

Highwood Methodist Church Is Observing Its Anniversaries

The Highwood Methodist Church is celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of its location at Highwood Avenue and Everts Place, Highwood. The congregation, however, dates back to an earlier period. The records show that in 1895 a group of Scandinavian people living along the North Shore organized for the purpose of conducting services in their own language. They first met at the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, but as this place of worship was available only on Sunday afternoons, a hall was secured so that the meetings could be held at more convenient hours.

The membership of the group came from Lake Forest, Highwood, and Highland Park. In 1900 the group changed its place of public worship to Highwood, a more central point, where they met in a hall until a church building was erected in the spring of 1904, under the leadership of Rev. Gustav Erickson. This structure served until 1928, when through the united efforts of many volunteer workers, assisted by a legacy left by Mrs. Mina Seaborg, the building was remodeled. It was rededicated in December, 1929. The new facilities made possible a greater community program. They provided additional class rooms for the church school and a meeting place for scout troops, the Highwood Forum, Unemployed League, and other community activities. Last summer more than 16,000 cans of food were put up in the church kitchen. The program of the church has been modified and expanded in an endeavor to meet the growing needs of the community.

Since the time of its organization, this church has been served by 19 different preachers. The present pastor, William W. Nelson, has been in charge since June, 1926. When he first came to this community, he was a student at Northwestern University and Garrett Biblical Institute. After receiving degrees from both institutions in 1929, Rev. Nelson remained as pastor here while also serving as instructor in the Wesley Academy in Evanston.

The complete program for this observance will be as follows:

AND UP, AT THE FACTORY

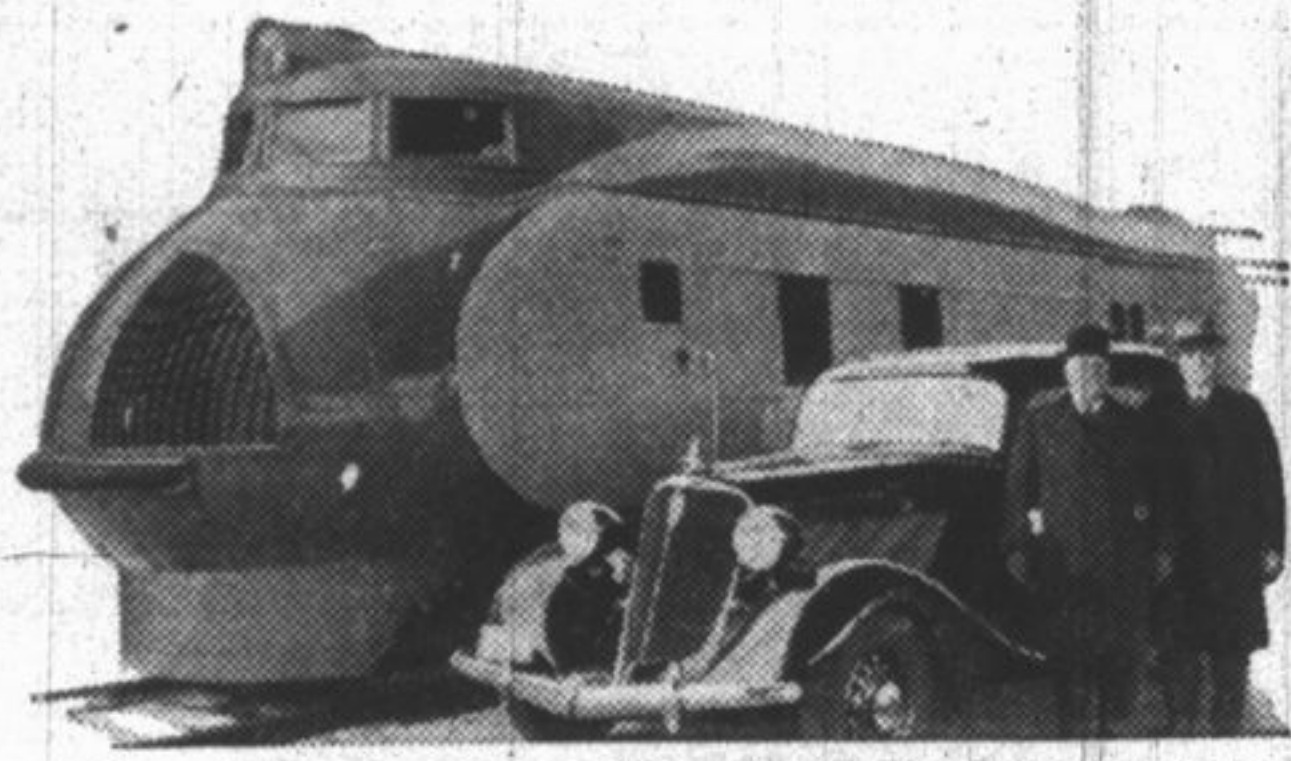

Finer than the finest Studebakers ever built before

ALMOST every other car on the market is selling at substantially higher prices today than last year.

But Studebaker prices are $155 to $620 lower! And the new 1934 Studebakers are finer cars in every way than the finest that Studebaker offered in former years.

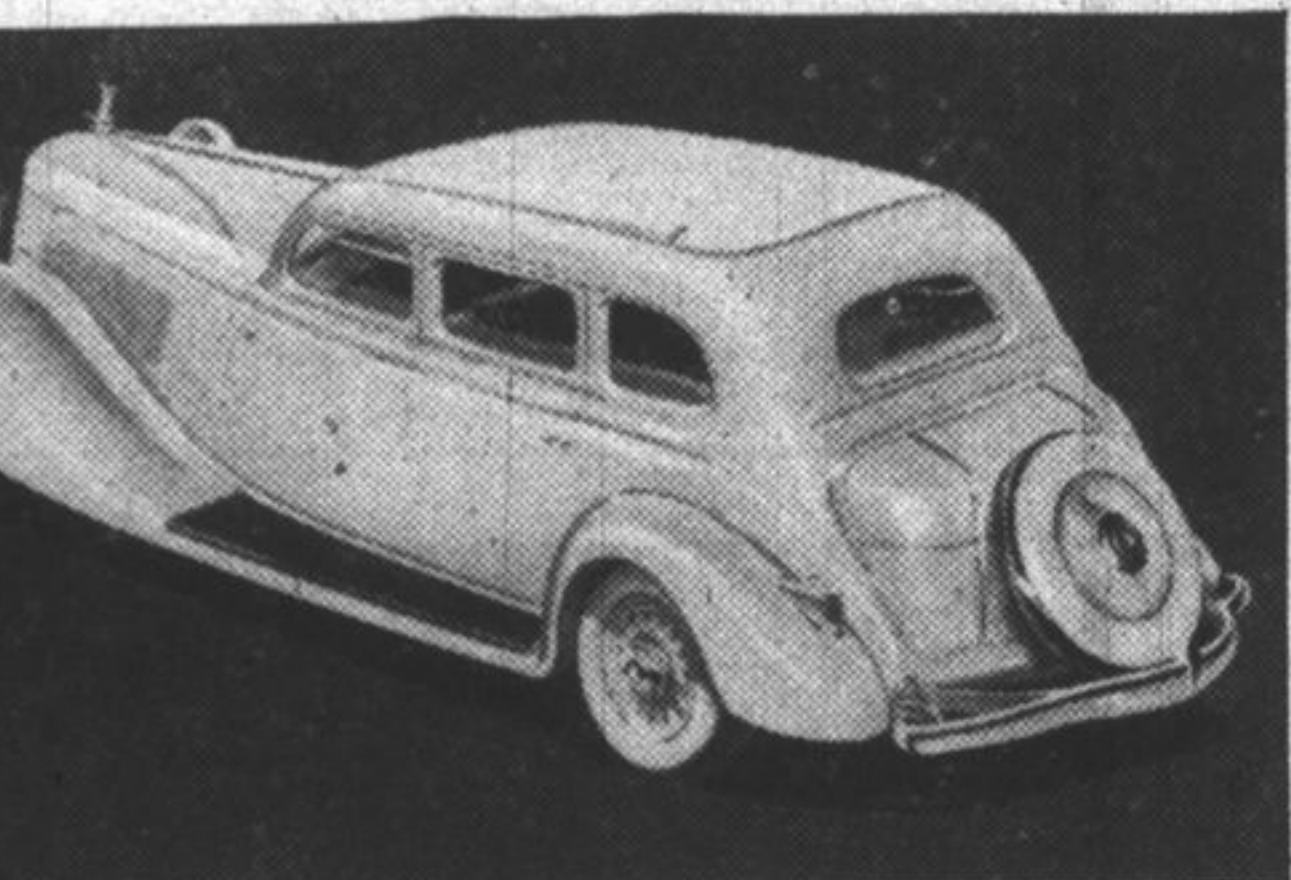

They're magnificently streamlined. Built like battleships—of seamless steel reinforced by steel. They're so roomy that six grown-ups are easily accommodated in the sedans.

Studebaker's own million-dollar development, Quadripose Suspension, cradles the action of all four wheels at all speeds and on all roads.

Could vehicles talk, this meeting of the Union Pacific's new 110-mile-an-hour train and a new skyway style Studebaker would undoubtedly sound like a session of a mutual admiration society.
