At the last regular meeting of the Dumaresq Spencer Post American Legion Auxiliary, the following officers were nominated and elected by unanimous vote: President, Mrs. Mary McCarthy; first vice-president Mrs. Ernest Werner; second vice-president, Mrs. Victoria Iverson; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Greenslade; chaplain, Mrs. Jessie Norrien; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Antonio Cantonia; historian, Mrs. David Johnson. Most of these officers were re-elected for second terms. Last Monday the auditing committee of the Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Robert Greenslade to audit the books. It was found that the books were in very good order. Mrs. Greenslade served refreshments. Visitor: "Well, Joe, how do you like your little sister?" Joe: "Oh, she's all right, I guess; but there are lots of things we need worse."—Pathfinder.

Pauline Frederick In Ultra-Modern Comedy At the Court Theatre. Lovely Pauline Frederick, the most distinguished stars of the stage and screen, brings her own company to the Court Theatre for an engagement commencing Monday night, June 26. Miss Frederick will be seen in ultra-modern comedy, "Her Majesty, the Widow," by John G. Brownell, in which she has a distinct success. On the occasion of Miss Frederick's last visit to the Court Theatre she remained ten weeks in the comedy, "Scarlet Woman." "Her Majesty, the Widow," three acts, the scenes of which are laid in an aristocratic suburb of Boston, where society is distinguished and mothers devote of their time attempting to suitable mates for their only son from this prescribed circle, central figure of the play is a widow, impersonated by Frederick, who is much coveted over her only son's infatuation with a beautiful woman whom she expects to be an adventuress. The plot of the play revolves around various means adopted by the mother to confirm her only son, resulting in many incidents, during which she self brought to a realization of her own. Critical writers of every city cited by Miss Frederick upon present world tour, have been in declaring the star at her best and best in this smart and have bestowed unstinted upon the individual members supporting company. These Isabel Withers, Grayce Hall, Laurette Bullivant, Boyd Thomas Chatterton, Carlyle Jr., and Frederick A. Bell, plebe and beautiful settings a ried with the company. Matinees will be given on Monday and Saturday after during Miss Frederick's Chicago engagement, and a popular price has been announced.

Upsets Are the Vogue In Twilight League

Upsets seemed to be the vogue in the Community Twilight Indoor League last week. Two of the three games being won by the underdog teams. League-leading Bock's Service Stationers were the only favored team to chalk up a victory, winning by a 1-run margin from the News Flashes. The first upset occurred when the Swanson Plumbers eked out an 11-10 win over Schlitz Beers, scoring one run in the first of the ninth to break a tie and then holding the Beverages scoreless. Dud Onderdonk hit three times with men on base to score most of Swanson's runs. The second favorite to fall by the wayside was Duffy & Duffy Cleaners—beaten 5-4 when they found they couldn't hit the fast ball of George Klein, new D-X Service Station pitcher. Klein struck out fifteen men to give D-X its second victory of the season. The News Flashes threw a scare into Bock's Service Station squad when they had a big sixth inning
