PROPER lighting is this simple. You must have enough illumination on your paper or magazine to keep your eyes from straining, from getting tired. The only trouble is that your eyes do not give warning in advance. They get tired before you know it. The best way to know is to have a lighting survey made in your home, by an expert. Then you'll know for sure whether your light is right.

It is especially important that school children have enough light when they read or study. In the formative years, straining and tiring the eyes can permanently affect eyesight. For their protection as well as your own, ask for a lighting check-up of your home.

Lighting advice FREE for the asking

This service is absolutely free. Just write or telephone and we will send an expert who will make a complete survey of your home. He'll bring a little "sight-meter" and test the illumination in every reading or sewing location in your home. He may suggest a change in the size of lamp bulb. He may recommend a rearrangement of your lamps. Or your shades. They may be the wrong type or improperly placed.

Better light, better sight

You cherish your eyesight. It's the most precious thing you have. Then why tire it with wrong lighting methods? Let our expert advise you. Phone today.
