grasping, rapacious money-grabbers, (whose paper profits of 1929 have been snatched from their grasp by a cleansing depression, and whose dishonestly-built "giant" financial structures are toppling to the ground burying innocent victims of their greed) are jumping out of 20-story hotel windows, and settling to safety in Greece, Canada and other countries—what a wholesome example it is to see a 107-year-old patriarch carrying on through depression after depression, laughing secretly at us who chafe and fume because we are having a temporary setback in our scheme to amass luxuries without producing our share of the world's work.

"Kill or Cure"
"This depression will either kill or cure us," I heard a local man say the other day. "If we will just remember the big lesson to be gained from this so-called unbearable period of economic chaos, the lesson being the old familiar one, 'that which goes up must come down,' this depression is good for all of us. Of course, it's severe. People are starving, or going crazy, because of the mess we're in. But although it will kill some of us, it will surely cure the rest of us."

He forgot to add—
"Until the next period of prosperity!"

DOLLAR DAYS, FEB. 10-11

A certain suburbanite who keeps pigeons loses a good many, and he has more than once suspected a neighbor of benefiting by his loss. Not long ago he bribed the neighbor's little boy with a dime, and asked, "Did your daddy find a bird yesterday?"

Willie nodded.
"Was it blue with some white feathers on it?"

"Dunno," said Willie, pocketing the dime. "You can't tell their color when they're in a pie."—Boston Transcript.

As we figure it out, it would require millions and millions of pounds to solve the housing problem, relieve unemployment, and discover cures for cancer and tuberculosis. And, of course, it's only for war that we could raise a big sum of money like that.—Dublin Opinion.

Samuel M. Hastings

This biographical sketch of Mr. Hastings, one of Highland Park's best-known citizens, appears in "Chicago's Accomplishments and Leaders," a new book by Glenn A. Bishop and Paul T. Gilbert, published by the Bishop Publishing Company, 308 West Washington street, Chicago.

Mr. Hastings, chairman of the finance committee of the Dayton Scale company, was born in Rimersburg, Pennsylvania, August 14, 1860, the son of Eli and Rachel Whitehall (Kerr) Hastings. He was educated in the Gardner, Ill., public schools. He began as a clerk in a dry goods store in Braidwood, Ill. In 1879 he established a store of his own, which he conducted until 1884.

He was also in the dry goods business in Streator, Ill., from 1884 to 1889. Mr. Hastings came to Chicago in 1889, and with several associates, organized the Moneyweight Scale company. After extensive travel in Europe, he returned to Chicago in 1903 to become president of the Dayton Scale company, holding this office until 1923, when he was made chairman of the finance committee.

Mr. Hastings is a director of the International Business Machines corporation, the Addressograph International corporation, and the Metal Door and Trim company of LaPorte, Indiana. He is chairman of the board of the Highland Park State bank, and was mayor of Highland Park from 1915 to 1928.

A member of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, he served that body as treasurer, from 1912 to 1915, as president from 1915 to 1917 and again during 1932. He is a founder member of "A Century of Progress Exposition." In 1916, when it seemed inevitable that the United States would be drawn into the World War, Mr. Hastings urged on President Wilson the appointment of a commission of from twelve to twenty representative Americans to visit the European capitals and commercial centers with a view to bringing about peace. When the United States declared war against the Central Powers, he called together the members of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, who pledged themselves and their plants to the service of the nation. Mr. Hastings advocated also a permanent commercial and industrial union of the allied nations to be based on a two hundred billion dollar bond issue by the United States, Great Britain, Italy and Japan.

Mr. Hastings is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution, the Mid-Day, Old Elm, and Exmoor Country clubs, the Chicago Athletic association, and a life member of the Press club.

He was married September 16, 1881, to Janette Rankin of Braidwood, Ill., who died in November, 1922. He was married again to Miss Nettie Ann Moore of Chicago in 1925. He has an adopted son, Roland Thomas Rankin Hastings.

"The Immigrant"
Far away is his home, far away his kin,
His father and mother,
His sister and brother,
Far away—far away.

Why did he leave that quiet place?
Why did he sail on the stormy sea?
Why did he stay in this land of strangers?

Thus he muses—then his boy
Leaps to his lap.
Ruffles his hair,
Laughs and plays.
And he plays with his boy
And is happy again.

Yes—here is his home.
Here his wife, here his child.
Here his work and his future.
Here his hope and his future.

They were having a small dinner party, and for a special treat, the little son of the house had been allowed to come down.

They had reached the dessert stage when he remarked in loud, confidential tones to his mother: "Will dessert upset me tonight, mummy, or is there enough to go around?"—Argonaut (San Francisco).

Mrs. (learning to drive): "Henry, that little mirror up there isn't set right."
Henry: "Isn't it?"
Mrs.: "No; I can't see anything but the car behind."—Cincinnati Christian Advocate.

BETWEEN YOU AND I

by Warner Turritt

Introducing

"Between You and I," will contain only important events and problems which come up every day at the Deerfield-Shields high school. The editor of this column, having edited the sport page of "The Shoreline," will deal primarily with sports in this column. Contributions and comments are always greatly appreciated.

Jack Allen Graduates

Mid-semester exams brought to a close the career of one of the outstanding athletes in the history of Deerfield. Jack Allen for four years has made opponents fear teams under his leadership. His accurate passes, snappy side-stepping and brilliant broken field running have all featured in his success. Jack has not only starred in football, but also in basketball. Last Friday he was one of the main factors in Deerfield's victory over Proviso.

Coach Thurston, made the following comment of Allen, the other day: "Jack is the kind of a fellow who goes around with his mouth closed, listens to instructions and produces the evidence of hard fighting and work. Last Friday Jack played the greatest basketball game of his whole high school career and he deserves a great deal of credit."

When a coach like Mr. Thurston makes a statement like that about one of his players, it must be true. Jack deserves a big hand and the school surely showed their appreciation at the game Friday.

Swimmers Beaten
Coach Kendig's luckless aggregation of mermen traveled to Oak Park last Friday only to return with a burden of defeat. Oak Park's well balanced team won every event with little trouble, being outpointed only in the fifty yard back stroke.

Bob Anderson covered the fifty yards in championship style and has now a bigger chance against rival schools when the suburban league meet is held.

Track Practice Starts
Coach "Deac" Wolters' well known track mentor at Deerfield-Shields has issued his first call for practice. He has returning such stars as Fox, Anderson, Irving, Rutledge, and many others. From the looks of things "Deacs" headed toward another championship season.

Morton and Evanston Next
Deerfield-Shields plays host to the suburban league schools next Friday. The swimming team meets Morton high from Cicero in the last suburban league meet. The meet begins promptly at four o'clock and guarantees to be a thriller.

The basketball team meets Evanston high in their second encounter. Coach Thurston's lightweights have to beat the Evanston ponies in order to stay in the race. The Evanston lightweights are league leaders having successfully downed Morton's ponies last week 30-29.

When Deerfield played their first game against Evanston they were minus two regulars, but this time they meet their nearby opponents with full strength. The heavies who have lost three games out of five are bound to give the visitors a good game. A small sum is charged for admission, but it isn't too much to keep the family from going.

EXPRESSION ON DEPRESSION
They call it a depression.
But I venture here to say,
If you're wishin' my expression,
It's jes' the other way.

Sometimes we pear t' holler
When maybe we want t' rain.
By stickin' t' a dollar
T' keep us out o' the rain.

Clean thru a spell we've gloated
' Bout big deals in stocks an' such.
Til' all our friends was bloated
On how we 'a-gettin' rich.

We simply lost our footin',
An' climbed plumb to the sky
On plans that had no rootin',
Jes' t' slide down by an' by.

We made debts the world t' shiver
An' hadn't means t' pay 'em.
An' we went for all 'em in the
An' how we sailed away.

We didn't know that nabers
Who worked in-stead o' room
Was savin' from their labors
T' allus have a home.

There was nothin' manufactured
That we didn't try t' buy,
Jes' like our skill was fractur'd,
An' that we 'a-lyin' high.

Keep in style! I seem to the mint!
Nothin' else aught half 's good;
An' we went for all 'em in the
Like our heads was made up wood.

We piled right in the middle
Cuttin' capers in parade.
But couldn't please the noble
Good 'nuff t' make the grade.

Dr. A. D. Albert Will Tell of Century of Progress Exposition

The Ravinia Woman's club will hold its annual open evening meeting, Wednesday evening, Feb. 8, at 8 o'clock at the Village house with Dr. Allen Diell Albert as guest speaker.

Dr. Albert's subject is "The Century of Progress Exposition," which is particularly interesting at this time.

No one is better equipped to talk on this subject than Dr. Albert, who is assistant to the president of the exposition, and director of the Department of Plans and Progress of the Century of Progress Exposition.

Dr. Albert has spoken before hundreds of groups of interested listeners who after hearing him have taken a new interest in this great world's fair which is only a few months away.

Dr. Albert is a sociologist and educator, and has specialized since 1906 in Causes of City Growth and is now consultant on city programs, training camp activities, etc.

In 1914-16 he was president of the Minnesota Academy of Political Science and in 1915-16 he had the honor to be selected as president of the International Association of Rotary Clubs.

He is the author of many magazine articles including "How We Americans Live," a series of city studies.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who would like to hear Dr. Albert speak on this interesting and timely subject.

Interesting Exhibit Is Held by Packard

A precision and quality exhibit, which opened last Saturday afternoon and will be maintained throughout National Automobile show week, is now being established by the Edgewater Beach hotel by the Packard Motor Car company.

The exhibit is one of the most outstanding being prepared for show week. Included is a 1,600 horsepower Packard airplane motor designed for use in Gar Wood's Miss America X, in which the famous racer achieved a record speed of 124.91 miles per hour.

Also on exhibit are the Harmsworth, British International trophy won by Wood in 1920 and subsequently successfully defended by him annually; the Gold cup, won last summer by Horace E. Dodge in his Delphine IV; the President's cup, also won last year by Dodge, and the Collier trophy, awarded to the Packard company for its achievement in building the first Diesel aircraft engine.

One of the most interesting parts of the display is the stroborama, an instrument through the use of which an automobile piston whipping up and down 8,000 times a minute may be made to appear to the eye to be standing still.

Mosquito Abatement to Have Early Start

The fight against the mosquito nuisance in the Highland Park area will start this year as soon as the last ice melts from the streams, ponds and marshes, the officers of the Highland Park Mosquito Abatement district have announced.

By getting an early start in the mosquito abatement work, it is believed that greater results will be obtained than in the past. The fact that, after all bills are paid, and $1,900 in tax anticipation warrants are retired, the district will have $1,900 in cash, makes the early start possible. Arthur Lowry will be in charge of the work for the district again this year.

Work Is Needed for High School Girls

Whether or not a girl can remain in high school is often determined by her success in getting part-time work. The Deerfield-Shields high school personnel office, which has been receiving calls and filling positions, is particularly anxious to find work for those girls to whom this opportunity to get an education means the most.

The office can furnish girls for every sort of work, including housework, office work, and care of children. A number of girls are in need of homes and will work for board and room. Others are free afternoons or evenings, or may be hired for special occasions. The schedules of some girls permit them to work all afternoon and go to school in the mornings.

"It is hoped that the community, particularly the housewives, will continue to take advantage of this opportunity to get efficient help at a small cost, and a great benefit to the girls," is the wish of the high school personnel office.

Another trouble with the depression is that we have to do without so many necessities in order to continue buying luxuries.—Thomaston (Ga.) Times.

Deerfield C of C Elects Officers

At a meeting of the Deerfield Chamber of Commerce last Thursday evening the following officers were elected:

President, W. A. Bickford; vice-president, L. E. Lockwood; secretary, Dr. V. W. Spriggs; treasurer, Solomon Shapiro.

Directors to serve for 1933 are the four officers and E. H. Selig, J. R. Notz and R. A. Nelson. The Chamber of Commerce which has sponsored the community skating rink on the grade school grounds, had men leveling the land on Monday, and preparing it for the next freeze.

Mr. W. A. Bickford, the newly elected president gave a short address on "Deerfield Business."

GOOD NEWS FROM NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS
December broke all record ship registrations in the 30th year. While tabulations are not complete, we feel confident that the membership of the Boy Scouts of America for 1932 is the largest in the history of the organization. The following citation: "Governor of the State of New York, public servant and assistant secretary of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, New York, during whose administration the Boy Scout Foundation of New York was organized, and whose social welfare, his career, and his fellow men, through his work, have been a source of inspiration and encouragement to all who have known him. He has recognized organization an outstanding service and has contributed to the end."

THRIFTY REQUIREMENTS - EMERGENCY ACTION
After careful consideration of the national board of directors, the board of directors of the Boy Scouts of America has decided to reduce the dues of the organization to $1.00 per year. This reduction is effective from January 1, 1933. The board of directors also decided to reduce the dues of the organization to $1.00 per year. This reduction is effective from January 1, 1933.
