

CONTEMPLATED NORTH SHORE PROJECT

Above is a tentative sketch of the first unit of a group of educational buildings contemplated for Deerfield by the Alexian Brothers, a Roman Catholic order. A contract has been entered into for the purchase of an eighty-four acre site, contingent on it being rezoned. The above structure is of Romanesque design, with Wisconsin Lannon stone and brick walls, red tile roof, and leaded glass windows. It is stated that the entire project will represent an investment of more than $450,000, in land and buildings.

Former Resident In Town To Visit Sisters and See World's Fair

Fred Kuist of Gilman, Wis., arrived in Highland Park Saturday to visit his sisters, the Misses Carrie and Louise Kuist, of North Second Street, and incidentally to visit the World's Fair.

Mr. Kuist who is seventy-six years old, came by way of the Soo Line, and as the train did not come through Highland Park, and knowing that the nearest point was Wheeling, he decided to get off and take a bus to Highland Park. When he arrived there he discovered that there was no bus line, so he decided to make the trip on foot. No one offered him a ride until he was in Highland Park.

Coincident with his walk to Highland Park is the fact that just sixty-eight years ago, on that same day, his parents and brothers and sisters came to this city from Chicago on one of the wood-burning trains. When they arrived here they waited under a tree (as there was no station) until their father had walked to Deerfield to get a horse and buggy from some friends with whom they were to stay until they established their home here.

Mr. Kuist says he enjoyed the hike immensely and wasn't a bit tired.

How wonderful it is to think that a man that age could accomplish this task and yet consider it "a mere trifle." How many of today's school children will even think of walking a few blocks to school. It is quite certain that Mr. Kuist will enjoy the World's Fair and not complain of "World's Fair Feet."

Royal Neighbors to Meet Sept. 27

The meeting of the Royal Neighbors of Highland Park, held last Wednesday, Sept. 13, was not very largely attended, owing to inclement weather. Those who were there, however, enjoyed the usual lodge meeting, followed by special drill in the works which are to be put on at the convention to be held in Waukegan on October 26. There will be another meeting on September 27, at 8 o'clock, at the Masonic Temple, and it is again urged that all officers be present for the practice. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Braeside P. T. A. To Meet Next Monday

The Braeside Parent Teachers Civic Association will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday, September 25th, at 8 p.m. at the school-house. The program will be presented by two members of the faculty. Mr. Copp will tell of his physical training work with the children. Miss Hudson will talk about interesting aspects of her work in music, stressing the creative side, and presenting some of the pupils' achievements in creative music.

The program will be followed by a social hour.

The Braeside P.T.A. is glad to welcome into its group anyone who is interested in either the school or civic phases of its work.

BOWLING LEAGUES ORGANIZING AT LOCAL ALLEYS

Plans are now under way for the organizing of the Business Men's Bowling League to be held weekly at the Majestic alleys. A great deal of enthusiasm is being shown this season in league bowling, especially among the women bowlers. The Majestic alleys will offer prizes for high scores both to men and women bowlers. The Majestic alleys have been remodeled and redecorated and are already attracting a great many of last year's fans. Several different women's leagues are being organized and all interested women are invited to participate. Mr. A. Lencioni, manager of the Majestic alleys, will gladly assist any group of bowlers in organizing a league.

Y.W.C.A. Group Has a Part In the Fashion Revue At World's Fair

The most important events in the lives of Highland Park's ancestors of the 1893 World's Fair were brought to life in the local Y.W.C.A.'s representation at the Fashion Revue held at the Enchanted Island Theatre at the Fair on Sunday at 4:30, under the direction of Catherine Marie Geary.

The girls who participated were: Maybelle Hawkins, fall street dress; Sarah Jane Murfey, summer tea gown; Frances Buhl, summer formal; Marjorie McDonald, garden party creation; Anna Schaeffer, a summer afternoon frock; Rose Carol Pfanstiel, summer wrapper; Laverne Meinhard, nuptial gown; Barbara Steele, party dress; Hazel Weaver, winter street costume; and Mary Margaret Roberts, ball gown.

All the girls seemed to imbibe the 1893 atmosphere and carried off their end of the Revue with charm and dignity. Maybelle Hawkins was called forth several times to promenade the quaint costume of her maternal great-grandmother. The important events of Mrs. Daniel Cobb's life were well represented as most of the costumes were graciously loaned by her.

She plans a perfect picnic and she's equally good at tightening a fan belt

"I know a lot of women," we can hear you say, "that know how to take the family out on a picnic, but I certainly don't know many that know either when or how to tighten a fan belt."

May we humbly state, madam, that you're wrong? That thousands of women do know how? And that they're not freaks gone mechanical, but competent housewives who've found the address of the nearest Standard Station? They just drive the car in and Cheerful Stan does the rest. He tightens the fan belt, changes the oil, lubricates the chassis, does whatever else needs doing.

May we also point out that women who bring cars into Standard Stations for service like it better than having their husbands take the car downtown for the job, thus leaving them without transportation during the day?

The next time the man of the house says, "You won't be able to go anywhere tomorrow because I'm taking the car down to have it greased," why don't you take the job off his hands? With Cheerful Stan's help you can do it quite as well as he can.
