CAMP MAKAJAWAN OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Week of Aug. 5 to Aug. 12 May Be Spent at Scout Camp
at Cost of $7

Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan, the place where 500 Scouts of the North Shore Area Council have been spending a glorious summer of real Scout-like camp experiences and adventures, has a real treat in store for the people of the North Shore Area. This beautiful camp is being opened to the parents, sisters, brothers, sweethearts, Scouts and friends of Scouting from Aug. 5 to 12.

This promises to be a week of real camping, or, if you like, a place to go for a real rest and vacation—every one can be fitted into the well planned program of "Family Week"—every age, whether boy or girl, mother or father, grandmother or grandfather, will have much fun and enjoy the many activities that await them. A very competent staff will see that there is never a dull moment.

There will be hikes through the beautiful woods, filled with interesting trails and full of nature's wonders, which can only be seen in the north woods. Everyone that comes to MaKaJaWan receives personal attention in swimming, if such is desired, and this is excellently supervised by a staff of Red Cross life guards and examiners. The handicraft department has much in store. Also there will be canoeing, rowing, sailing, fishing, playground activities, ball games and any other type of activity desired. In the evening there will be campfires which offer pleasant relaxation and entertainment that is carefully planned by a staff of real leaders. The gathering of dusk and falling of night during the evening campfire seems to round off to perfection a day at camp, and MaKaJaWan offers every one a good refreshing sleep after a day of fun and adventure.

Of unusual interest on a trip to MaKaJaWan is the beautiful scenery which surrounds the north woods country for miles around that part of Wisconsin. It is truly the gateway to the great Land of Lakes country and tourists can find the kind of outdoor recreation they are looking for by spending a week, or even a week-end at Camp MaKaJaWan.

Langlade County, in which this camp is located, has within its borders or immediately adjacent to it, points of scenic beauty and historic interest. There are still some of the old trading posts, in the Indian reservation the Indians still live as they did when Columbus came to America; likewise there is the Indian, college bred, living in homes as his white brother does. There are also rivers that cannot be compared in scenic beauty; occasionally there is a small stream which widens into a beautiful lake, then rushing rapids and great falls with a beauty and fascination that is wonderful to behold.

The roads leading into the camp site are all good roads, — excellent concrete roads and fine gravel roads which are thoroughly patrolled and branch out in all directions. If traveling to Camp MaKaJaWan by automobile, one will find it most enjoyable and interesting — every moment is filled with beautiful sights, and the loveliest sight of all is upon entering the site upon which the camp is located. Spring Lake, located in the center of the camp, is a delight to the visitor and a sight one never forgets.

The cost of this full week is only $7 a person; this includes three excellent meals a day, all activity under capable and excellent supervision and a program full of good times.

For further information regarding camp and transportation rates call Highland Park 629 or write to Scout Headquarters, 21 North Sheridan Road, Highland Park.

Highland Park Rifle Championship Match to Be Sunday, Aug. 26

Entries are pouring in fast and furious for the Highland Park Rifle championship match, which will be held Monday, Aug. 26, on the Fort Sheridan rifle range.

The condition of the match call for 20 shots from the standing position at 200 yards, using any rifle with a larger bore than .22 caliber. Several Highland Park shooters have already indicated that they'll use rifles of the muzzle-loading variety, such as were used in the days of Daniel Boone, so all persons interested, should drag out the family relics, shine them up, make their entry, and try their hand at what is fast becoming one of America's most popular sports, rifle shooting.

Entries may be arranged for by calling H. P. 2967. It is not necessary to be a good shot, or even a fair one, in order to bring home a prize, for there will be prizes for every fifth place down the list, in addition to the 18-inch silver loving cup and gold medal for first place, silver medal for second place, bronze medal for third, fourth, and fifth places.

Dewey's Motor Service of Laurel and Second Street, has donated a prize to go to the winner of tenth place, while the Piethorne Kennels of West Park Avenue, have donated a prize to go to fifteenth place winner. There will also be other prizes either in cash or in merchandise, to 20th, 25th, and so on.

The entry fee of 50 cents, payable in advance, will cover all the expenses of the match, as far as the individual shooters are concerned, except for guns and ammunition. Practice may be had any Sunday, from now on, by arranging with the army man handling the range.

The Highland Park Rifle and Pistol Club is sponsoring the match this year, though the Sheridan Rifle Club fulfilled the same function for last year's match.

Bortolotti and V. Ponsi trustees.

PLAYGROUND WORK CONTINUING HERE

Season in Highland Park to Close on Aug. 25;
18,000 Attend

Five weeks of playground activities have been successfully completed on the playgrounds of the Highland Park East Park District. Children who have been out of town or have been occupied with other things so far this summer are still registering and it is hoped that every child in Highland Park will have taken advantage of the recreation offered on the playgrounds for the season is closed on Aug. 25. Statistics to date show that there have been a total of over 18,000 in attendance, both adult and children, on the playgrounds during the first five weeks of operation.

The program for the children on the playgrounds is built around two major activities, swimming and base ball. Lessons are given in swimming every Monday and Friday morning with many attending and learning to swim. Baseball games are played on the other mornings of the week, each playground following a schedule of inter-playground games that give every one a chance to participate. To vary the program other activities, as horseshoes, badminton, tennis, and volleyball, are offered in the afternoons. Emphasis is placed not only on the skill in the games but in sportsmanship and citizenship as well so that as the children age they may be able to plan their own leisure time program and get the most enjoyment out of it.

The adult program, carried on three nights a week, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, at Sunset and Lincoln playgrounds, is one in which much choice is offered to the participant. Whether it is to be volleyball, badminton, tennis, horseshoes, baseball, or just to watch the others in their games, depends upon the individual. All of these recreations are offered to anyone who care to take part. The most popular recreation among the older people still seems to be the ball games that are played on these nights. Each time in both Lincoln and Sunset Leagues have their fans that are ardent supporters. Volleyball also attracts many of the men to Lincoln on Monday nights at which time there are always several sets of games between the teams from the different neighborhoods.

Individuals and families in this community who have not as yet taken advantage of recreation programs offered by the Highland Park East Park Board are invited to attend or inspect any group or individual as much as possible in order that everyone has the opportunity to participate in a well rounded out program of recreation.

The schedule for the playgrounds for the week of Aug. 6 is:

Monday morning, Aug. 6—Swimming classes for all playgrounds at the beaches.

Monday afternoon, Aug. 6—General play at Sunset, Ravinia and at Lincoln.

"When Gossips Meet, the Devil Takes a Vacation," Writer Says

A local newspaper of July 26 contains two articles which seem to have a decided flavor of the opening of a political campaign. Taken separately, a casual reader might be unduly influenced in favor of the position taken. A closer examination, however, reveals their shallowness and inconsistencies.

Every respectable citizen who believes that the reputation and Highland Park's good name be maintained, knows that the first article, "TO BE OR NOT TO BE—DRY," describing Highland Park as an almost wide-open town, is not only erroneous but misleading to the core. Evidently, only those responsible for such an editorial at this time would like to see our good city "dripping in its wetness" as they picture it, and unfortunately are unwilling to go about their business and leave good enough alone.

The writer boldly accuses official Highland Park for remaining "mum" on the liquor question advocating that "maybe some of the hard-pressed taxpayers will secure a measure of relief" meaning—the recommendation of a new liquor ordinance with reasonable licensing fees which will, of course, admit saloons, liquor establishments, etc. No thoughtful citizen wants such conditions to exist in Highland Park.

The article goes further, stating that liquors can be had in stores for the asking. If this is true, it is unknown to me. The 3.2 beer is approved and enjoyed by the greatest majority of the citizens, and the truth of the matter is that irregularities due to intoxications have practically disappeared since its adoption.

The writer seems to be unaware that the face of the whole issue is changed by an alteration of definition in United States law, as to what is intoxicating and the legal control necessary, and that our whole complication is one of adaptation to the change.

Our city officials have tried very earnestly to meet the situation in the open, and are at present acting in accordance with sentiment expressed in open council meeting when this matter was a live issue.

It appeared at that time that the issue was due for adequate and definite decision by the people concerned next spring, and that the best to be done was to leave the matter in status quo until then.

There is no evidence that the status of the city has been materially impaired in the weeks or months that have elapsed since then, so why any alarm that we are "going to the dogs" in the next few months.

The foregoing is something of an answer to the second article in question, "THE PUBLIC WANTS TO KNOW." The argument for formal periodical meetings regardless of whether or not there is anything or anybody to warrant them being held, is not well taken in an article immediately following one which advocates the ignoring of the conclusions of one which was held.

The world has been flooded with words, speeches, and writings, which for the most part they have not clarified, but on the contrary have only confused.

The real test of leadership is the ability of that leadership to adhere to the underlying objectives, and to make those objectives so clear to others that united, decisive action can be taken.

Any man who cannot put the welfare of the people above his personal ambition—or who cannot bury his rivalries for the welfare of the people lacks the qualities of leadership so badly needed these days in every community.

Our city officials are to be congratulated for their success in keeping the town clean, and I firmly believe that the people of Highland Park are satisfied with the "honor system" that now prevails.
