ENGQUIST TO SPEAK IN FORUM MARCH 6

TARIFF AND INDUSTRY

Lecture of February 27 Attended by Approximately 275 People

(From "The Shoreline") "Tariff and Industry" is to be the subject of Ernest Engquist in the third forum at the Deerfield-Shields high school auditorium on March 6. His last lecture "Inflation of the Currency" on February 27 was attended by about 275 persons.

"Inflation is the road to ruin," said Mr. Engquist. A particular class only is benefited by inflation, while the evils are many. In the first place inflation is not stable. Every period of inflation has always been followed by one of deflation. In the second place exchange rates are hurt, in other words foreign trade. The third point is one which the inflationists using as an argument for the inflation of currency—that is, the rise of prices. It is true that prices will tend to rise, but if a man's salary is raised 10 per cent, so also will his cost of living be raised 10 per cent and he will be in exactly the same position he was before.

Some people think that what the country needs is more actual money. "There is more money in circulation in our country today than there has ever been in its history," remarked Mr. Engquist in refuting this argument.

MUSICAL PROGRAM WILL BE MARCH 12

(From "The Shoreline") The orchestra department, assisted by soloists and the glee club, of the Deerfield-Shields high school will present an orchestral program for the public with no admission charge in the auditorium on March 12, at three-thirty o'clock, featuring the last two movements of Mozart's symphony in G minor to be played by the entire orchestra.

Among the other features, Mary Alan Hokanson will play a harp solo. The violin "Concerto Viotte 23rd" will be played by Virginia Parenti, Cody Pfafstiehl, Walter Simon, and Tom Brown. The Glee club will sing four numbers yet to be announced.

The public is urged to come and spend a pleasant afternoon. Tea will be served by the P.T.A. for the public in the English club room immediately after the program.
