Deerfield Rejects Plan to Rezone for Catholic Hospital

The Deerfield Board of Appeals held a public hearing Friday evening in the village offices at the Masonic Temple and at the conclusion of a heated debate voted unanimously to reject the plea of several real estate concerns to change eighty-four acres from Class A to Class B zoning in order to sell the property to the Alexian Brothers for a hospital.

L. E. Ashman, chairman of the Board of Appeals, presided and his entire committee was present including Milton Frantz, C. E. Christensen, Marshall Pottenger and Frank Kottrach.

A petition with eighty-five signers opposing the proposition was presented and numerous letters, also against, were read. Their main objection was that the village would be changed from a home atmosphere to that of an institutional one, and that they were satisfied with the zoning ordinance as it stood.

A great many objectors were heard from the floor on the tax question.

Mr. Ashman called for those in favor to talk, also. Their points were that it would increase the size of the postoffice, improve transportation on the railroad, bring more people here and improve business, as well as use up some of the vacant property.

At times the discussion became tense with excitement, but the situation was capably handled by the chairman.

Summary of Question
 The Alexian Brothers of Chicago, a Catholic organization, entered into a contract to purchase 84 acres in the northwest part of the village (within the city limits) for the purpose of erecting a hospital for the training of young men to become nurses in a hospital restricted entirely to men. This was to be the first unit of a contemplated group of educational buildings on an elaborately landscaped tract, representing a total investment of close to a half million dollars.

Brother Gerard, head of the order, in a letter to the village board, at the beginning of negotiations, had stated that although the Illinois law exempted educational and religious institutions from taxation, both taxes and assessments would be paid at the present time.

Richard J. Schmidt, attorney and Dan O'Connor of the office of W. C. Regejin, brokers, represented the buyer. McGuire and Orr were brokers for the Chicago Title and Trust Co., trustee, and H. L. Magnuson, attorney, represented Charles W. Essentrot of Libertyville and William Temple of Los Angeles, owners of sixty-six of the eighty-four acres.

St. Paul's Children's Choir Organizes

The children's choir of St. Paul's Evangelical Church made its first appearance at last Sunday's service. They were robed in white surplices and sang two responses and one anthem. The choir will sing at least at one service every month. Its major task for this fall is to prepare a Christmas Cantata.

Twenty-seven members are enrolled at the present time. The sopranos are: Elaine Plagge, Emeline Walker, Gladys Ott, Louis Ott, Gertrude Anderson, Shirley Sticken, Kathrine Reeb, Lydia Reeb, LaVon Davis, Grace Herman, Lois Palmer, Ione Beckman, Jean Goodman, Frances North, Glenn Kapschull, Edward Sticken.

The altos are: Bessie Ott, Jean Krause, Doris Ott, Ruth Herman, Frederick Piepenbrok, Charles Kapschull, Donald Dewey, Donald Davis, L. J. Spelker, Charlotte Baum, Shirley Beckman.

The choir is under the direction of Mrs. F. G. Piepenbrok and Ethel Button as accompanist. Rehearsals are held every Monday, 3:45 p.m. Children of fourth grade rating and up are eligible for membership. Your child is welcome to join.

The L. L. L. Club of the Young People's department of the St. Paul's Evangelical Church, Deerfield, will sponsor its first Sunday night program, Oct. 1. These Sunday night programs will be held every first Sunday of the month, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The program is divided into four parts. First, a worship service; second, an educational period; third, a business session; fourth, a social period. The public is cordially invited to attend the first two periods, and individual participation in the discussion of the monthly topics is welcome.

"How Is Public Opinion Created?" is the topic for next Sunday night's discussion. The newspapers, the radio and the movie are some of the strongest factors in creating public opinion. They will be under fire next Sunday night.

What many people would like to know this winter is whether any Florida hotel will take a guest on margin.—New York Evening Sun.

Mrs. John Weir Speaks of India

Gandhi, in his work for the outcasts, the "Untouchables" of India, is influenced by his contacts with Christianity. Mohammedism or Hinduism does not advocate the amelioration of conditions of the lower classes. The administration of Christ's teachings is Gandhi work. Mrs. John Weir, of Lahore, India, told the women of Deerfield at a meeting Thursday, of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Deerfield Presbyterian Church, at which women from the other churches were guests.

Mrs. Weir is an unusually beautiful woman with a surpassing radiance of countenance. She appeared in an exquisite pastel pink Indian georgette native gown with a sari with bands of gold embroidery upon it, and the brocaded satin slippers of the high class woman. The material in her gown resembled a sheer pineapple tissue.

On her previous visit to Deerfield Mrs. Weir took her listeners on an imaginary visit to the homes of her pupils. Her husband, Dr. John Weir, teaches in Lahore, also.

Mrs. Weir is in a school for girls where there are 260 Mohammedan girls. There are nine colleges for men and two for women.

On this visit Mrs. Weir described the home of a missionary and the extraordinary demands made upon it by guests, refuting the charges that missionaries are maintained in luxury. She told of the teas and dinners given to the natives and the value of this type of work needed to give the natives an insight into a Christian home. All Hindus live in their ancestral homes, whereas Christians have separate ones.

She told of the compensation for the lack of conveniences in Oriental homes. Dust and the heat between March and October are greatest. Malaria prevails during the entire year but is at its worst in September. Dr. and Mrs. Weir expect to be back in Lahore this winter.

The faculty wives club was described with the Bramhan, the best type of Hindu, and Mohammedan women who make up the gatherings.

The meeting was led by Mrs. Fred Haggie. Mrs. F. P. Browning sang, and Miss Marjorie Schick, of Northbrook, played the piano.

Young People Hold Conference Sunday

The annual young people's conference for this district will be held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 8, in the Deerfield Presbyterian Church. The towns included are Waukegan, North Chicago, Libertyville, Lake Forest, Highland Park, Northbrook, Wheeling and Deerfield.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. William S. Meyer, assistant pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church in Chicago, will address the young people and friends of Presbyterian churches of this district. The address will be "The Youth—Spiritual Emphasis Movement."

Miss Peggy Osborn Is Chairman at Rockford

Miss Peggy Osborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Osborn, 1835 Kincaid street, acted as chairman of one of the important committees for the Rockford College Open House, the first social event of the year given at the college Saturday evening, Sept. 23, in honor of the freshman class. Miss Osborn was chairman of decoration in the college quadrangle, where refreshments were served during the evening.

Invitations were extended to more than 500 young men who are attending nearby colleges and universities or who live in neighboring towns. The entire college was thrown open to the students and their guests, for dancing, bridge, and supper. Upperclassmen students, including Miss Osborn and Miss Virginia Grant, who is also attending Rockford, acted as hostesses for the evening.

Miss Osborn and Miss Grant are both graduates of Deerfield-Shields High School. Miss Osborn is a senior at Rockford this year.
