It will be of interest to local garden lovers to know that the estate of Mrs. Charles Rubens, 257 Moraine road, Highland Park, won the sweepstakes award in the private estates' class at the International Dahlia Exhibition, held Sept. 16-21 at Horticultural Hall at a Century of Progress.

The gardener, F. E. Underwood, reports that he made eleven entries of dahlias and won eight blue ribbons and two seconds.

WORTH WHILE THOUGHTS

Most of us not only grow up, but keep grown up all the rest of our lives.

We may look back and say, "Them was the days"—and live over again some of the good times of youth.

But there's no law to compel us to be grown up all the time.

Why not more often just be kids again?—Play marbles, hopscotch, as well as golf?

Why not?

To be more like kids more often— isn't that a good thing to keep us feeling young and happy?

For we all feel much as we act. Act old, feel old. Act like a colt, feel coltish—even though some may say we are acting more like a jackass.

In this business we aim to make you feel more coltish—by helping you stretch your dollars farther.

Lionel Barrymore in an Attraction at Alcyon

For the last time tonight the Alcyon Theater is presenting "Storm at Daybreak," featuring the charming Kay Francis and Nils Asther, assisted by Walter Huston and Phillip Holmes.

Zane Grey's classic of the west will be the attraction for Friday and Saturday, Sept. 22 and 23. George O'Brien and Greta Nissen are the stars in this thrilling movie.

Lionel Barrymore and Mirian Hopkins, assisted by a very able cast, are in "The Stranger's Return" to be shown on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of next week. The story is from the novel by Phil Strong.

On Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 27 and 28, Buddy Rogers and Marian Nixon are to be seen in "Best of Enemies," a picture of romance and fun, including many merry tunes.

Included with the feature attractions the Alcyon presents interesting short subjects and always the very latest news reel.

Rough Weather Gives Yacht Club Members "Spills and Thrills"

In spite of the heavy weather, members of the North Shore Yacht Club attempted to hold a race last Sunday, Sept. 17, at the foot of Central Avenue.

Two boats, the Marway and the Miss America, capsized before the race was called, and it was decided to postpone the affair. The crews of the capsized boats were quickly picked up by the sea scouts in their dory which was in readiness at all times and the two boats were towed to shore safely.

Later that afternoon a call came through the water works to rescue Henry Laurence Seine and Marjory Block after their canoe capsized off Vine avenue. A crew was quickly organized from members of the Sea Scouts and Yacht club members and in a short time the canoe and its occupants were safe on shore.

At no time were any of the sailing boats in danger as all boats were equipped with life preservers and buoyant enough to support all members of their crews. In addition the crews are able to support themselves in water long enough to be rescued in case of a mishap, but no chances are taken.

The Maray, owned and skippered by Johnny Roberts, caught a sudden gust of wind and tipped over, while the Miss America, owned and skippered by Bill Walker, took water over her sides until full. Neither of these accidents are considered as dangerous under the circumstances.

The crew of the Marway consists Johnny Roberts, Jack Croke, and Bob Laird. While Bob Croke sailed with Bill Walker and Knute Arboe, owners of the Miss America.

Those rowing in the rescue dory were Bob Rasmussen, Bob Carter, Joe Riddle and Scotty Grant of the North Shore Yacht Club, and Denton and Kerwin Smith, Herb Fritsch Stewart Croke, Lyle Gourley and his son Robin, John Engles, Lee Gatewood, Jake Jeppesen, Dave Jenkins, Bud Fritsch, George Greene and others of the Sea Scouts and spectators.

The Tyke tore loose a shroud and the Typhoon ripped out a mast step. The Betty and Patches didn't go out. The breeze was rated as a "number seven" and is classed as a gale coming from the northwest.

N. S. Garden Club Holds Final Meeting

The North Shore Garden Club held the final meeting of the year Tuesday at the Northmoor Country Club. A very entertaining feature of the afternoon was the presentation of "A Bunch of Posies," which was a pantomime on "Wings of a Century," portraying events in the history of the North Shore Garden Club. Flower shows from the year 1929 to 1933, and for the future were portrayed. This was one of the most entertaining events in the history of the club.

The Hospital Campaign

Nearly 400 Highland Park, Ravinia, Highwood and Deerfield residents have been invited to take part in the Highland Park Hospital Service Certificate Campaign, which will start Sept. 25. The goal of this year's campaign will be the sale of $10,000 in hospital certificates in the four local communities. The funds raised from the sale of the certificates will be used for the upkeep of the hospital. The continued operation of the institution is a matter of vital interest and concern to every resident.

These 400 men and women, and as many others as will volunteer to work in this campaign, will attend a dinner at Exmoor Country Club on next Monday evening, Sept. 25, at 6:30. The purpose of the meeting will be to complete the organization for the drive.

803 ENROLLED IN DISTRICT NO. 107

510 Are at Elm Place School; 293 at Green Bay Road School Now

The opening days of school shows a total enrollment of 803 pupils in hundred and ten of these are at the schools of District No. 107. 510 of these are at Elm Place School, and 293 at Green Bay Road. The total enrollment is eleven more than that of one year ago.

Ten rooms are occupied at Green Road School the teachers' room on enrollment of a little over 29, and 18 rooms at Elm Place School with an average enrollment of a little over 28 per room. At Green Bay Road School the teachers' room on the second floor and two rooms on the first floor that were fitted out as workrooms are being occupied as classrooms, and two groups of children that ordinarily attend the Elm Place School have been transferred to the Green Bay Road School. This has occasioned some inconvenience but this has on the whole been cheerfully met by the parents of the children concerned.

Miss E. Claire Kennedy, who teaches English in grades five and six, was severely injured in an automobile accident on Labor Day while on her way by auto to New York City to take a train for Highland Park. The machine in which she and her brother-in-law were driving was sideswiped by a heavily loaded truck. Neither Miss Kennedy nor her brother-in-law were aware of their danger and learned of it the first time when they recovered consciousness several hours later in a hospital in Middletown, Conn. The last report from Miss Kennedy was that she would need to remain in the hospital for two months and her return to her place at Highland Park is somewhat indefinitely postponed. After the opening day of school Miss Eleanor Parson was obliged to spend seven days in the hospital because of a severe infection. She is now on duty again as usual.

Carl Sanderoff, one of our former pupils, now a high school boy in Washington, D.C., called in on Monday long enough to report the pleasure he takes in his new and historic surroundings.

High School Girls and Graduates Desire Work

The personnel office of the Deerfield-Shields High School has on file the names of many girls who desire part-time employment. There are girls for housework, cooking, care of children, typing, clerking, tutoring, supervising play groups, or any other type of work.

Some girls are in need of homes, and are willing to work for board and room and a little spending money.

The office also has a file of last year's graduates who will be available for full-time work, and will recommend girls for such work to housewives or business firms in the community.

Otho H. Morgan Home A Local "Landmark," Demolished Recently

Workmen this week completed the demolition of one of Highland Park's fine old residences—the old Otho H. Morgan home, on North Sheridan Road, across the street west from the Elm Place School Auditorium.

Although only a little more than 40 years old—the residence was built a few years before the World's Columbian Exposition in 1893—the building has been classed as a "landmark" in Highland Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho H. Morgan were residents of Highland Park for years before the residence was built. It was their second home, the first, also built on the same spot, having been destroyed by fire. Mr. Morgan was the owner of a large varnish business in Chicago, which he sold to the DuPonts a few years before his death.

Sunset Valley Golf Club Is Treated To Antics of Foursomes

Strangers at the Sunset Valley Golf course last Sunday afternoon might have left with some slight doubt as to the sanity of certain of the club's male members. The reasons for their doubt would be the antics of four foursomes of the younger masculine divot choppers who decided the club was getting a bit too dead and forthwith injected a bit of life to the local links.

The sixteen golfers who took part in the festivities appeared at the course Sunday afternoon attired in various specimens of feminine garb and proceeded to take the club by storm. Things were fairly peaceful until the masquerading niblick-wielders reached the third hole. At this point a short battle took place with the majority of the boys ending in the tepid waters of the golf pool. Another near-riot began at the 8th hole when the foursomes indulged in a lively mud fight.

The jubilee was simply a move on the part of some of the younger male golfers to liven up the club a bit. Some doubt is to be had as to whether the players or spectators received the most enjoyment from the afternoon's carnival.

In the serious play in the morning, Snyder started his march to a second successive berth in the Class A monthly tournaments by eliminating Al Marks, 1 up. Boylan and Abbott were other Class A winners. Fireman Joe trimming Hoffstetter 4 and 3, while Shrimp Abbott was finishing Jim Harting. T. Marks won a pair of matches in Class B, swamping Hoest with a lopsided 7 and 6 count and continuing with a victory over Fred Fell by a 3 and 2 margin.

Infant Welfare Plans "Potpourri" Oct. 28

The Highland Park-Ravinia group of Infant Welfare believes it is time to stir up a little excitement and gives out this date to remember: October 28. The sun tells you that autumn is here by crossing the autumnal equinox. The Infant Welfare will tell you something more—that it is high time to snap out of these miserable doldrums into which we have sunk by crossing over into a gayier and happier era. Don't forget that.

"Pot pourri—a confused or heterogeneous mixture of medley; hotch-potch." So many unique ideas have already been conceived to furnish entertainment and give you a good time, and the committee's enthusiasm is running so high that it begins to look doubtful how long they can keep their secrets secure.

In any event, the first thing to remember is the date, Oct. 28, and then to register, the Moraine Hotel as the place in which this exposition will take place.—Contributed.

Highland Park Band To Give Concert Saturday

The Highland Park Band will give a public concert Saturday evening of this week at the park north of Central Avenue between the railroads. The concert will begin at 7 o'clock.

The band, numbering about 30 pieces, will be led by Harry E. Bolle. The public is invited to hear its program, which will last about an hour.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL IS PLAN FOR DEERFIELD

Half - Million - Dollar Project Awaiting Decision of Village Board

One of the largest real estate and building transactions projected on the North Shore in years is planned by the Alexian Brothers, of Chicago, a Roman Catholic organization, writes Al Chase in last Sunday's Chicago Tribune.

With Deerfield as the site, it involves the erection of an imposing first unit of a contemplated group of educational buildings on an elaborately-landscaped 84-acre tract, representing a total investment in land and buildings of close to a half million dollars.

The Alexian Brothers have entered into a contract to purchase this site, provided the property is re-zoned to permit the utilization of the land as the buyers require. The tract, in the northeast section of Deerfield, is east of and adjoining Wankegan Road.

An unusual angle to the contemplated project is the announcement by Brother Gerard, provincial and chief administrative officer of the Alexian Brothers, that although by Illinois law educational and religious institutions of this character are exempt from taxation, both taxes and special assessments will be paid by this organization.

In a recent letter to the Deerfield village board the Rev. Gerard said: "If we do acquire this land we have no intention of seeking to have it exempted from taxation at the present time. We would not ask for such an exemption unless we could give the village conclusive proof (Continued on page 4)

END OF DAYLIGHT SAVING

Chicago and the suburban area will return to Central Standard Time at midnight next Saturday, Sept. 24.

The plan for continuing Daylight Saving Time until the first Sunday in November, made at the suggestion of A Century of Progress Exposition, will not be adopted.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago said, in announcing the return to standard time this weekend, "Additional daylight saving after this month would benefit no one except the World's Fair and, if the fair no longer wished it, we will avoid the confusion and inconvenience it would cause school children, banks and others."

All time schedules in this community—trains, schools, and meetings of all kinds—will be announced for Central Standard Time after midnight Saturday.
