SCOUTMASTERS WILL CELEBRATE AT CABIN
 The Scoutmasters of the North Shore Area Council who met a couple of weeks ago, decided that they would like an afternoon of games and fellowship at the Cabin, on Saturday, Oct. 13. The men are invited to come to the cabin at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon and those who wish to stay for supper can do so. If enough there will be a camp fire program in the evening.

SCOUTERS WILL MEET AT MADISON

On Monday, Oct. 22, the first section of Region Seven annual meeting will convene at the Lorraine Hotel, Madison, Wis. Following the same plan as was in effect last year for the regional meeting, the annual meeting of Region Seven will be held in four central cities, one in each of the four states comprising the region, namely Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana. North Shore Scouters attend the Wisconsin meeting at Madison. The meeting will convene at 10:45 a.m. and the new regional Scout executive, E. J. Fisher, deputy chief Scout executive, will preside. The discussion will be the order of business in the morning session. At the noon session, the new regional Scout executive, E. J. Fisher, deputy chief Scout executive, will preside. SCOUTING SCHOOL 10 OPEN MONDAY

The first session in the fall term of the North Shore Area Council's University of Scouting will be held on Monday evening, Oct. 15, at 7:45 at Christ's Church parish house in Winnetka. Five training courses for Scout leaders will be conducted to better acquaint Scouters with responsibilities involved in conducting Scout programs. There will be a course in the elements of scouting, the first course a five-year progressive training program; a course in the principles of scouting which is an advanced course for scoutmasters, dealing with the philosophy and psychology of scouting; a course in the principles of scouting which is an advanced course for scoutmasters, dealing with the philosophy and psychology of scouting; a course in the principles of scouting which is an advanced course for scoutmasters, dealing with the philosophy and psychology of scouting.

THE GET ACQUAINTED MEETING OF TROOP 33

Friday, Oct. 5, at 7:30 p.m., Troop 33 began their third Scout year. The meeting began with an inspection of the Scouts. Following that the attendance was taken. After that the troop had a game of "McGregor Says" which lasted until 7:45 p.m. We had a game of dodge ball which the fellow had been used to playing at other Scout meetings. At 8 o'clock we had patrol corners at which each of the patrols selected new names and new leaders. Following patrol corners we had a knot tying contest having three teams tying all but one knot and one team tying all but two knots. Later our new scoutmaster, John Davis, met the scouts of the troop. The fellows surely got what they wanted in Mr. Davis, he is what we scouts call a real scouter. Troop 33 will be looking forward to a great Scout year.

TROOP 324 HOLDS SHORT MEETING

Troop 324 had a rather short meeting on last Friday night in the basement of the Presbyterian Church. It lasted only one hour. The meeting opened when Ed Green, one of the scouts, suggested playing "Pom-Pom-Pull-Away." After the game Mr. Brush the scoutmaster, read to us all future dates of Troop 324. After our usual ceremonies we had to fall in again to play another game, "Snatch the Hat." The meeting then ended with the Indian sign language benediction.
