D.A.R. Better Films Committee Review

This weeks shows present varied entertainment for Alcyon patrons with Saturday's double matinee program quite well suited for the whole family.

On Thursday and Friday "Girl Missing" with Ben Lyon and Mary Brian offers lively entertainment, but not much to stir the wit. Two chorus girls are stranded in Palm Beach...

"Men Must Fight" with Diana Wynard and Lewis Stone is Saturday's feature, and has love and war as its theme. Its acting and anti-war propaganda will attract adults, but it offers little attraction for the smaller children.

Sunday and Monday offer Kay Francis and George Brent in "Keyhole," a typical show for this pair, with New York and Havana making a glamorous affair of it.

Richard Dix in "The Great Jasper" appearing on Tuesday and Wednesday is not the best sort of vehicle for this actor. It is the story of an immortal husband and lover from youth to old age...
