THIRTEEN GIRLS SEND COVER DESIGNS, SONGS TO GIRLS CONFERENCE

Many students of the art and music department have submitted designs for the program cover and songs for the Girls' club conference to be held at Deerfield-Shield, April 14, 1934.

Those submitting cover designs are Eleanor McDermott, Helen Comer, Ada Vinyard, June Schwarz, Irene Juhrend, Catherine Schor, Sarah Paris, Inez Tamarr, and Eleanor Bruggman.
Those submitting songs with words are Lois Brandfeller, Jean Pettis, and David Stryker.
The songs and designs have been sent to Evanston where they will be entered in a contest against twenty-two other high schools in the district.

For the past three years our school has won the cover design contest. Ruth Anderson was the winner last year.

SUPERSTITIOUS FRESHMAN CARRIES CHARMS TO EXAM
"Were you lucky with your semester exams?"

If not, you should have followed the example of Lizette Anderson, a freshman from Miss Rodenbeck's session. Lizette came to school on Thursday with a collection of wish-bones tied around her waist. After her friends had made their remarks, she opened her book and revealed a collection of four-leaf clovers.
Being big-hearted, Lizette distributed a number of her four-leaf clovers among her friends, hoping they would share her luck in writing their exams.

ORIGINALITY FOUND IN JUNIOR SESSION

Singing popular songs on Wednesday mornings during session is a feature of the program in Miss Fitzsimmons' home room.
The singing is led by Bernice Conolly, Mary Fabry, Zara, Burg, and Eileen Glen.
Another member of the session, Gertrude Delhefs, talks frequently with Miss Fitzsimmons in German.

SPEECHES FOR CONFERENCE HEARD BY GIRLS CLUB

In order to practice their speeches in front of a large group in preparation for the Girls' club conference to be held here on April 14, six girls delivered speeches in the Girls' club assembly Friday morning.

The speeches were as follows: "Happiness," by Shirley Clark; "Getting the Most Out of Life," by Betty Stein; "Vocations," by Harriet Nelson; "Ideals and Standards That Promote Happiness," by Molly Grinnell; and "Service," by Peggy Kerr.
Florence Peterson was chairman of the program. Announcements were read by Midge Hawkins and Mildred Simpson.
