

MOTHER'S DAY LINKED TO INFANT WELFARE

need. After the birth the mother comes again to the society's prenatal conference for final examination and her baby is brought to the infant conference for continuing medical supervision for a period of six years.

Last year in giving this constant medical and nursing supervision to 1,978 expectant mothers with 1,227 deliveries during the year, the Infant Welfare Society had only four maternal deaths.

Highland Park and Ravinia have a special interest in the Infant Welfare Society's effort to save the mothers because of the fact that the Highland Park-Ravinia center of the Infant Welfare Woman's Auxiliary supports Alice H. Wood station which does prenatal work. This station last year gave adequate prenatal care to 278 mothers with no deaths among them all.

The Infant Welfare Society's program carried out among Chicago's poorest mothers points the way to saving of mothers lives that might be accomplished by giving adequate care to all expectant mothers.

Pharmacist Hout Speaks To Rotarians

W. K. Hout, Deerfield druggist, gave an interesting talk on the Developments in Pharmacy at the weekly luncheon of the Deerfield Rotary Club last Thursday at Shugrue's Cafe. He told of the duties in the early stages of the business down to the present date, including the various kinds of merchandise now handled in a so-called "drug" store.

Because many of the local Rotarians will be attending the Fortieth District convention at Joliet this week-end, today's meeting will not have a scheduled program or speaker, but will undoubtedly be a round table discussion of current events.

Rotary of Deerfield will have as its official delegate at the convention in Joliet on May 10 and 11 the president-elect W. K. Hout. Quite a number of others are planning to attend. The club will send a Boy Scout delegate, also, from the troop sponsored by the local Rotary Club.

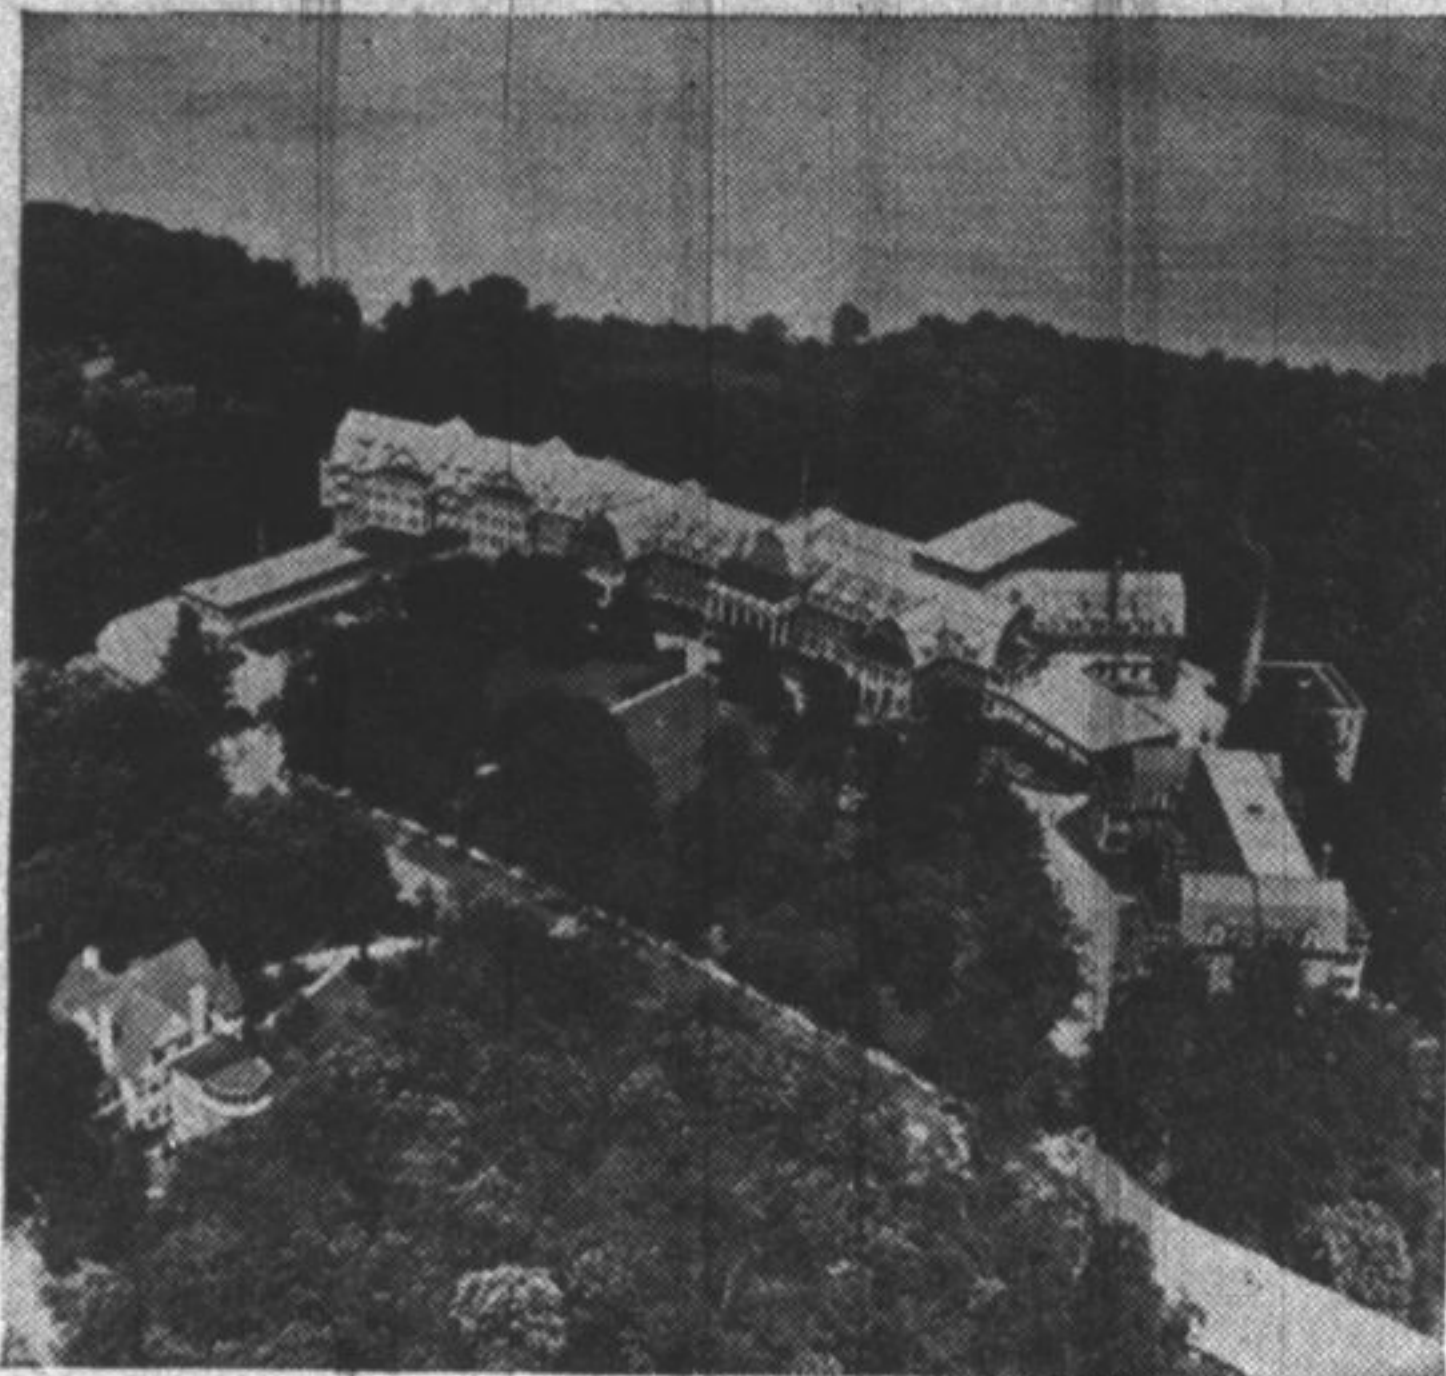

Mrs. John Lueder Is Buried Monday

Mrs. Julian Brumund Lueder, the wife of Dr. John Lueder, passed away Saturday, May 5, in Elmhurst at the age of 81 years. Funeral services were held Monday at St. Peter's Church in Elmhurst with interment in Elm Lawn.

Mrs. Lueder is survived by her husband, a former minister in St. Paul's Evangelical Church of Deerfield during the world war, now retired, and a former professor at the Elmhurst College; four sons, John, Arthur, Walter, and George; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Mohrstadt of Dexter, Mo.; eight grand children and three great grandchildren. Her son, Arthur C. Lueder, is a former Chicago postmaster.

A great many Deerfield friends visited the Lueder home in Elmhurst on Sunday and Monday.

THE MORAINE HOTEL

Moraine Hotel Will Reopen Next Tuesday

The "CLOSED" sign hanging on the famous Moraine Hotel sign board will disappear next Tuesday morning.

A recent inspection of the hotel discloses that many changes have occurred since last season. The lobby has been handsomely redecorated and rearranged, and has been made more attractive than ever. The house throughout has been completely gone over and certainly no pains have been spared to make it what it claims to be — the most unique and beautiful country hotel in the west.

The new manager, Charles T. Gratz, has been devoting most of his time to securing new business, and this added to the fact that almost all of the old guests will be back this year, assures the opening of the house with a very good house count.

New faces will be seen in the front office and a new and very competent housekeeper, Mrs. Elizabeth chosen from the collection of donated garments. Besides this, many bundles of clothing are sent during the rest of the year to families who are known to be in need.

Early this week at a tea at the home of Highland Park Arden Shore chairman, Mrs. George W. Childs assisted by Mrs. Rogers Vail, co-chairman captains for the approaching drive and their workers enthusiastically discussed plans for this year's campaign. They are all ready and anxious to give of their time and their forethought, but the real crux of their endeavor depends upon each individual contributor whom they will attempt to contact.

Let us help them as much as we can and start Arden Shore off again in another year of invaluable service to our community.

Following are the names of several women who are to aid in the coming drive who were not mentioned in last week's article in the Press: Mrs. George Baldwin (who is to be the treasurer for the campaign); Mrs. Konrad Schreier (a captain); and among the workers, Mrs. Charles Chambers, Mrs. H. H. Doty, Mrs. A. O. Mason Jr., Mrs. C. Lyton Morgan, Mrs. Renslow Sherer, Mrs. Trigg Waller, Mrs. William H. Wilson, and Mrs. Olga Benecke.

The Ravinia committee, under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. Harold J. Lynn, will begin its drive for funds this week. The committee in charge of the drive in Ravinia is as follows: Mrs. Robert Bridges, Mrs. Paul Burkholder, Mrs. J. Mills Easton, Mrs. G. J. Eyer, Mrs. Lee Frank, Mrs. Theodore Fischer, Mrs. E. E. Kern, Mrs. W. R. Marvin, Mrs. H. A. Sellery, Mrs. J. B. Vercoe, and Mrs. Robert Walker.

Dr. Nichols In Charge Of Discussion Period At Rotary Conference

Dr. C. V. Nichols, of the Highland Park Rotary Club, will be the chairman of the Community Service Assembly at the 40th District Conference of Rotary International at Joliet on Thursday of this week.

This assembly, or discussion period, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Universalist Church, Clinton and Chicago Streets, Joliet. The leaders of this period, which is in charge of Dr. Nichols, will be W. A. McIntyre, Territorial Commander of the Salvation Army, and Dean A. J. Harno of the College of Law of the University of Illinois.

Helping Out

Many of the doctor's friends have been at a loss to find sufficient or efficient words to express their feelings about our distinguished government. He hopes the discovery of the following letter found in the London Times will give them relief and satisfaction:

Dear Sir: It is impossible for me to continue my subscription to the Whitney Point Reporter at the present time, and my financial condition is such, due to the effects of federal laws, mother-in-laws, and outlaws, that have been foisted on an unsuspecting public, state laws, county laws, and corporation laws. Through these various laws I have been held down, held up, walked on, sat on, flattened and squeezed until I do not know where I am what I am and why I am, these laws compel me to pay a merchants' tax, capital tax, stock tax, real estate tax, tobacco tax, street tax, school tax, syntax, carpet tax, and dog tax. The government has so governed my business that I do not know who owns it. I am suspected, expected, inspected, disrespected, examined, re-examined, until all I know is that I am supplicated for money for the human race, and because I refuse to fall and go out and beg, every known need, desire or hope of borrow or steal money to give away, I am cussed and discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, held down and robbed until I am nearly ruined, so the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what the deuce happens next.—Bulletin of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Lake Forest.

"STUDENT STUNTS" ARE FRIDAY NIGHT

spot in "Stunts" since the first time this show was presented.

Annette Templeton, known as "Tony" to her school mates, presents her piano act "Rapsody." An exhibition of grace and strength in the skit "Idyllic Adagios" will prove more than amusing to the audience. A clever and graceful act called "Dutch Treat" originated by Mary Turriff, but changed a bit to fit the act, will star Mazy Desmond, singing, and a group of dancing girls.

Immediately after the intermission "Spanish Features" with another set of fine well organized acts, featuring, first a Tango burlesque by Cody Pfanstiehl and Jean Bell, who furnish their own music while they dance.

Real Spanish music and dancing will then thrill the throngs, when to the strains of "La Paloma," Peter Sanflies, a striking double of George Raft, and graceful Dorothy Turner swing into the tango. A Spanish dance by a group of talented señoritas will furnish the background. "Duo-Originality" presents the two theme songs, sung and played by their composers, David Stryker and Jean Wickman; Frieda Simons, impressions of movie stars, is one of the real original skits that should prove enjoyable and entertaining.

"If Men Played Cards As Women Do," by George Kaufman, will amuse the folks and kids until they roll with laughter. "Tar Tactics," by the sensational little colored lad, Roy Worthington, who sings and dances like a music mad man, will receive its quantity of applause.

Mr. Kendig's tumblers again come forth with some thrilling and dangerous high bar performances, known on the program as "Flying High." Charles Regus, will sing "The Man on the Flying Trapeze" like only Regus knows how. "Symmetry," modernistic German dancing by young Jean Bartelme and Jean Sincere. "Time Takes a Holiday" concludes the program with laughs and clever acting. The ensemble takes part in a grand finale. Don't fail to see this mass production. It's one you won't forget and well worth seeing. See you at "Stunts."

Auxiliary To Sell Memorial Poppies

Memorial poppies which the women of the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute here on "Poppy Day" May 26, have been a means of providing employment to hundreds of disabled World War veterans thru the winter and spring months. The little red flowers have made possible earnings of approximately $100,000 for these disabled men.

Making of the paper poppies which the American Legion Auxiliary offers on "Poppy Day" to be worn in honor of the World War dead is reserved strictly for the war disabled. It offers a means of employment to veterans unable to do other work and not only brings them money for the support of themselves and families, but aids in their rehabilitation by giving them beneficial, interesting work.

The work is directed in such a manner that will aid in the physical and mental rehabilitation of the veterans, as well as giving them financial benefits.
