Caxy Carnival, Dance At Academy Will Be A Lumberjack Affair

A real lumberjack log rolling contest, with the contestants attired in checkered shirts, corduroy pants and hob-nail boots, and trying to balance themselves on genuine logs, will be a high light in the entertainment at the "Caxy" carnival and dance to be held next Saturday evening by students of Lake Forest Academy in the school gymnasium.

Andrew Robori, Jr., of Chicago, as general chairman, has arranged for a complete layout of old-fashioned side shows. The boys' guests will have their fortunes told, throw balls at the "nigger babies" sip red lemonade, and enjoy themselves in old-fashioned street fair manner.

Groups of parents of present students residing in Lake Forest and Highland Park, as well as numbers of the school's alumni, are planning to drop in at the gymnasium Saturday night for a look at the fun.

"Forest Army" Men Sent to California

About 2,100 members of the Civilian Conservation Corps from Illinois, who have undergone a period of conditioning at Fort Sheridan recently, left Sunday, Monday and Tuesday for C. C. C. camps in southern California.

The first contingent left Fort Sheridan Monday. It consisted of three trains carrying 400 men each. Others left the two following days. The 2,100 are being transported to San Bernardino, San Diego, Glendale and other points in the March Field area of the C. C. C.

Within the next few weeks, a total of 4,300 Illinois members of the "reformation army" will have been sent to California.

Col. Joseph Green Is Transferred to Texas

Col. Joseph Green, acting commandant of Fort Sheridan while Brig.-Gen. F. C. Bolles is acting commandant of the Sixth Corps Area, is to be transferred to the headquarters staff of the Eighth Corps Area at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Col. Green has been at Fort Sheridan since 1931, in command of the 61st Coast Artillery, an anti-aircraft unit. He will be succeeded as acting commandant when he leaves the post this week, by Maj. Harry V. Chamberlain. Gen. Bolles has been in command of the Sixth Corps Area since the departure of Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, who has been assigned to the Philippine Department of the United States Army.

Justice is as strictly due between neighbor nations as between neighbor citizens. A highwayman is as much a robber when he plunders in a gang, as when single; and a nation that makes an unjust war is only a great gang.—Franklin.

RED CROSS COURSE IN TWELVE LESSONS Monday night, Nov. 6, is the night scheduled for the opening of a special course in Red Cross First Aid. The course will run for six consecutive Monday nights before Christmas, and for six Monday nights after Christmas, the second half of the course begins on Jan. 15. George Schone, director of Community Service, Inc., of Highland Park, and also a special examiner in the American Red Cross will be in charge of this course, and will gather some of the best first aid men in this section to assist him as instructors. First aid is a required specialization course in the five year training program, leading to the award of the scoutmaster's key.

CAMP REUNION TO BE HELD IN HIGHLAND PARK NOV. Last Saturday concluded, Paul Bunyan week in the North Shore Council and one of the best weeks in scouting activity to date. Practically every troop in the area was visited by a group of members of the Order of the Arrow, dressed in true lumber-jack fashion, carrying axes and saws and other logging tools. This group had been sent to the scouts about "Old Paul Bunyan" to help them in their work. This year's camp reunion to be held in Highland Park Community House on Friday, Nov. 3. Scouts were busy this morning on their way to the reunion. The Community House will hold one of the largest gatherings of scouts this year.

NORTH SHORE AREA WINS RED CROSS BANNER The North Shore Area Council has been singled out by the American Red Cross as one of the few councils to receive a Red Cross banner for the excellent work done in swimming and waterfront work during the summer camp season. Last year during these banners were awarded by the Red Cross. The award is based on equipment which includes life saving gear, boats and the swimming area itself; and program in life saving, swimming instruction given to Scouts, and life guard work. The council is very proud of this award, because it means that the hazard attached to the summer swimming program at Camp Ma-Ka-Jo has been almost entirely eliminated. Parents who send their boys to camp in the summer may feel sure that they will receive the best of care and instruction in their waterfront work.

SCOUTS TO SEE NATIONAL CAPITOL The duration of the trip is from Friday, Dec. 1st, to Monday, Dec. 4th, and will include visits to the Capitol, White House, United States Treasury, Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, Smithsonian Institute, Arlington National Cemetery, Congressional Library and Mount Vernon. Not only will the scouts be anxious to take this trip, but their parents will also be interested and will be glad that their sons will have an opportunity at the low cost every afternoon for such a trip. Any parent or any scout interested in invited to get more detailed information by phoning or writing council headquarters.

GEORGE BERSCH WRITES TO SCOUTS AGAIN Dear Scouts: You may not believe me, but about two o'clock this afternoon Old Man Winter came in for a little visit and there's no telling how long he is going to stay. He sent a load of snow that by 5:30 was about 6 inches deep. Right now it's about 6 o'clock and the snow is still coming - lots of it. If it keeps up we'll have over a foot of snow and lots of it by Oct. 23. What does that make you think of?

I haven't seen Paul Bunyan for a few days, but I wouldn't be one little bit surprised if the old boy had quite a bit to do with getting this snow as early as this. You know he's awfully anxious to see a bunch of the fellows during Christmas vacation and I think he arranged to see them so that you scouts would be sure of having plenty when Winter really comes. Right now Paul is working up in Forest County about twenty miles from here and without any magnification, when the snow started to fall, I was sure he was here. He was white hot, but found out later that it was only Paul shouting his delight at the heavy snow fall. It might be explained that ever since infancy he has been a snow lover. But with all kidding aside, I don't think I ever saw the camp look quite as beautiful as it did today, and I've been up here in the winter on several different trips too. Everything was covered, and the evergreens took the prize. And you should see the water front. With the piers and diving raft covered with snow almost a half foot deep. It looks like anything but the "old swimming hole" that we all know so well as the most popular place at camp (outside the mess hall) or excuse me "The Main Lodge."

And as more proof that we're having ideal winter camp "preparation weather" breaking the ice on our washing water is fast becoming a daily habit or rather necessity, and this morning for the first time this fall there was ice on the lake. And where the lake is shallowest and calmest (up at the north end) the entire bay was covered with thin ice. Paddling a canoe to work and breaking the ice on the way and then returning in the evening with the canoe covered with snow till it looked like it was made of cotton wool, somewhat of a new experience for me. Win Long just put his head out and says that the tracks that we made when we came in just a little while ago are entirely covered up. Now you know it's snowing. "I can't see this up very much longer 'cause I've got to hike over to Peasbey before the store closes so I can get this in the mail. Incidentally we need a few groceries. When most of you will be reading this you will be making up your minds as to whether or not you will go to the Camp Reunion. Decide right now to go, because the information I got is correct. It's Bunyan says he just wishes he could be there but business has been picking up and however, that is able to make it. He told me five years training program, leading to the award of the scoutmaster's key. Will go long, fellows, and have a great time at the reunion, and just for my sake, sing a verse or two of "Lena."—Scoutingly, George Bersch.

Girl Scout News

WHO ARE THE GIRL SCOUTS? Girl scouting is a game for girls and leaders to play together. It is a game that can last and will last from the time girls are children until they are grown up. It is a game that teaches co-operation, good citizenship, citizenship - yes, all living! A girl scout is a happy girl who is glad to share her life with other girls. She is practical and she is getting good preparation as a homemaker. Some of the training she may get in her home, much she will get with the other girls in her troop. It is such fun to sew, to cook, to tidy up and dust with a group of jolly companions! She may wish to learn more about the proper care of her baby brother or sister, if so she may work for the child nurse badge. Then again, she may like to care for older folks and wish to learn about the proper way to do home nursing.

You ask, "What about the girl who does not enjoy the out-of-doors or the homemaker?" Girl scouting offers this girl a way of life. She may enjoy dramatics, or art. Girl scouting is a way of living! It teaches through play all the things a girl will need to make her life complete and happy. It gives friendship and hobbies along with its work-play. The troop leaders are trained adults who have not forgotten how to be living!

Girl scout week is one of fun and anticipation for every girl scout. Special activities are being planned for this week, Oct. 29 to Nov. 4, is National Girl Scout Week. NEW TRIER LEADERS HOLD OCTOBER MEETING The New Trier leaders association held its October meeting Wednesday, Oct. 25. Leaders from the three villages were present. The meeting started at 10 o'clock with Mrs. E. Clark of Winnetka giving instruction in map making as she had learned it at the convention training. She also taught some new games and songs. Later the group divided up by villages to discuss the village problems and program, and to plan village training. At one of the group had luncheon. Each leader had brought her own luncheon but coffee was served by the Winnetka leaders. Some of the council members came in at this time to meet the new leaders and to help the others. After luncheon all delegates to the convention made reports on the different phases of scouting that they had taken during the meetings in Milwaukee.

The leaders association meets monthly for training and new ideas for the girl scout meetings. It is for any adults who are interested in the girl scout program. ATTENTION, SECOND CLASS Now that we are having our fine autumn weather and are spending so many pleasant hours out of doors both at our troop meetings and because it is too nice to stay in, it is really a fine opportunity to get some of our splendid nature badges. If you start now you can get the outdoor work done and finish in your meetings as the days become dreary. Have you ever thought of trying the work of the tree finder? It is such fun! I have been working at it this summer and have learned so many interesting things. Here are the requirements: 1.—Know the different parts of a tree. 2.—Know 25 trees and shrubs when in leaf. 3.—Know at least 10 of these by bud, leaf and bark. 4.—Tell something of the life history and life processes of trees. 5.—Be able to read the age of the tree that has been felled by a saw by the rings of growth on the trunk or stump; and recent growth by the rings on the twigs. 6.—Plant at least one seedling tree you have sprouted from seed. 7.—Know how trees should be pruned or trimmed, and how the exposed surfaces should be treated to prevent decay. 8.—Describe how trees may be protected from fire and from common insects and fungus diseases. 9.—Make a list of woods and their uses. 10.—State the best trees to plant along streets, in small gardens and about a school.

For help and information you will find it all in the new girl scout handbook or at the library. If the trees will stand perfectly still and wait for you to do all your investigating. They do not flap their wings and fly away just as you begin to get acquainted, as do the birds.

HIGHLAND PARK PUBLIC LIBRARY HIGHLAND PARK ILLINOIS

Book Talks Two more of the book talks sponsored by the Highland Park public library remain. On next Monday evening the reviews will center about international subjects. Dr. N. S. Mayor of Highland Park, who spent several years in Cuba as vice director of the Cuban Agricultural Experiment Station, and as chief of the department of animal husbandry, will talk on the Cuban situation in relation to some of the recent books on the subject. Mr. H. A. Sellery, Jr., of the Northwestern Law School, will review The Coming Struggle for Power, by John Strachey and Cry Havoc, by Beverley Nichols.

The Chinese and Manchurian Problem will be discussed by Mr. M. F. Gallagher, a member of the library board. Mr. Gallagher has just returned from a summer in China and will mention some of the authoritative books on this question. The last of the book talks, on Monday evening, Nov. 13, will be given over to that group of new fall books which grows in interest and importance each year; namely, the new books for boys and girls. These are always awaited with great enthusiasm by the library staff, and this year it is our great good fortune that Miss Jessie Gay Van Cleave, the specialist in children's literature from the American Library Association, will devote the evening to these new books, their authors and artists. No small share of the interest in this group centers about the artists of these books for children.
