YOUNG MEN'S CLUB FOOTBALLERS READY

Receipts from Home Games to Go to Highland Park Hospital Fund

(By M. Warner Turriff)

Coach Arnold Horween, former Harvard gridiron mentor, has begun to round his Highland Park Young Men's Club team, champions of the North Shore, into condition for their first game with Peter Fox Boosters, 1932 champions of the Mid-west, Sunday, Oct. 1, at the Deerfield-Shields athletic field.

The Peter Fox Boosters, formerly known as the Logan Square Boosters, are coached by "Dutch" Sternman, former star of the Chicago Bears. The team has a large squad of 30 players with an average weight of 175 pounds.

Coach Arnold Horween had about thirty players answer the first call for practice last Wednesday evening at Sunset playing field where they worked out under a lighted field. Coach Horween, assisted by Fred Gilles and Stan Bodman as line coaches, put the squad through a strenuous workout that found many of the men pretty well worn out as a result of a summer's layoff.

To Play for Hospital Fund

The games this year will be played for charity, the money going to the Highland Park Hospital fund. All scheduled games will be played on Sunday afternoons during the months of October and November. Admission price this year is a lot lower than it was last season—tickets can be purchased for a nominal charge for all games. Their reason for this move was so that they might have the use of the high school athletic field which is one of the best football fields in the country.

The staff of the Young Men's Club consists of the same officials they had last season. The coaches as we mentioned before are Arnold Horween, Fred Gilles, and Stan Bodman. L. O. Wilson will see to it that the right officials are selected. Dr. S. R. Banfield, prominent young physician, will take care of the injured and ailing. George Emmett is booking manager and Howard Huber, business manager. Harry Eichler is in charge of publicity and George Bock does the advertising.

The interest in the Young Men's Club has been greater this year than in previous years. People have been inquiring for weeks, wondering when this great local organization would get started so that they might either watch them practice or witness a game.

Rentner May Play

It was rumored a short while ago that this popular team would have the services of Ernest "Pug" Rentner, All-American half back and captain of the 1932 Northwestern University eleven. Rentner attended several of last year's games and seemed very much interested in joining the team this year. If Rentner does join the club it will mean that they will have an unbeatable backfield combination and a whiz of an aerial attack.

The line will have few weak

Playing for Onwentasia-North Shore will be Dick Simmons, Herb Lorber, Capt. C. E. Davis, and Maj. C. C. Smith.

Playing for Fort Sheridan will be Capt. Max Corpening, Capt. C. A. Wilkinson, Capt. P. P. Rodes, and Lt. L. G. Smith.

WORTH WHILE THOUGHTS

It's all right to belong to one party and to be against the candidate of the opposing party—before election.

But after election, we support the man who won, even if our own man lost.

A nation goes good when all the people pull together with confidence in the government.

If this is not done after any election, local or national, our progress in prosperity is slowed up.

It's funny, isn't it, how we are inclined to think that things done by a public servant are wrong just because we didn't vote for him. Because he won—that makes what he does all wrong.

Regardless of your politics or the color of your hair, we're here in business to make it profitable for you to trade with us.

Hospital Certificate Drive For $10,000 Started This Week

The Highland Park Hospital Certificate Drive for $10,000 started here this week. Typical of the support being given this campaign, is the following expression of Samuel M. Hastings, one of Highland Park's most prominent citizens.

"It was in July 1918, that we dedicated the hospital. It was a day long to be remembered by the multitude that gathered in the yard for the purpose of dedication and the securing of the money required to dedicate it clear of debt.

"This history of the hospital in Highland Park is exceedingly interesting. From the very moment that Mr. Charles T. Boynton, Mr. Richard Dean, Mr. Ed. V. Price, Mr. Walter Baldwin, and the writer started out on the campaign to bring about this institution, which has proven to be a great blessing to Highland Park, its success was assured.

"Under the leadership of Mr. Baldwin as its president and later under Mr. Sellar Bullard, the hospital has made a record of which every citizen in Highland Park is proud. The responsibility for the continuance of this service is now in the hands of the younger men and women, and as I look back over the record that has been made and the work that is necessary to do each year, I never have any fear of results.

"I know the same high standard will continue; the same policy of helpfulness will be given and the hospital which enters so much into our own lives and gives us a feeling of security and safety for the sick and injured, will not be allowed to fall by the wayside for the matter of funds to keep up this splendid work.

"I know of no meeting of any kind or character held in Highland Park that I regret being absent from so much as I do this meeting that you are holding tonight.

"We have been fortunate in having a keen interest taken by the Ladies Auxiliary, the splendid corps of nurses, able superintendents, and a medical staff unequalled in the actual and practical work of the hospital."

3 Reserve Officers Hurt When Their Car Is Hit by Train Here

Three army reserve officers, all stationed at Fort Sheridan, received minor injuries early Saturday morning when their small car was struck with terrific force by a northbound train on the North Shore Line just south of the Morain Road station in Highland Park.

The three were Herbert Stoll, M. Mitchell, and S. W. Comstock. They were driving west on Orchard Lane, a street that comes to a dead end about 200 feet from the railroad right of way. They had driven their car past the end of the street, and evidently were preparing to turn around, when the machine rolled down an embankment and stopped on the car tracks, where the crash occurred a moment later.

On the way to the scene of the accident, Officers Patten and Sullivan of the Highland Park police department were injured when their car blew a tire and crashed into a telephone pole. They are recovering.

Two Holdup Men Are Captured Here by 2 Officers After Chase

After a mile and a half chase along Sheridan Road through the residence district of Highland Park, two young holdup men were captured by Policemen Dennis Driscoll and Clyde Schoonover last Friday night after they had held up a Western Union telegraph station on South St. Johns Avenue and escaped with $51 in cash.

The hold-up occurred just after 9 o'clock when the two men locked up Elizabeth Talbot and Jacob Jepsen, employes of the station in a closet, and then rifled the cash drawer.

Police were notified within a few minutes, and descriptions of the two men and their car were given. Officers Driscoll and Schoonover picked up the trail on Sheridan Rd. and gave chase in a police squad car. The two men gave their names as Harlan J. Erickson and Homer Middleton. They have been held in the local jail without bail, pending investigation.

BONDHOLDERS GROUP ABOUT READY TO ACT

Special Assessment Protective Committee Has Line of Legal Procedure

A meeting of the members of the Highland Park Bondholders' Protective Committee was held this week to review the situation as it now exists. Principal and interest was due on all Highland Park special assessment bonds on Sept. 15, and according to the list sent out by this committee, no special assessment bond in the city is being paid in full for the current year.

Members of the committee at this meeting reiterated their stand that they were not planning on taking action to dispossess any property owner who obviously could not pay his special assessments, but the committee continues to feel that many people are taking advantage of present conditions and refusing to pay special assessments. They draw a comparison between the percentage of direct taxes which are being collected and the percentage of special assessments which are being collected, which is proof of the claim that people are not paying special assessments because they are not being forced to.

A line of legal procedure was outlined to the committee at this meeting by its counsel, and plans have been made to institute proceedings just as soon as the required percentage of bonds have been deposited with the Highland Park State Bank, which institution is acting as depository for the committee. Although the committee seems gratified at the amount deposited already, they still have not obtained the 75 per cent which they state is necessary to proceed. They are therefore urging everyone to deposit bonds immediately, and state that details of the plan, including a copy of the bondholders' agreement, can be obtained from the secretary, Benjamin F. Lewis, 39th floor, 105 W. Adams Street, Chicago.

If information is desired by anyone, they can obtain it by applying to Harold Florsheim of this city, who is chairman of the committee, or from any other member of the committee. This also applies to property owners who are affected by any of the defaulting special assessments, as one function of this committee, Mr. Florsheim has stated, is to get the property owner, the bondholder and the city officials together to discuss the situation.

Yacht Club's Second Handicap Is Won by "Patches" on Sunday

Driven by a light but steady east-southeast breeze, the competitors of last Sunday's North Shore Yacht Club Handicap Race staged an interesting but uneventful event. The race consisted of four laps sailed around a triangular course.

The first two legs of the course, being close reaches and the third leg a dead run, gave the skippers a good opportunity to test the racing qualities of their respective boats. A bumpy chop prevented the light yachts from aking such a good showing against the wind, but nothing could stop the skippers from breaking out all sorts and shapes of spinners, some of which were amazing, on the run before the wind.

Of the boats competing, the "Lee Ellen," alias "Sand Hog," sailed by the Fritch brothers; "Betty," raced by George Greene; and a canoe skippered by Lyle Gourley, head of the local Sea Scout unit, dropped out of the race before completing their four laps.

Of the remaining boats, "Patches," defending her rating as scratch boat, crossed the finish line twenty-eight minutes ahead of "Scotty" Grant's "Tyke," which was sailed by Joe Riddle. Bob Carter in his "Atom" came in third, leaving the position of "pickle boat" to be filled by "Miss America," owned and sailed by the Arboe-Walker syndicate.

The results of the race based on corrected times are as follows:
Patches, Dave Greene 0:52:00
Tyke, Joe Riddle 1:10:54
Miss America, Arboe-Walker 1:15:48
Atom, Bob Carter 1:19:12

An attempt was made Sunday to calculate the length of the race by means of a pelorus, using a 290 foot base line established on the east side of the water works. The race calculated in this manner proved to be about three miles.

While the last boat was finishing the race and coming to shore, a storm which gave promise of anything up to a hurricane, swept down out of the northwest passing out over Lake Michigan to the north of Highland Park. Sudden storms such as this one are to be expected at any time from now on, which means that last Sunday's event probably ended this year's racing season.

GRID TEAM IS BEING WHIPPED INTO SHAPE

Deerfield-Shields Will Play Libertyville Eleven Friday Afternoon

(By M. Warner Turriff)

The 1933 edition of the Deerfield-Shields football team is rapidly being whipped (and when we say "whipped" we're not joking) into shape by their new coach, John Cox, formerly one of Andy Kerr's Red Raiders from Colgate University.

Mr. Cox, from our first glimpse of him in action, is one person who has completely washed out the word "defeat" and its meaning from his vocabulary. He is set on having a winning team and from the looks of things he'll get it, or else.

The team has a fairly tough schedule ahead of them and in all probabilities each team they're scheduled to play will find as much opposition as Glenbard did in their 6-0 victory over the Blue and White several weeks ago. They play Libertyville Friday afternoon and open their suburban league schedule at Oak Park a week later. Evanston comes to Highland Park the following week for Deerfield's first home game.

Line Little But Good

The first string line, which is about all there is, seems to be able to handle themselves fairly well. They have plenty of scrap and fight, but the problem in question is: will they be able to handle opponents whose line averages well over 200 pounds? Cox says they will and have to, so we'll wait and see. J. Cameron, Art Paulson, W. Glader

Mrs. Ewell's Exhibit of Water Colors Is Favorably Commented

"The exhibit of water colors by Hazel Crow Ewell in the Allerton gallery is arousing appreciative comment, says Eleanor Jewett in The Chicago Tribune. Mrs. Ewell is a Ravinian.

"Mrs. Ewell paints with a colorful brush and her work is decorative and fresh. Many of the water colors are still life arrangements centered about flowers and a bit of poetry. The artist's use of colors is clever and her composition is original. There is nothing stilted about the paintings, which follow each other in joyous, vibrant succession. The few Taos scenes are more somber than the flower paintings, but in 'Street of Taos' the figures in the foreground, their backs to us, are fascinating. Here again Mrs. Ewell's poetry of color makes an unforgettable effect."
