Issue Water Bills Monthly In Deerfield

A special meeting of the village board of Deerfield was held Monday evening, with the mayor, Harry Clavey, and all village trustees present. The two most important discussions concerned beer and water.

It was recommended that the board reconsider the $75 tax levied by the recent beer ordinance for restaurants and ice cream parlors and change it to $25 per year also that the clause concerning length of a bar be changed. Both taverns have bars over six feet long while the ordinance states that they must not be over that length. These recommendations will be decided at the next meeting Monday evening, July 3rd.

C. S. Scribner, chairman of the water committee, reported that they were $5,000 in arrears on water collections in the village. It was decided that the village would send out monthly, instead of quarterly water bills. This will make smaller bills at time of presentation, which will be easier to collect.

The audit of the village books has been completed by Wilson and Co. at a cost of five hundred dollars. The trustees will meet with the auditors at a later date to discuss the audit.

One hour's breeze COSTS LESS THAN a cigarette

Sticky and hot . . . not a breath of air. But a fan soon stirs up a good gusty breeze. The electricity that brings you this comfort is cheap. It costs less than a third of a cent an hour to run a 10-inch fan in the average home served by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

Fans are low-priced, too. Small sizes are now less than $2.50 at Public Service Stores and other LOCAL ELECTRICAL DEALERS.

A COMPANY THIRTY YEARS OLD

Last Friday the Ford Motor Company completed 30 years of automobile making.

It is also my fortieth year at the same job. I made my first engine in 1893, and it still runs. This is the engine that won the Selden Patent Suit—which took the motor car out of the exclusive class, and opened the automobile industry to hundreds of manufacturers who started during the last 30 years.

Some of the men who began with me that June day in 1903, are working here yet. All of the principles we laid down then, are still operative; we find that they have great survival value for the future. To date they have produced and sold over 21,000,000 Ford cars.

Although we created the automobile market we have never thought it was good for anyone to monopolize it. We have always believed that before business could be good for one, it must be good for all. Our discoveries and improvements have always been open to other manufacturers without patent restrictions.

Of course, there is one thing we cannot share—everyone must get it for himself—and that is experience. Money could duplicate our buildings and machines, but it cannot duplicate 40 years of experience. And it is experience that makes a motor car.

But the past does not especially concern me; it has all been a preparation for the future. For myself, I feel that I have just been gathering the tools to do something worth while, and that my real task is still ahead.

Great changes are upon the world. False ideas of every kind are vanishing in the general upheaval. Those who built truly on principle will survive—their service will carry over. Business integrity and commodity honor will be fully justified. And newer and better ways of living will appear.

That is the outlook for this young thirty-year old Company of ours.
