RECIPE for a nice lazy evening on your porch:
A good smoke, your favorite magazine, and plenty of light beside your easy chair.

THE COST: Only 16 cents. (Just a penny of this total pays for the electricity that lights the reading lamp for 2 hours.)

This little recipe may be varied in a number of pleasant ways. Substitute a table of bridge, a jigsaw puzzle, a new book. But always the ingredient of good light is necessary. And always it costs remarkably little. One or two or three cents' worth of electricity will illuminate your porch or your living room for an entire evening.
