

Highland Park Chess Tournament Results Indicate "Upsets"

(By Frank Reichmann)
In the peaceful parlors of the Moraine Hotel, through all the "heat wave," "cold wave" and just plain "scorching" evenings of the past newspaper news summer, each Monday the Highland Park Chess Club has been relentlessly conducting a tournament among its own members. Each member was required to play a match of 3 games with each other member. The results are given below awarding 1 point to each member for each "win" of 2 out of 3 games in all matches played.

Member	Points
Werner Shultze	15
Harry Howe Bentley	11
Dr. R. R. Jacks	11
C. V. Wilson	11
Carl Haessler	10 1/2
Dr. S. R. Banfield	10
Jacob Hoffman	9 1/2
William Posey	9
Herbert E. Holt	8 1/2
Roger Balke	5 1/2
L. H. Nemeroff	5
Frank Reichmann	4
V. Colombini	4
C. C. Cervanka	3 1/2
Tullo Bedini	3 1/2
C. Brooks	1

Because of absences to get business, or of sickness or the "jitters" due to not getting business, the tournament was called off before everyone had played everyone else. The above results have been voted "final" although quite incomplete. Werner Schultze, the winner, is the only one thoroughly satisfied with the results; all the rest are more or less dissatisfied. The only lack to the almost general dissatisfaction with the final score, is that everyone is pleased to see Werner win, including Werner. Even though a somewhat partial observer casually observed "now Werner goes around with an expression like that on the face of a draught area cow at the sight of Lake Michigan"; nevertheless, he has proved to all of the members that he has accumulated, assimilated, acquired, lapped-up, inhaled (or whatever you want to call it) an inexhaustable and effective geyser of chess knowledge, positively skunkish at times. He has the sagacity of an Einstein, or the high mathematical intellect of the mosquito munching a meal out of me the other night, everytime I went to "swat" him he was off into the 4th dimension. It is even rumored that Werner thinks in the 5th dimension.

The tremendous, tumultuous upset was the dethroning of C. V. Wilson from number one position. This shook Highland Park's foundations all the way from the Moraine Hotel to Dill's barber shop. More will be heard from this. Challenges of playing any three members simultaneously are being hurled by Shultze, Wilson, Bentley and others; also challenges of playing the other blindfolded or with one arm tied behind their back. Dates are being looked up, purses talked about, training grounds investigated. It is very exciting these days at the mild, mellow Moraine. Manager Robert W. Larke, one of our jolliest chessers, is quite hoarse, his feathers all ruffled as he circles the fray.

Local Health Studio Has Gymnastic Classes

The management of the Highland Park Health Studio announces the beginning of classes in calisthenics under the direction of Helen Keith Sadler. The first class will be held Oct. 1, at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Sadler is planning a varied course of exercises which will be beneficial and enjoyable to class members and already quite a number have registered for the classes. The class fee is so reasonable that it is within the reach of all ladies interested in having systematic exercise.

Additional information about the classes may be secured from the Highland Park Health Studio office.

Mildred Haessler To Reopen Dance Studio

Mildred Haessler will reopen her dance studio at 1737 Rice Street, Ravinia, on Monday, Oct. 1. There will be classes in ballet, tap, acrobatics and ballroom dancing; also the usual evening classes for adults in tap and ballroom dancing.

The past summer Mrs. Haessler spent in an intensive study of new ballet and character dances, and in the latest ballroom steps, so she has considerable new material to offer this fall and winter. Anyone wishing further information may communicate with her any day next week.

Program of Deerpath Theatre Is Announced

"The Circus Clown," starring Joe E. Brown, Thursday and Friday. "Now I'll Tell," by Mrs. Arnold Rothstein, starring Helen Twelvetrees, Spencer Tracy, Alice Faye, and Shirley Temple, Saturday evening, Sept. 22.

"Straightway," starring Tim McCoy, Saturday matinee, Sept. 22. "The Man with Two Faces," starring Edward G. Robinson, Mary Astor, Ricardo Cortez and Mae Clarke, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 23-24.

"Stamboul Quest," starring Myrna Loy, George Brent, and Lionel Atwill, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 25-26.

"The Man with Two Faces" is based on the stage success by Geo. S. Kaufmann and Alexander Woolcott. Edward G. Robinson has the part of a noted Broadway actor and director, while Mary Astor plays the part of his sister, one of the most beautiful and talented actresses of her time. Ricardo Cortez has the heroic role in this picture, being the theatrical producer who is in love with his star performer, Miss Astor.

She, however, is married to a worthless scamp, a part enacted by Louis Calhern, who has not only caused her physical and mental breakdown before, but is again holding her under a hypnotic spell, and swaying her to his will in order to reap the benefits of her current success. Then the husband is found murdered in a fashionable hotel, and, as they used to say, "the plot thickens."
